

Guide for Timekeeping

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

Introduction This guide replaces the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) Timekeeping Manual for Timekeepers/Supervisors, 1993 version.

Caution The guide addresses Departmental policy which is on occasion modified at the Operating Division Level. When discrepancies between the two occur, consult your payroll liaison for clarification or guidance.

Use The Guide for Timekeeping is intended to be used in conjunction with the User Manual for the automated timekeeping system you are using. It covers the rules, regulations, and Department policy for leave, time and attendance, whereas the User Manual for the automated system you are using provides detailed procedures for the use of the software to record, certify, and transmit time and attendance data.

To Obtain Copies Individual requests for the Guide for Timekeeping may be directed to your payroll liaison. Payroll liaisons may obtain copies through the Office of Human Resources Service Helpdesk at the following address:

Department of Health and Human Services
Program Support Center

(Internet address: HRSHELP@HRS.PSC.DHHS.GOV)

Important

As many authorities have been delegated down to the Operating Division (OPDIV) levels, it is important that you have a copy of your OPDIV's policy to use in conjunction with this guide. We recommend that you file a copy of your OPDIV's policy with your copy of the guide.

Be sure to read the first two chapters of this guide before looking at the rest of it. Many of the concepts and definitions which you need to understand before you can learn the rules of timekeeping are presented in these two chapters.

Chapter 1. Timekeeping Responsibilities

TIMEKEEPER

Introduction

As the timekeeper, you are in charge of keeping track of the time worked and leave used for each employee assigned to you. You are also responsible for the maintenance of the Time and Attendance (T&A) file.

At the end of each pay period, a Time and Attendance Record for each Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) employee is prepared, certified, and electronically transmitted for processing through the DHHS payroll/personnel system.

Timely submission of the T&A Record is very important since it impacts the employees' pay. The T&A record should be updated daily and closed on the last day of the pay period, or on Monday following the last day of the pay period. It should be completed, certified, and transmitted to DHHS on the Monday following the last day of the pay period.

Transmissions must be received by DHHS no later than 1:00 p.m., Eastern Time, on the Tuesday following the last day of the pay period. Time of transmission from each OPDIV is determined by local payroll liaison officers or system administrators. Follow local policy.

Timekeeper Signature Card

The Timekeeper Signature Card (form HHS-420) is no longer required by the Department. Each OPDIV determines local policies and practices for ensuring that timekeepers are properly trained and proficient, and that their performances are periodically reviewed.

Important

You must keep accurate time and attendance (T&A) records because HHS uses the information given to the Personnel and Pay Systems Division (PPSD) to compute employee's pay and accrued leave. In addition, the T&A records can be required by courts for legal proceedings. Accuracy is therefore critical.

It is just as important to be accurate with the recording of leave as it is with time worked. Leave translates into money if the employee uses leave, resigns, retires, or separates.

TIMEKEEPER

Introduction

The automated timekeeping system contains the official daily record of an employee's hours of work and absence. This record is required by the General Accounting Office.

Important

In order to perform your timekeeping duties, you need to know how to access your automated system. You also need to know the pay period number and year for which you will be entering data.

Information about each employee assigned to you is available from the employee's supervisor or from your Servicing Personnel Office (SPO). This information includes the employee's name, Social Security number, tour information, pay plan, leave category, and pay basis.

Daily Duties

Timekeepers must be aware of the work schedules and hours absent for employees for whom they are responsible in order to ensure the reliability of time and attendance data. If an employee is absent part of the day, you must have an approved leave slip (SF-71) indicating times of absence and the type of leave approved and used. If overtime hours are worked, you must have written approval for the hours, as well as a record of the dates and hours worked. You must review documentation daily to ensure that you have the proper authorizations and approvals for absences and overtime.

You must enter employee T&A data for each day of the pay period, if appropriate. (For exception based systems, this will not apply.)

Employees are paid based on the 2-week pay period.

Pay Day Duties

You must perform these duties for each employee when the Earnings and Leave Statements (OS-340s) are received:

1. Compare the employee's Earnings and Leave Statement against the Leave Balance Screen in your timekeeping system and with the HHS-564, Administrative Time and Leave Record.
 2. File the timekeeper's copy of Earnings and Leave Statements in each employee's time and attendance file and keep for 6 years.

OTHERS INVOLVED IN TIMEKEEPING

Introduction

In addition to timekeepers, other people involved in timekeeping functions include:

- Personnel and Pay Systems Division (PPSD)
- Servicing personnel officers
- System administrators
- Payroll liaisons
- Employees
- Supervisors/Leave-approving officials

PPSD

PPSD is responsible for:

1. Computing salary payments, lump-sum leave payments, and cash awards payments;
2. Maintaining official pay and leave records;
3. Withholding monies as authorized by employees or regulations;
4. Establishing procedures for keeping time and leave accounts; and
5. Ensuring that timekeeper procedures and regulations are followed.

Servicing Personnel Officer

Servicing personnel officers are responsible for:

1. Counseling employees and supervisors on leave policies and regulations; and
2. Reminding timekeepers and leave-approving officials of their responsibilities at least once a year.

System Administrator

The system administrator answers day-to-day questions about the timekeeping system you are using. The system administrator transmits the T&A data to the Central System collection point at the end of each pay period.

OTHERS INVOLVED IN TIMEKEEPING

Payroll Liaison

Payroll liaisons are responsible for:

1. Providing guidance and answering questions about timekeeping and errors;
2. Reporting critical errors to PPSD;
3. Reviewing, verifying the accuracy of, and processing error notices, and monitoring progress of actions;
4. Keeping timekeepers informed of policy/procedure changes and ensuring that all memoranda from PPSD are distributed to timekeepers;
5. Receiving and processing reports of missing salary payments, as well as requesting reissue of salary checks when necessary and monitoring progress of the action;
6. Providing information and assistance to managers and employees for requesting Employee Emergency Payments;
7. Providing liaison between timekeepers, payroll, and personnel;
8. Providing new timekeepers with a copy of the Guide for Timekeeping, related instructional materials, and other necessary information, as well as distributing revisions or new information and materials to timekeepers.

For additional responsibilities, refer to the Payroll Error Correction Systems (PECS) manual. We also recommend that Payroll Liaisons perform random reviews of timekeeper records and practices to ensure compliance with OPDIV and Department policies and procedures.

Employee

HHS employees are responsible for keeping supervisors informed about their time, attendance, and leave, as well as for ensuring that they have sufficient leave to cover all requests.

They are also responsible for verifying the accuracy of their earnings and leave statements (OS-340) and reporting any errors or omissions.

OTHERS INVOLVED IN TIMEKEEPING

Supervisor

As used here, the term "supervisors" includes leave-approving officials. An important duty of supervisors is to certify that the hours recorded by timekeepers reflect the employee's actual attendance and entitlement to pay and leave.

Supervisors are responsible for:

1. Answering questions about work and leave;
 2. Advising timekeepers:
 - When new employees are entering on duty or when employees are leaving;
 - What tour employees are on;
 - What kind of leave to charge;
 - When overtime and other premium pay should be entered;
 - Whether employees are covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act;
 3. Obtaining leave-supporting documents from employees;
 4. Ensuring that employees have a sufficient leave balance prior to approving leave requests;
 5. Ensuring that overtime, compensatory time, credit hours, etc. are authorized in advance in writing, performed, and properly recorded;
 6. Ensuring that new timekeepers are trained before beginning duties;
 7. Reviewing timekeeper performance regularly;
 8. Notifying the Payroll Liaison of the addition of new timekeepers or any timekeeper changes.

PROHIBITED TIMEKEEPING PROCEDURES

Introduction

Timekeepers are responsible for the prompt and accurate reporting of T&A information. This has a positive and direct effect on the financial welfare and morale of all employees.

Supervisors have a direct responsibility to oversee and ensure the integrity of the T&A reporting.

Rules

To help ensure the separation of timekeeping responsibilities:

- Timekeepers
 - Are prohibited from keeping their own official T&A records; and
 - Cannot modify employee T&A data after supervisor certification.
- Supervisors
 - Are prohibited from keeping or approving their own official T&A records;
 - May not permit temporary employees (appointments of 90 days or less) to perform timekeeper duties; and
 - May not permit non-Federal employees to perform timekeeping duties;
 - Are expected to periodically examine the Earnings and Leave Statements of all employees, especially those of employees associated with time and leave reporting.

Important

Employees who violate timekeeping procedures may be subject to official reprimand, suspension, or termination.

Employees who deliberately prepare or transmit false data may be subject to termination or criminal penalties including fines or imprisonment.

FORMS USED BY TIMEKEEPERS

Introduction

Timekeepers should keep a supply of all forms. Forms may be obtained from PPSD or ordered through normal supply channels.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE TIME AND LEAVE RECORD (HHS-564)

Introduction

All payroll systems require the maintenance of a detailed record of data submitted to the payroll system. For DHHS, the Administrative Time and Leave Record, form HHS-564 (blank form on following page) is this detailed record. The HHS-564 must be kept in the time and attendance file for each employee. OPDIVs may use a paper form or an electronic form similar to the HHS-564, as long as it contains the same detailed data. If an electronic form is used, a hard copy must be placed in the time and attendance file at the end of each leave year.

In addition to providing details of annual and sick leave, LWOP, AWOL, etc., the HHS-564 is used to keep track of any other types of leave and pay including, but not limited to:

- Premium pay
- Religious compensatory hours earned and used
- Compensatory hours earned and used
- Credit hours earned and used
- Sick leave used under the Family Friendly Leave Act (FFLA)
- Leave used under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA)
- Military leave
- Court leave
- Leave received and used under the Voluntary Leave Transfer Program (VLTP)
- Continuation of Pay (COP) leave for work related injuries

A completed, current HHS-564 must be submitted as supporting documentation with any requests for leave adjustments. It is also a valuable tool which may be used by supervisors to verify leave balances before approving leave, and by timekeepers to verify that their records match those in the central system. The HHS-564 is a history record which is used by auditors when auditing time and attendance records.

Part-Time Employees

For details on completing the HHS-564 for part-time employees, see Chapter 11.

Important

All leave or premium hours should be shown on the HHS-564 on the day they were actually used or earned, not when they were recorded or transmitted on the time and attendance record.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE TIME AND LEAVE RECORD (HHS-564)

Completing the HHS-564

At the beginning of each new leave year, or when new employees enter on duty, prepare an HHS-564 for each employee.

1. Complete the employee identification section, filling in the employee's name, Social Security Number, service computation date (SCD), leave category, timekeeper number, and tour information in the blanks provided. Note: If the timekeeper changes during the year, the new timekeeper number is noted in the second box, and the dates that each timekeeper maintained the HHS-564 during that year should be recorded in each box.
2. The year, pay period and leave period numbers and dates, and Federal holidays have been pre-printed on the HHS-564. Start each record on the date the employee first enters on duty (EOD date), or at the beginning of the leave year, whichever applies. If the employee starts in the middle of the leave year, note the EOD date on the record.

Note: The pay period and leave period numbers usually are not the same. Pay period 1 may start in the old leave year.

3. Because most employees earn and use annual and sick leave, these sections are more detailed. In each of these sections, there are four columns headed:
 - E (earned this pay period);
 - U (used this pay period);
 - UTD (used year to date); and
 - BAL (balance at the end of this pay period).

At the top of each section for annual and sick leave on both sides of the HHS-564, there are blank spaces under the UTD and BAL columns. On the front side, in the blank spaces under the headings:

- UTD - the space is always left blank. Remember, this is a "year to date" column and at the beginning of the leave year, no leave has been used.
- BAL - record the balance shown on the HHS-564 at the end of the last pay period for the previous leave year.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE TIME AND LEAVE RECORD (HHS-564)

Completing

3. (cont.)

Once the front side of the HHS-564 is completed, the balances shown at the end of pay period 13 are transferred to the back side of the HHS-564, to these blank spaces.

Tip: Before transferring numbers to the back side of the HHS-564, be sure that totals and balances on the front side are correct. To do this:

- a. Start with the beginning balance at the top of the column (on the front side);
- b. Add the number of hours earned during the first 13 pay periods; and
- c. Subtract the balance shown in the UTD column for pay period 13.

The total of a, b, and c must match the number shown in the BAL column for pay period 13. If it does not, there is an error somewhere in the columns on the front side. Errors must be corrected prior to transferring the figures to the reverse side, or you'll begin the last half of the leave year with errors.

4. Record leave/pay data on the HHS-564 at the end of each pay period, if not done daily. Use the "Key" located on the lower left corner of the HHS-564 to determine the abbreviation of the type of leave/pay used or earned for each day of the pay period.

Record the number of leave hours used, premium hours earned, and/or any other hours as needed, and the abbreviation for each type indicated, in the appropriate blocks under the correct day.

It is not necessary to daily record, or make any notation for, regular hours worked if the employee works a regularly scheduled tour. Since the number of hours is the same each day, each week, only absences or premium pay must be noted. If, however, a check mark (or other mark or abbreviation) to indicate regular hours helps, the timekeeper should use one. He/she should note the abbreviation or mark, and a description of what it identifies, in the space provided in the "Key".

THE ADMINISTRATIVE TIME AND LEAVE RECORD (HHS-564)

Completing

4. (cont.)

For example: Jenny is a timekeeper who found that it helped her to put a check mark in each appropriate block on the HHS-564 to indicate that an employee worked his/her regular hours that day. In the "Key" on the HHS-564, she noted, "check mark = regular tour hours worked" and used the check mark only to indicate exactly that.

5. Once the pay period has ended, total all annual and sick leave hours used during the pay period, record each total in the space provided (under the U columns), and update the current leave balances. To update the current balances:
- Start with the ending balance of the previous pay period;
 - Add the number of hours earned during the current pay period (under the E column); and
 - Subtract the total hours used during the current pay period (under the U column).

The total of a, b, and c is the new "current balance" and is recorded under the BAL column for the current pay period.

Note: The UTD (used year to date) column is not used to update current balances. However, it should be totaled each pay period, adding the total hours used (under the U column) in the current pay period to the total in the UTD column for the previous pay period. The UTD column is used to balance the HHS-564 and it provides at a quick glance, the total number of hours the employee has used to date in the current year.

6. Record the totals of the other types of leave used in the current pay period and update the balances. There are specific columns for AWOL or LWOP, Credit Hours, and Part-Time Hours, plus two blank columns. Use the blank columns for any other leave (i.e., compensatory hours, VLTP, FFLA, FMLA, COP, etc.)

THE ADMINISTRATIVE TIME AND LEAVE RECORD (HHS-564)

Tips For Timekeepers

Record the leave and/or pay data at the end of each pay period, if not done daily. It takes only a few minutes when recording at the end of each pay period, but if timekeepers wait until several pay periods later, or until an audit is required, it is much more time consuming and difficult. It also increases the possibility of errors.

Another reason to complete the HHS-564 at least at the end of each pay period, is that timekeepers are required to verify that the leave shown on the Earnings and Leave Statements (which is the leave from the Central System) matches their records for the employees assigned to them. The HHS-564 is the timekeeper's record and it must be complete at the end of each pay period in order to verify balances.

The less unnecessary writing on the HHS-564, the better. For instance, if leave is not used, you are not required to put 0 (zero) in the daily column or in the "Used" column for that pay period. Just leave it blank - unless it helps you in some way to have it there. Be sure, however, to keep the UTD columns up to date each pay period. If the UTD does not change in a pay period, you may leave it blank as long as you are sure to pick up the previous total when it does change.

Remember, this is an official time and leave record. Be neat, concise, and accurate. Note anything that will help you or an auditor determine what the employee did during the leave year. Keep this record in the time and attendance file with all supporting documentation for leave use, paid overtime, etc.

Begin each new year with (0) zero balance in the "Used Year To Date" (UTD) columns. Remember, this is a year to date total, not forever.

Before recording annual and sick leave earned during a pay period, and before posting holiday pay for an employee, be sure to total any hours in an unpaid status (AWOL/LWOP/Suspension). If the total unpaid hours in a pay period equals 80, or any multiple of 80 (i.e., 160, 240, 320, etc.), the employee does not accrue leave that pay period. If the employee was in an unpaid status immediately before a holiday and immediately after a holiday, he/she is not entitled to holiday pay.

For details on the effect of an unpaid status on annual and sick leave accruals, see Chapters 4 and 5.

Example 1

The following is the front side of a completed HHS-564 for Jane Employee. (Back side is on the next page.)

Note that Jane began the leave year with balances of 240 hours annual leave, 200 hours sick leave, and 10 credit hours from 1997. Before transferring balances to the back side of the HHS-564, verify that they are correct. (See "tip" on page 1-10.)

Balances at the end of pay period 13 are:

Annual leave	=	240 plus 78 minus 80 = 238
Sick leave	=	200 plus 52 minus 44 = 208
Credit hours	=	010 plus 10 minus 08 = 012

Below is the back side of Jane's HHS-564.

Note that Jane was injured on the job on July 16 at 11:30 a.m. She returned to work part-time on August 19, and full-time on August 24. Jane was correctly charged administrative leave for her absence on the day of injury. When she first returned to work, Jane used 4 hours COP each day Wednesday through Friday for therapy related to the injury. Although only 4 hours per day were recorded as hours absent, one full day of COP leave was correctly deducted from Jane's 45 days.

Also notice Jane's credit hours earned and used, and the balance. She began the year with a 10 hour balance, earned 14, and used 24, leaving her zero hours at the end of the year. (10 plus 14 = 24 minus 24 = 0).

Example 2 - Compressed Work Schedule

Joe transferred to DHHS from another Federal agency on August 2, 1998. His leave balances, which were also transferred, are posted with his EOD date. Because Joe was not here the first part of the year, only the back side of the HHS-564 is needed. It is shown below.

Joe works a compressed work schedule (CWS). Notice that this timekeeper elected to show the number of hours scheduled for each day of his CWS, and Joe's day off, by posting them under the day names.

Notice also the way sick leave used under the Family Friendly Leave Act was tracked for future reporting, religious compensatory time earned and used was posted, and Joe's "in lieu of" holiday in the last pay period. (See Chapter 13 for details on "in lieu of" holidays.)

MAINTAINING THE TIME AND ATTENDANCE FILE

Introduction

Time and attendance source records, or the documentation upon which leave input data is based, must be completed and maintained in the individual time and attendance file for each employee. Generally, this responsibility falls upon the time and attendance clerk, or timekeeper.

The General Records Schedule identifies records which must be kept for 3 years, 6 years, or until after an audit by the General Accounting Office, whichever is sooner. However, rather than going through each individual file to destroy some documents after 3 years and others after 6 years, maintain time and attendance files for 6 years.

Purpose

The time and attendance file contains the employee's record of attendance and leave use. It should be kept orderly and easy to use:

- To ensure that leave balances on the Earnings and Leave Statements (OS-340) match the timekeeper records;
- For auditing a disputed or unbalanced record;
- As a history; or
- For preparing amended time and attendance records.

Supporting Documents

Source records which must be kept in the time and attendance file include, but are not limited to:

- Administrative Time and Leave Records (HHS-564) or equivalent forms
- SF-71 (leave request) or equivalent forms
- Supporting documentation for jury duty or court leave
- Military orders for military leave
- Doctor's certificates for continuation of pay leave, sick leave (as required), and advanced sick leave
- Federal Employee's Notice of Traumatic Injury (form CA-1) for continuation of pay leave
- Exposure certificates
- Timekeeper copies of OS-340s (Earnings and Leave Statements)
- Authorizations for earning or using religious compensatory time

Authorizations for premium pay, overtime, or compensatory time must be maintained at the duty post for 6 years.

Chapter 2. Basic Timekeeping Information

GENERAL TERMS

Administrative Workweek	The administrative workweek consists of 7 consecutive calendar days which run from 12:01 a.m. Sunday to 12:00 midnight Saturday.
Basic Workweek	The basic workweek consists of the days and hours within the administrative workweek which make up the employee's regularly scheduled workweek. For full-time employees who work a regular tour, the basic workweek is the 40-hour week. For part-time employees, the basic workweek means the officially prescribed days and hours within the administrative workweek during which the employee is scheduled to be on duty.
Pay Period	A pay period is a 2-week period beginning at 12:01 a.m. on Sunday and ending two weeks later on Saturday at 12:00 midnight. A pay period covers 2 administrative workweeks . There are usually 26 pay periods in a pay year, but there are 27 pay periods in some pay years.
Leave Year	A leave year begins with the first day of the first complete pay period in a calendar year and ends with the day immediately before the first day of the first complete pay period in the following calendar year. A leave year is divided into 26 leave periods which do not coincide with pay periods. There are always 26 leave periods in a leave year.
Core Hours	Also referred to as core time , core hours are those hours during the workday, workweek, or pay period during which an employee is required to be present for work. If an employee is absent during core hours, he/she must account for the hours with appropriate leave. Core hours are established by each OPDIV.

PAID AND UNPAID STATUS

Introduction	Employees are either: • <ul style="list-style-type: none">Working;On paid leave;On unpaid leave;Absent without leave;Suspended; orFurloughed.
Time in a Pay Status	Time in a pay status is time for which employees are paid. This includes time when employees are working regular hours or overtime, absent on paid leave or holidays, taking compensatory time or religious compensatory time off, or using credit hours. Employees are not in a pay status when they are absent on unpaid leave (LWOP), absent without leave (AWOL), suspended, or furloughed.
Time Absent	Time absent is time when employees are normally scheduled to be at work, but are not at work. This includes time on paid leave and unpaid leave. If the absence is for less than a full day, you must record when the absence began and when it ended.
Regular Hours	Regular hours are hours of work that are paid at the employee's base rate of pay.
Leave	Leave is approved time off from work which may be paid or unpaid. Not every employee is eligible for every type of paid leave.
Unpaid Leave	Unpaid leave (also called non-pay status) is time away from the job for which employees do not get paid. Types of unpaid leave include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Leave without pay (LWOP) - approved unpaid leave;• Absence without leave (AWOL) - unapproved unpaid leave;• Furlough - unpaid leave due to lack of work or funds; and• Suspension - unpaid leave taken as a result of a disciplinary action. For more information about unpaid leave, see Chapter 5.

Paid Leave

Paid leave is time away from the job, for which employees receive their base rate of pay. Types of paid leave include:

- Holidays (time off for national holidays);
- Annual leave (for vacations, etc.);
- Sick leave (for illness, injury, or medical/dental appointments);
- Military leave (for Reserve or National Guard duty);
- Funeral leave (only granted to an employee in connection with the funeral of, or memorial service for, an immediate relative who died as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while serving as a member of the armed forces in a combat zone);
- Administrative leave (approved time away from the job that is not charged to any other category);
- Court leave (to be a juror or, in some cases, a witness);
- Voting leave (to allow time to vote or to register to vote);
- Home leave (for overseas employees); and
- Time off incentive award (when an employee is granted time off from duty without loss of pay as an incentive award in recognition of superior accomplishment).

For more information about paid leave, see Chapter 4.

Credit Hours

Only employees on a flexible work schedule may earn and use credit hours. Credit hours are hours of work performed within a flexible time band, at the employee's option and with the approval of the supervisor, in excess of the basic work requirements. Employees may then use the credit hours they have earned to take time off later.

For more information about credit hours, see Chapter 13.

PAID AND UNPAID STATUS

Compensatory Time	Compensatory time (comp time) is compensation for overtime work on the basis of time off equal to the number of hours of overtime work performed. Instead of being paid for overtime hours worked, extra hours worked are accrued for later use by the employee as a type of leave. Compensatory hours must be worked before they may be used. General Schedule employees may choose to earn compensatory time rather than overtime. Federal Wage System employees may not earn compensatory time unless they are on a compressed or flexible work schedule. (Do not confuse regular compensatory time with religious compensatory time.) For more information about compensatory time, see Chapters 9 and 10.
Religious Compensatory Time	Religious compensatory time is time off for a religious holiday. Subject to supervisory approval, all employees may elect to work additional time in order to take time off to accommodate religious beliefs. Employees may work the additional time either before or after taking religious compensatory time off. For more information about religious compensatory time, see Chapter 7.
Continuation of Pay	Continuation of pay (COP) is time off for disabilities due to on-the-job injuries. COP provides for continuation of an employee's regular pay for up to 45 calendar days. For more information about COP, see Chapter 6.
Premium Pay	Premium pay is extra pay for overtime, Sunday work, night work, holiday work, standby duty, or administratively uncontrollable overtime work. Exception: For Federal Wage System employees, night work is not considered to be premium pay. For more information about premium pay, see Chapters 9 and 10.
Differentials	Differentials are differences in the rates paid to equal employees doing the same work because of differing conditions, such as work at night or work involving hazardous conditions. For more information about differentials, see Chapters 9 and 10.

TYPES OF APPOINTMENTS

Full-Time Employees Most full-time employees are scheduled to work 40 hours a week, 80 hours a pay period. Some have tours of more than 80 hours a pay period.

Part-Time Employees Part-time employees have a regular tour that is 32 to 64 hours a pay period. Part-time employees are entitled to night differential. They do not receive Sunday premium pay (except for Title 38 employees). For more information about part-time employees, see Chapter 11.

Employees appointed under the Student Educational Employment Program (formerly the Stay-in-School Program) receive the same treatment as other part-time employees except during school vacation periods. They may work full-time during a school vacation period. See Chapter 11.

Intermittent Employees Intermittent employees (also referred to as when actually employed or WAE employees) have no regular tour. They are on call and come in at the discretion of the supervisor. These employees do not earn annual leave or sick leave and are not paid for holidays. They are, however, entitled to COP. Intermittent employees are entitled to night differential. They do not receive Sunday premium pay (except for Title 38 employees). For more information, see Chapter 11.

Temporary Employees Employees may be appointed on temporary appointments for specified periods up to a year. The appointment can be extended in 1-year increments for a maximum of 3 additional years.

Employees with appointments of less than 90 days may earn and use sick leave, but may not earn annual leave. If and when an appointment is extended beyond 90 days, or is changed to a permanent appointment, employees may at that time earn annual leave. They may not use annual leave unless they have accrued annual leave which was transferred from another appointment. See Chapter 11.

Seasonal-On-Call Employees Seasonal employees may be full-time or part-time. They earn leave for partial pay periods when coming on or going off a job.

TYPES OF APPOINTMENTS

1040-Hour Employees

Some temporary employees may have a 1040-hour appointment. Keep track of all their hours worked, including overtime, so that these employees do not work beyond the hours in their appointments. In every other way, record data for them as you would other temporary employees. See Chapter 11.

Experts or Consultants

An expert or consultant is usually a specialist from outside HHS appointed to serve by giving advice to individuals or departments or to perform difficult and challenging tasks. Experts and consultants are either intermittent or temporary employees, and they are paid on a daily or an hourly pay basis. See Chapter 11.

TYPES OF TOURS AND SCHEDULES

Tour of Duty A tour of duty (also called a tour) describes the hours of a day (a daily tour of duty) and the days of an administrative workweek (a weekly tour of duty) that constitute an employee's regularly scheduled administrative workweek. A tour of duty is scheduled in advance and the employee is expected to perform work during the tour on a regularly occurring basis.

Standard Tour A standard tour is one that generally consists of 40 hours a week or 80 hours a pay period. Employees with standard tours may work a regular work schedule or may participate in an alternative work schedule, if so allowed by their OPDIV.

The most common regularly scheduled tour is 8 hours a day, 5 days a week (Monday through Friday), which is 80 hours a pay period.

Regular Work Schedule A regular (or normal) work schedule is a fixed schedule consisting of 8 hours a day, five days a week, generally Monday through Friday. The days of the week and the beginning and ending hours of the day are set. There is no flexibility in the regular work schedule.

Alternative Work Schedule There are two types of work schedules jointly referred to as alternative work schedules (AWS). They are the compressed work schedule (CWS) and the flexible work schedule (FWS). Either of these schedules is available to employees upon approval from their Operating Division head or Regional Director.

See information on AWS, see Chapter 13.

Compressed Work Schedules A compressed work schedule (CWS) is one of the alternative work schedules in which an employee's basic work requirement for each pay period is scheduled by the Agency for less than 10 days. An Agency may have more than one CWS from which an employee may select his/her preferred schedule.

Compressed work schedules are always fixed schedules. They are not flexible in any way.

Full-time employees on CWS schedules are scheduled to work more than 8 regular hours on some days. They complete their required 80 hour tours in less than 10 days in a bi-weekly pay period.

Part-time employees on CWS schedules may be scheduled to work more than 8 hours on some days in order to work the number of hours required to complete their tours in less than 10 workdays during the bi-weekly pay period.

See Chapter 13 for more information on CWS.

Flexible Work Schedules

A flexible work schedule includes designated hours (core hours) and days when an employee must be present for work. It also includes designated hours during which an employee may elect to work in order to complete the employee's basic (non-overtime) work requirement.

Flexible hours - Flexible hours (also referred to as flexible time bands, flexitime, or flextime) are the hours during the workday, workweek, or pay period within the tour of duty during which an employee covered by a flexible work schedule may choose to vary his or her times of arrival to and departure from the worksite, consistent with the duties and requirements of the position. The flexible time bands are established by the OPDIV. Do not confuse flexitime with flexitour.

Employees on flexible work schedules may earn and use credit hours.

For more information on flexible work schedules, see Chapter 13.

Non-Standard Tours

Some employees work unusual or non-standard tours. They are:

- Title 38 (Baylor and Non-Baylor Plans)
- Tours worked with hours in excess of 8 hours a day or 40 hours a week (e.g., firefighters and law enforcement employees).

For example, some firefighters work 24-hour shifts, for a total of 112 hours or 144 hours per pay period. For more information on Title 38, see Chapter 12. For more information on firefighters and law enforcement employees, see Chapter 11.

TYPES OF EMPLOYEES

Introduction A pay plan is the pay system or pay schedule under which an employee's rate of basic pay is determined. One way of classifying employees is by pay plan.

General Schedule Most HHS employees are General Schedule (GS) employees, paid according to:

- Title 5 of the U.S. Code
- Fair Labor Standards Act

Federal Wage System Federal Wage System (FWS) employees are paid according to rates set by local Wage Boards to correspond to pay scales for non-government employees in the same area doing the same work.

FWS employees work on shifts and tend to have blue collar and trade positions. They are also called "prevailing rate employees" because their salaries are based on what private sector employees receive in the prevailing area. For example, the pay of an FWS electrician would depend on the area of the country in which he worked.

Title 38 Title 38 compensation is applied to clinical center nurses (pay plan GN) and allied health professionals (pay plans GS, GM). Although compensated in accordance with Title 38, these employees are appointed under Title 5. Your servicing personnel office (SPO) can inform you which employees follow Title 38 premium pay provisions and it will also be noted on the SF-50.

Baylor Plan - Title 38 also authorizes the use of a Weekend Alternative Schedule, an unusual tour of duty referred to as the Baylor Plan.

For information on Title 38 employees, see Chapter 12.

Experts/Consultants Experts and consultants are usually hired to work on special projects or jobs. They are paid by the day or by the hour. For more information, see Chapter 11.

TYPES OF EMPLOYEES

Senior Executive Service

The Senior Executive Service (SES) consists of employees under pay plan ES who are:

- Paid through a compensation system designed to attract and retain competent senior executives; and
- In a position above GS-15 or the equivalent.

The SES includes both general positions and career-reserved positions. HHS determines which positions are included. Qualification Review Boards must certify the qualifications of a candidate before a career appointment can be made. To be eligible for payment of a performance award, an employee's performance rating must be "fully successful" or higher.

SES employees may:

- Earn and use religious compensatory time; and
- Accrue annual leave with a maximum carryover limit of 90 days (720 hours) when a new leave year begins. Annual leave accumulated prior to SES appointment may be carried into the SES appointment. However, annual leave accumulated prior to movement to the SES that is in excess of the maximum allowed for the former position must be used by the end of the leave year in which appointed to the SES or it is subject to forfeiture.

Example: Jan had a balance of 300 hours in her annual leave account at the time she moved from a non-SES position into an SES position. In the former non-SES position, the maximum annual leave carryover limit was 240 hours. Jan has 60 hours more than the maximum carryover allowed in her former non-SES position. She must use the excess 60 hours by the end of the leave year in which she is appointed to the SES position or it is subject to forfeiture.

- If an SES employee moves to a position outside the SES, any annual leave accumulated while serving in the SES may be carried over into the new position. If he/she has more than 720 hours accumulated, the personal carryover ceiling remains at 720 hours. However, once the balance is reduced below 720 hours, the lower amount becomes the new ceiling.

*Senior Executive
Service (cont.)*

Example: Jim is an SES employee who moves into a non-SES position with an annual leave balance of 730 hours. He must use 10 of these hours or they will be forfeited at the end of the SES appointment year. The new position has a maximum carryover amount of 240 hours.

Jim uses his annual leave until the balance drops to 690 hours. His new personal ceiling is 690 hours and remains at 690 hours until the balance drops lower.

The following leave year, Jim uses annual leave until the balance drops to 500. His new personal ceiling is now 500 hours and remains at that number until it drops lower.

Should his leave balance ever drop to the maximum carryover for his newer position, 240 hours, Jim's carryover maximum reduces to and remains at that maximum carryover amount of 240 hours for the balance of his government career (unless he moves into a position with a higher carryover).

SES employees may not:

- Receive premium pay or earn compensatory time;
 - Earn and use credit hours; and/or
 - Participate in a compressed work tour such as a 5-4-9 schedule unless the entire work unit closes on the same workday(s) every pay period.

THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT (FLSA)

Introduction

Another way of categorizing employees is whether or not they are covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). FLSA is a law that regulates the hours of work and pay for certain federal employees.

Employees are classified as:

- FLSA non-exempt (covered by FLSA); or
- FLSA exempt (not covered by FLSA).

The servicing personnel offices determine who is covered by FLSA. Both GS and FWS employees can be either non-exempt or exempt.

For Additional Information

For more information on FLSA, refer to Chapter 14 and also:

- 5 CFR, Part 551, Subpart A
- HHS-Instructions

NEW EMPLOYEES

Enter on Duty Date

The date on which a new federal employee completes the necessary paperwork and is sworn in as an employee is referred to as that employee's entry on duty (EOD) date (also referred to as enter on duty).

New employees do not always start work on the effective date of their appointments. For example, if a new federal employee is appointed on a Sunday and is scheduled to work Monday through Friday, then that employee is appointed effective on Sunday, but actually starts work and is sworn in on Monday. Monday is the EOD date.

Holidays

New federal employees working Monday through Friday do not enter on duty on Monday when Monday is a holiday. They enter on duty on Tuesday, the day they start work and are sworn in.

If a person has accepted an appointment, the effective date of which is a Sunday before a Monday holiday and the employee is sworn in on the day following the holiday, the employee is paid for the holiday.

If the effective date of appointment is on the Tuesday following the holiday, the employee is not paid for the holiday. His appointment is not effective until after the holiday.

Federal employees who transfer from another agency or within HHS on Sunday when the following Monday is a holiday are paid for the holiday as usual.

EMPLOYEE SEPARATES OR TRANSFERS

Introduction

When an employee separates from HHS, the timekeeper must document the separation. An employee may separate by:

- Resigning;
- Retiring;
- Transferring to another Federal agency;
- Termination of appointment;
- Termination for other reason; or
- Death.

Note: In the event of the death of an employee, there are specific procedures which must be followed. Procedures follow in this section.

Separations

For any separation, the timekeeper should verify that all leave balances are correct and that they match those in the central system (shown on the OS-340, Earnings and Leave Statement). The time and attendance file should be complete and up to date through the date of separation.

On the final time and attendance record for the employee, a remark stating the reason for separation (Retired, Resigned, Transferred, etc.) and the date of separation (COB mm/dd/yy) must be recorded.

Transfers Within HHS

For transfers to another office within your OPDIV, follow the policies set by your OPDIV for details, reassignments, or transfers.

For transfers within HHS, the losing timekeeper should send a copy of the HHS-564 to the new timekeeper. For assistance, contact your OPDIV's Payroll Liaison.

Separation Due to Death

If an employee dies, do not wait until the end of the pay period to report his or her hours.

Immediately complete a record for the pay period and enter a remark ("mm/dd/yy Died"). Have the supervisor certify the record. Print a copy of the record and give it to your Servicing Personnel Office (SPO), along with a copy of the HHS-564. Each SPO will forward the report along with all required death claim forms to the Personnel and Pay Systems Division (PPSD) marked "ATTN: Death Claims."

EMPLOYEE SEPARATES OR TRANSFERS

*Separation
Due to Death
(cont.)*

If death occurs while in a pay status (i.e., working or on paid leave), the employee is entitled to compensation up to and including the date of death, regardless of the time of day that death occurs. Hours on the day of death are reported as regular hours, not as any type of leave.

If the employee was in a pay status on the last scheduled workday before death and dies on the next scheduled workday, the employee is paid regular pay for the date of death.

Example: Bob works a regular tour, Monday through Friday. He dies on Monday after being out on sick leave the preceding Friday. He was in a pay status (sick leave) on the last scheduled workday before death (Friday) and is paid regular pay for Monday.

If death occurs while in a non-pay status (i.e., a non-work day, or while on unpaid leave), employees are not compensated for the day of death. They are charged appropriately for the day (i.e., LWOP, AWOL, Suspension).

DETAIL TO ANOTHER OFFICE

Introduction

Sometimes employees work in other workplaces temporarily. This is called a detail. The table below gives information about timekeeping for an employee who has been detailed to another office.

DETAILS 60 DAYS OR MORE	DETAILS LESS THAN 60 DAYS
Timekeeping is done at temporary duty station.	Timekeeping is done at home station.

If timekeeping is done at the home station, be sure to keep the timekeeper informed of all leave used and time and attendance information.

ERRORS AND OMISSIONS

Introduction

Errors occur if you report hours incorrectly~~or~~ if you do not record hours or premium pay. If there are errors or omissions, you must amend the record, following the procedures outlined in the User Manual for the timekeeping system used by your OPDIV.

Examples: You reported 8 hours of annual leave that should have been leave without pay or you failed to report overtime worked.

Error Notices

Error notices are used to report errors to PPSD when:

- The pay period(s) when errors were made is unknown; or
- The record was correct, but the pay or deductions are incorrect.

Send all 411's through your Payroll Liaison. The correction may possibly be made through the Payroll Error Correction System (PECS) or your Payroll Liaison will forward the 411 to PPSD with the correct documentation for processing.

There are 2 types of error notices:

- Error Notice (HHS-411A) — This form is pink. Use it to correct errors in pay and deductions.
- Leave Error Notice (HHS-411B) — This form is white. Use it to correct errors in leave earned or used that cannot be corrected in a regular amended (or leave correction) record.

Important

Do not report more than one employee on each Error Notice.

Do not submit an Error Notice and then forget about it. Follow through with your Payroll Liaison until the correction is made. If the corrections you requested are not made within two pay periods after you submitted the Notice, contact your Payroll Liaison.

Note: For errors considered critical (i.e., Employee is not paid but you submitted a correct record, employee receives incorrect pay, etc.), contact your Payroll Liaison immediately.

ERRORS AND OMISSIONS

Caution

Do not use the Error Notice when:

- Withholding exemptions for State or Federal Tax are incorrect because of exemption or state code. Send the employee to Personnel to complete and submit a new withholding form.
- The home address on the Earnings and Leave Statement is incorrect. Send the employee to Personnel to complete and submit a new Address Notice (HHS form 476).
- Correcting leave due to late personnel actions less than 4 pay periods old. Contact your Payroll Liaison.

For SPO information, do not use a 4ll for:

- Submitting an SF-50B for cash awards on separated employees.
- Submitting settlement agreements for back pay awards, etc.

These should be forwarded to PPSD with a cover memo detailing the action requested.

Note: Some of the above actions may be processed through Employee Express. Check with your SPO.

THE EARNINGS AND LEAVE STATEMENT

Introduction

The Earnings and Leave Statement (OS-340), also known as the payslip, is a printed statement issued to every employee which documents the employee's:

- Earnings and deductions;
- Leave earned and used;
- Pay adjustments for each pay period; and
- The year to date totals to that date.

The OS-340 confirms the employee's rate of pay and explains deductions.

Both the timekeeper and the employee are responsible for verifying the data on the OS-340. The timekeeper should also verify that the leave balances shown on the OS-340 match those on the Administrative Time and Leave Record, HHS-564 (or similar form) for the employee.

There are 6 main areas on the Earnings and Leave Statement:

1. Remarks
2. Itemized earnings and deductions
3. Salary
4. Other pay information
5. Leave information
6. Employee information

A detailed description of each section of the Earnings and Leave Statement follows.

Section 1 - Remarks

Remarks that appear in this section are programmed by the Central System and either appear automatically or are programmed to appear on all payslips.

Examples of automatic remarks are "Bond purchased this pay period.", "Promotion effective this pay period.", or "Federal Tax change".

Examples of those programmed are "Last day to change health benefits is December 6, 1997.", "March is Nutrition Month", or "Buy U.S. Savings Bonds").

THE EARNINGS AND LEAVE STATEMENT

Section 3 - Salary

The 3 columns in the middle of the Earnings and Leave Statement indicate the pay period salary totals.

Current - Totals for the pay period, including any adjusted amount.

Adjusted - Adjustment(s) made in the pay period. Adjusted amount is any correction, positive or negative, made during the pay period.

YTD (Year-To-Date) - Year-to-date totals of money received in the pay year. (It may have been earned in a previous calendar year.)

Section 4 - Other Pay Information

Cumulative Totals - Located on the right-hand side of the Earnings and Leave Statement, this section includes cumulative totals of some deductions such as:

- Thrift Savings Plan - cumulative year-to-date totals.

Section 5 - Leave

This section of the Earnings and Leave Statement shows the types of leave and the number of hours used, earned, and balances.

Type of Leave - Type of leave used or earned in the pay period. Also listed here are any types of leave, whether hours were used or earned this pay period or not, which have a remaining balance to be used (such as comp time, etc.), or a used year-to-date total which must be maintained (i.e., AWOL, LWOP, Admin, etc.).

Section 5 -
Leave (cont.)

Used Year-To-Date - The total amount of leave used from the beginning of the leave year through the pay period ending date.

Current Balance - The balance of leave available to the employee at the end of the pay period.

Other Leave Information:

SCD - The Service Computation Date established by the Personnel Office. This date represents the total number of years of service which determines the leave category and retirement eligibility for employees.

Lv. Cat (Leave Category) - Based on the SCD, this number will be 4, 6, or 8, and is the amount of leave the employee earns each regular 80 hour tour of duty. For part-time or uncommon tours of duty, this number is used to determine the computation of leave earned in the pay period. For detailed information on paid leave, see Chapter 4, unpaid leave, Chapter 5, and for part-time employees, Chapter 11.

Use or Lose - Annual leave which must be used by the end of the current leave year - or it will be forfeited. (Generally, this is a combination of the current balance, plus the amount that will be earned during the rest of the leave year, minus 240.)

Max. C/O (Maximum Carry-Over) - The maximum number of annual leave hours which may be carried over to the next leave year, 240 hours for most employees.

Ann P/T C/O (Annual Leave Part-Time Carry-Over) - For part-time employees only, annual leave part-time carry-over hours are hours left over after computing the annual leave accrual for the pay period.

Sk P/T C/O (Sick Leave Part-Time Carry-Over) - For part-time employees only, sick leave part-time carry-over hours are hours left over after computing the sick leave accrual for the pay period.

Pay Period - The pay period number covered by this OS-340.

Leave Period - The leave period number covered by this OS-340 (does not usually coincide with pay period number).

- 2 = Part-Time
- 3 = All Other

Chapter 3. Regular Hours

OVERVIEW

Introduction

For most employees, follow General Schedule or Federal Wage System timekeeping procedures. Exceptions are Senior Executive Service, Title 38 Baylor Plan employees, experts/consultants.

An employee is either at work, working his or her regularly scheduled tour (regular hours), or on leave (either paid or unpaid). Regular hours are hours of work that are paid at the employee's base rate of pay and are only recorded for hours that the employee actually works. Do not record hours spent on leave under regular hours. When an employee works regular hours or uses paid leave, the employee is in a pay status. When an employee is on unpaid leave, he or she is not in a pay status.

The total number of hours (regular hours plus paid leave hours plus unpaid leave hours) for the 2-week pay period must equal the number of hours in the employee's official tour of duty.

For information on paid leave and unpaid leave, see Chapters 4 and 5.

Reminder

An employee's regularly scheduled tour is the period within the administrative workweek when the employee is regularly scheduled to work. A tour is defined by the days of the week, number of hours a day, number of days per week, and number of hours per pay period that the employee is assigned to work. The most common regularly scheduled tour is Monday through Friday, 8 hours a day, 5 days a week, and 80 hours a pay period. Tours for employees on alternative work schedules vary, but are still regularly scheduled tours. See Chapter 13 for information on alternative work schedules.

The two week pay period covers 2 administrative workweeks. The administrative workweek is 7 consecutive days from 12:01 a.m. on Sunday through midnight Saturday. The basic workweek for full-time employees on a regular tour is the 40-hour week.

Do not record regular hours on days outside the employee's regularly scheduled tour.

REGULAR HOURS

General Schedule (GS) Employees

General Schedule (GS) employees are paid under Title 5 of the U.S. Code and the Fair Labor Standards Act.

GS is the basic pay schedule. For a list of pay plans that follow GS procedures, see the pay plan table in Chapter 2.

Pay Basis - Pay for GS employees is based on an annual salary. For pay calculation purposes, the hourly rate for regular hours is derived by dividing the annual salary by 2087. See Chapter 9 for premium pay.

Federal Wage System (FWS) Employees

Federal Wage System (FWS) employees (also called prevailing rate employees) are paid according to rates set by Wage Boards. These Wage Boards set the rates according to what non-government workers in the same part of the country, who are doing the same kinds of work, are being paid.

For a list of pay plans that follow FWS procedures, see the pay plan table in Chapter 2.

Pay Basis - Pay for FWS employees is based on established hourly rates rather than on annual salary. See Chapter 10 for premium pay.

FWS Table - Shifts

FWS employees work one of 3 different shifts as described below:

IF A MAJORITY OF HOURS OF EMPLOYEE'S REGULAR TOUR ARE...	THEN EMPLOYEE'S REGULAR HOURS ARE DURING...
from 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.	Shift 1
from 3:00 p.m. to midnight	Shift 2
from 11:00 p.m. to 8:00 a.m.	Shift 3

FWS employees must be scheduled for a majority of their hours during a shift (including meal breaks) to receive that shift rate (i.e., at least 5 hours of an 8-hour shift). Otherwise they receive the next lowest rate.

Note: All hours of a shift which begins on one day and ends on the following day are recorded on the day the shift begins.

REGULAR HOURS

Meal Breaks

Employees are not paid for meal breaks. Do not record time taken for meal breaks under regular hours worked. Exception: Firefighters are paid for their meal breaks.

According to Title 5, breaks of more than 1 hour may not be scheduled. Meal breaks are usually scheduled for 1/2 hour. For the time allotted for an employee's meal breaks, check with the employee's supervisor.

Fractions

The standard minimum charge for absence in a paid or unpaid status is 1/4 hour, except in those cases where OPDIV heads have established a minimum of 1/2 hour or 1 hour.

Rule

When employees work less than a full hour, record any fractions in 15-minute increments (15, 30, or 45 minutes). Round 7 minutes or less down; round 8 to 14 minutes up.

Examples:

- Barry worked 20 minutes (15 minutes + 5 minutes). Enter 15 minutes.
- Marta worked only 4 minutes. Do not enter anything.
- Charlie worked 27 minutes (15 + 12). Enter 30 minutes.

Daylight Savings Time

Spring Night Shift: Clocks are advanced 1 hour; the regular 8-hour tour is reduced to 7 hours. When an employee loses an hour due to an official time change, he or she is automatically charged one hour of leave, unless the supervisor approves the employee's request to work an extra hour.

Fall Night Shift: Clocks are set back 1 hour; the regular 8-hour tour is increased to 9 hours. Employee receives overtime pay for the extra hour.

Note: Employees earn only 8 hours of Sunday premium pay for tours on Sunday.

Chapter 4. Paid Leave and Holidays

OVERVIEW

Introduction

Paid leave and holidays are the same for permanent full-time GS and FWS employees.

Each OPDIV is responsible for establishing procedures for use of leave. Generally, all anticipated leave should be requested in advance, with emergency leave being requested as determined by each OPDIV.

It is possible for an employee to use more than one type of leave on the same day, and to use both paid and unpaid leave in the same day.

Regular hours plus paid leave hours plus unpaid leave hours plus holiday hours must equal the total hours in the biweekly scheduled tour of duty.

If an employee is absent on leave for less than a full day, you must record the time that the absence began and the time that the absence ended, or the actual hours absent. If an employee is absent all day, it is not necessary to record times that the absence began and ended.

Rule - Meal Break

If absence is less than a full day and part of the absence includes the meal break, adjust the time to account for the break so that the employee is not charged leave for the meal period. For example:

If an employee who ordinarily takes a ½ hour lunch break from noon to 12:30 p.m. is absent on paid leave from noon to 2:00 p.m.:

Charge leave from 12:30 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Leave Year

A leave year begins with the first day of the first complete pay period in a calendar year (the first pay period of the calendar year in which all of the days of the pay period are in January). A leave year ends with the day immediately before the first day of the first complete pay period in the following calendar year.

HOLIDAY NOT WORKED

Introduction

A holiday is an official day off with pay granted by the federal government; or a day off granted instead of the official holiday, if the holiday falls on a non-work day for the employee.

Record holiday hours as holiday not worked for the day specified as the official holiday.

An application or other request for leave is not required for holiday leave. Formal approval is assumed, unless otherwise notified.

Table

For employees who work 5 days in a row and are off 2 days in a row:

IF THE HOLIDAY FALLS ON THE...	THEN THE EMPLOYEE GETS THE...
First day off	Day before the holiday off
Second day off	Day after the holiday off

Example: Judy works Monday through Friday.

1. July 4th falls on a Saturday, so Judy gets Friday, the day before the holiday, off.
2. Christmas falls on a Sunday, so Judy gets Monday, the day after the holiday, off.

Note

The President may grant "extra" days off for holidays. For example, if Christmas falls on a Tuesday, the President may decide to grant federal employees the Monday prior to the holiday off as well. In this case, a Presidential Order will be issued and the extra hours or days granted should also be entered as holiday not worked.

Caution

If employees work on a holiday, you must record the hours worked on that holiday. See Chapter 9 and 10 for premium pay.

Under certain conditions, employees who are on unpaid leave do not receive holiday pay. See Chapter 5, Unpaid Leave.

APPLICATION FOR LEAVE — The SF-71

Introduction

OPDIVs have the option to either use the Standard Form 71 (SF-71) or to prescribe other procedures and/or forms for requesting leave. Use the procedure prescribed by your OPDIV.

The Standard Form-71 (SF-71), Application for Leave, was designed for the purpose of requesting leave. Employees complete the SF-71 and give it to their supervisors or leave-approving officials. The supervisor signs the form if the leave is approved and gives it to the timekeeper.

STANDARD FORM 71

SICK LEAVE

Accrual

Sick leave is accrued beginning with the first full pay period on duty.

Full-time employees earn 4 hours of sick leave for every pay period in which they are in a pay status.

Employees do not accrue sick leave for incomplete pay periods, i.e., the first or last pay period if they either:

- begin employment after the first workday of the pay period or
- end employment before the last workday of the pay period.

Exceptions:

- For leave accrual purposes, employees who enter on duty the Tuesday after a Monday holiday are considered to have worked the full pay period. They do accrue sick leave.
- Employees who transfer from another federal agency during the middle of a pay period without a break in service do accrue sick leave.

Sick leave is not affected by the type of appointment or the length of service.

Intermittent employees do not have a regular weekly tour of duty and are not entitled to earn sick leave.

There is no limit on sick leave accumulation.

Loss of Accrual

Full-time employees lose their accrual of 4 hours of sick leave for any pay period in which they accumulate 80 hours, or multiples of 80 hours, in a nonpay status. The total nonpay hours consists of any combination of hours of Suspension, LWOP, and AWOL. The hours of absence need not be consecutive. For more information, see Chapter 5, Unpaid Leave.

SICK LEAVE

Rules

Employees must file a written application for sick leave using the form determined by the OPDIV.

Sick leave for non-emergency purposes must be requested in advance.

Employees must submit evidence as required by their leave approving officials to support approvals of sick leave. Officials have the discretion to require different forms of evidence depending upon the circumstances.

Required doctor's certificates and/or personal statements must be submitted as determined by the OPDIV, generally for periods of absence in excess of 3 consecutive days.

Required evidence must be submitted within a reasonable amount of time after return to duty. Failure to do so is grounds for taking a disciplinary action for failure to follow proper leave procedures.

Leave approving officials may require that employees submit medical documentation during a period of extended sickness in order to obtain information which is necessary for planning work or for determining that the approval of continued leave is appropriate.

If an employee becomes ill within a period of annual leave and, immediately upon returning to duty, submits medical documentation to support the sick leave, sick leave may be substituted for the annual leave.

Annual leave must not be substituted retroactively for regular sick leave.

Exception: Annual leave may be substituted retroactively only to liquidate an employee's indebtedness for advanced sick leave.

Leave approving officials will usually charge sick leave only at an employee's request. However, officials may place an employee on sick leave without the employee's request when:

- the employee is absent under extenuating circumstances clearly indicating that he/she is unable to work and unable to request leave (e.g., employee is in a coma); or
- the employee reports for duty, but is determined to be unable to work because of mental or physical illness.

If all sick leave is exhausted and the employee is still unable to request appropriate leave, the leave approving official may consider advancing sick leave or charging the continued absence to annual leave or to leave without pay. In addition, the official may pursue the use of the Voluntary Leave Transfer Program on behalf of the employee.

Leave approving officials should check with their Servicing Personnel Offices for assistance before charging sick leave without the employee's request or consent.

Use of Sick Leave

Sick leave may be used:

- for emergency and/or non-emergency dental, optical, or medical examination or treatment for physical or mental conditions;
- if the employee is incapacitated for the performance of duties due to physical or mental illness, injury, temporary disability, pregnancy, or childbirth;
- when the organization has made a determination that the employee is incapacitated and meets the requirements for disability retirement, and OPM is processing the employee's retirement application;
- for treatment of a disabled veteran or adjudication of a claim concerning a job-related injury or illness;
- if the employee would, as determined by the health authorities having jurisdiction or a health care provider, jeopardize the health of others by his or her presence on the job because of exposure to communicable disease; or
- in connection with the adoption of a child (including appointments with adoption agencies, social workers, and attorneys, court proceedings, required travel, and any other activities necessary).

See the next section for information on use of sick leave under the Federal Employees Family Friendly Leave Act (FFLA). Information on the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) is in this chapter also.

SICK LEAVE - Family Friendly Leave Act

Federal Employees Family Friendly Leave Act (FFLA)

Subject to limitations set forth in the Federal Employees Family Friendly Leave Act (FFLA), sick leave may be used by an employee:

- to provide care for a member of his/her immediate family as a result of physical or mental illness, injury, pregnancy, childbirth, or who receives medical, dental, or optical examination or treatment; and/or
- to make arrangements necessitated by the death of a family member or to attend the funeral of a family member.

Note: OPDIVs must maintain accurate records tracking the use of sick leave under the FFLA, and report such information as required by OPM for the purpose of evaluating the program.

Family Member Under the FFLA

Under the FFLA a family member is:

- Spouse and his/her parents;
- Children (including adopted children) and their spouses;
- Parents;
- Brothers and sisters and their spouses; and
- Any individual related by blood or affinity whose close association with the employee is the equivalent of a family relationship.

Limitations For Using Sick Leave Under the FFLA

The amount of sick leave granted during any leave year under the FFLA may not exceed a total of 104 hours for full-time employees. For part-time employees and employees with an uncommon tour of duty, the amount of sick leave granted during any leave year may not exceed the number of hours of sick leave normally accrued by that employee during a leave year. The following limitations apply:

Full-time employees may use up to 40 hours (or 5 days) of sick leave under the FFLA during a leave year. However,

- To be granted any more than 40 hours (or 5 days) during the leave year, in each instance that the employee uses sick leave under the FFLA, he or she must retain a sick leave account balance of at least 80 hours after deducting the amount to be used. Maximum hours allowed per leave year is 104 (13 days).

Part-time employees or employees with an uncommon tour of duty may, under the FFLA, use an amount of sick leave equal to the average number of hours in the employee's scheduled tour of duty each week. However,

- To be granted any amount over the average number of hours in the employee's scheduled tour of duty each week, in each instance that the employee uses sick leave under the FFLA, he/she must retain a sick leave account balance of at least twice the average number of hours in the employee's scheduled tour of duty each week after deducting the amount to be used.

Example: Carrie is a part-time employee with a scheduled tour of duty of 40 hours per pay period (20 hours per week). Based on her tour of duty, Carrie will accrue 52 hours of sick leave during a leave year.

The maximum number of sick leave hours that Carrie may use during a leave year under the FFLA is 52 hours, the number of hours equal to the amount she will normally accrue during the leave year.

To use any more than 20 hours in the leave year (the number of hours in her weekly tour of duty), Carrie must retain a sick leave account balance of at least 40 hours after deducting the amount to be used. To compute her required sick leave balance, multiply Carrie's weekly tour (20 hours) times 2 (equals 40). Forty hours is twice the amount of Carrie's weekly tour, and is the balance that she must retain in her sick leave account after deducting the amount to be used.

Advanced Sick Leave and the FFLA

Full-time employees may be advanced up to 40 hours (or 5 days) of sick leave per year in order to grant the use of sick leave under the FFLA.

Part-time employees or employees with an uncommon tour of duty may be advanced an amount equal to the number of hours in the employee's scheduled weekly tour of duty. (In the example shown above, Carrie may be advanced up to 20 hours per year.)

Sick leave may not be advanced in order to meet the requirement to maintain a minimum sick leave balance; OR to use additional sick leave for purposes covered under the FFLA when such use would cause the employee's sick leave balance to fall below the minimum required.

ADVANCED SICK LEAVE

Advanced Sick Leave

Sick leave may be advanced, if the employee has a serious disability or ailment, provided that there is a reasonable expectation that the employee will return to duty. Usually the disability or ailment will be of such seriousness as to require a period of absence of at least 5 consecutive work days, unless an absence for a shorter period is determined to be appropriate (for example, intermittent absences for cancer chemotherapy, kidney dialysis, etc.).

Advance sick leave may be granted regardless of whether the employee has annual leave to his/her credit.

The total advance at no time may exceed 30 days, or 240 hours.

For an employee holding a limited appointment, sick leave must not be advanced in excess of the number of hours of sick leave to be earned during the remaining period of employment.

Sick leave must not be advanced when it is likely the employee will retire, be separated, or resign before the advanced leave will be earned or re-paid.

Sick leave may not be advanced for the purpose of meeting the requirement to retain a minimum sick leave balance or for using additional sick leave for the purposes covered under the Family Friendly Leave Act, when such use would otherwise cause the employee's sick leave balance to fall below the minimum required.

Advanced sick leave is a debt owed to the Federal government. Any sick leave earned after the sick leave is advanced will be used to liquidate the advanced sick leave. An employee separated while indebted for advance sick leave must refund the amount due or have the amount owed deducted from any monies due to the employee.

The employee's request for advance sick leave must be in writing and must be supported by medical documentation.

There is no requirement for granting a request for advance sick leave. Check your OPDIVs' policy or ruling on procedure.

ANNUAL LEAVE

Accrual

Annual leave is accrued based on an employee's length of federal service, beginning with the first full pay period on duty. Full-time and part-time employees who have regular tours of duty are eligible for annual leave.

Intermittent employees do not have a regular weekly tour of duty and are not entitled to earn or use annual leave.

The following table indicates the amount of annual leave accrued by full-time employees. For part-time employees, see Chapter 11.

IF THE EMPLOYEE HAS BEEN WITH THE FEDERAL SERVICE FOR...	THEN FOR EACH FULL PAY PERIOD THE EMPLOYEE EARNS...
0-3 years	4 hours
3-15 years	6 hours - except for the last full pay period in the calendar year when the employee earns 10 hours
over 15 years	8 hours

Employees do not accrue annual leave for incomplete pay periods, i.e., the first or last pay period if they either:

- begin employment after the first workday of the pay period or
- end employment before the last workday of the pay period.

Exceptions:

- For leave accrual purposes, employees who enter on duty the Tuesday after a Monday holiday are considered to have worked the full pay period. They do accrue annual leave.
- Employees who transfer from another federal agency during the middle of a pay period, without a break in service, do accrue annual leave.

Maximum Accrual

Annual leave is limited to a maximum accumulation, or carryover, balance of 240 hours for most employees. See the section concerning maximum carryover later in this chapter.

ANNUAL LEAVE

Appointments Less Than 90 Days

Employees with appointments of less than 90 days may not earn or use annual leave. If an appointment is extended or converted to another appointment of less than 90 days, the employee still does not earn annual leave. However, if the appointment is extended or converted to an appointment of 90 days or more, the employee earns annual leave retroactive to the date of the initial appointment.

If employees under appointments of less than 90 days use leave without pay and then earn annual leave retroactive to the initial date of the appointments as described above, they may not substitute annual leave for the leave without pay already used.

Loss of Accrual

Full-time employees lose their accrual of 4, 6, or 8 hours of annual leave for the pay period in which they accumulate 80 hours, or multiples of 80 hours, in a nonpay status. The total nonpay hours consists of any combination of hours of Suspension, LWOP, and AWOL. The hours of absence need not be consecutive. For more information, see Chapter 5, Unpaid Leave.

Special Accrual for Leave Category 6 Employees

Employees in leave category 6 earn a total of 10 hours of annual leave during the last full pay period of the calendar year (the last pay period of the calendar year in which all of the days of the pay period are in December), regardless of when they entered on duty or changed to leave category 6.

Employees who lose their leave accrual during this particular pay period due to accumulating a multiple of 80 hours of unpaid leave, lose 10 hours of annual leave.

Change in Leave Category

The leave category change is based on the service computation date (SCD). It occurs after 3 full years of service and again after 15 full years of service, and goes into effect at the beginning of the pay period following the anniversary date of the SCD. A remark noting the change will appear on the Earnings and Leave Statement.

Exception: If the anniversary date is on Sunday, the first day of the pay period, the new leave category goes into effect that pay period.

ANNUAL LEAVE

Maximum Carryover

For most full- and part-time employees, the maximum annual leave that can be brought forward at the beginning of a new leave year is 30 days or 240 hours. Exceptions to this rule are:

Special Maximum Carryover - Certain employees have brought forward more than the 240-hour maximum since the beginning of 1953. They may bring this higher maximum, or personal leave ceiling, forward until and unless their maximum has been lowered at the end of any leave year since 1953. Once the higher maximum has been lowered at the end of any leave year, the new, lower number becomes the maximum.

Example: Jane had a carryover balance of 320 hours of annual leave at the end of 1953; therefore, 320 hours is Jane's maximum carryover, or personal leave ceiling. She maintained that number of hours carryover until 1960. In 1960 Jane's leave balance at the end of the year dropped to 295. Her new maximum is now 295. If Jane continues to reduce the number of carryover hours at the end of the leave years, her maximum carryover balance will be reduced until it reaches the 240 hours limit.

Overseas Employees - Overseas employees are allowed 45 days or 360 hours of maximum annual leave carryover. Service must be outside the 50 states and outside the U.S. territory (or Puerto Rico) of residence.

Non-Standard Tours - Employees who are on non-standard tours of more than 40 hours a week and more than 80 hours a pay period (e.g., firefighters) can also have more than 240 hours maximum annual leave carryover.

Senior Executive Service - SES employees accrue annual leave with a 90 day (720 hours) limit on carryover hours. Any annual leave accumulated prior to the SES appointment which was in excess of the maximum carryover, or personal leave ceiling, for the prior non-SES appointment must be used or forfeited by the end of the leave year in which appointed. For further information, see Chapter 2.

ADVANCED ANNUAL LEAVE

Advanced Annual Leave

Employees have no entitlement to advance annual leave. However, under very unusual circumstances, an employee may be granted advance annual leave.

The maximum advanced annual leave that may be granted to an employee is an amount equal to the number of hours the employee will earn by the end of the appointment or the end of the current leave year, whichever is sooner.

Advanced annual leave is a debt owed to the Federal government. Any annual leave earned after the annual leave is advanced will be used to liquidate the advanced annual leave. An employee separated while indebted for advanced annual leave must refund the amount due or have the amount owed deducted from any monies due to the employee.

Annual leave must not be advanced when it is likely the employee will retire, be separated, or resign before the advanced leave will be earned (repaid).

RESTORED ANNUAL LEAVE

Introduction

As a general rule, annual leave in excess of the maximum carryover balance is forfeited if not used by the end of the leave year. This excess annual leave, sometimes called "use or lose" leave, may be considered for restoration only under certain special circumstances. If, after consideration, annual leave is restored, those hours are then referred to as restored annual leave.

Each OPDIV Head has been delegated the authority to determine that an exigency of public business exists and to approve restoration of forfeited annual leave. All requests for determination of exigencies or for restored leave must be forwarded to the OPDIV appointed person.

In addition to Department and Federal policies and regulations, each OPDIV has its own policies and procedures regarding restored leave which must be used in conjunction with this guide.

Important

OPM regulations require that "use or lose" annual leave must be scheduled in writing at least three pay periods prior to the end of the leave year, or it may not be considered for restoration.

The Department has no authority to waive this requirement.

Conditions

- a. Forfeited annual leave may be considered for restoration only under one of the following conditions:
1. To correct an administrative error, when the error causes the loss of annual leave.
 2. When annual leave was scheduled in writing, in advance, but its use was denied because of an exigency of the public business.
 3. When use of scheduled annual leave is prevented by illness or injury, provided that the annual leave was scheduled in writing, in advance, and its use could not be rescheduled between the termination of the illness and the end of the leave year, either because of an exigency or because the termination of the illness occurred too late in the leave year to permit rescheduling.

RESTORED ANNUAL LEAVE

(cont.)

- b. The leave-approving official must approve the employee's request "in writing, in advance" for "use or lose" annual leave for use at the time requested by the employee OR, if that is not possible, must reschedule it for use at some other mutually agreeable time before the end of the leave year.
- c. If an exigency of public business arises which necessitates cancellation of the employee's "use or lose" annual leave, the situation must be presented to the official with authority to make an exigency determination who must decide:
 - 1. Whether or not an exigency of public business exists which is of such importance that an employee cannot be released from duty (See following section, Exigency.); and
 - 2. Whether or not there is any reasonable alternative to the cancellation of an employee's "use or lose" annual leave, or to the assignment of that employee to the work generated by the exigency. Determination to cancel an employee's leave must be documented. (See page 4-20.)

Important: Determination of the exigency must be made before the employee's scheduled leave is canceled and not after the fact.

- d. If the requirements in b and c above are not met (i.e., if the employee's request was submitted but not approved, or the exigency determination was not made before the employee's leave was cancelled), this may be considered an administrative error and the forfeited annual leave may be considered for restoration.

However, if the employee did not request the leave in writing in advance (prior to three pay periods before the end of the leave year), this cannot be considered an administrative error and the forfeited annual leave cannot be restored.

The only exception is for a prolonged illness preceding the end of a leave year, where the employee may be presumed to have requested proper scheduling of the annual leave.

RESTORED ANNUAL LEAVE

(cont.)*

- e. If an exigency or illness that caused the cancellation of an employee's "use or lose" annual leave terminates before the end of the leave year, every effort must be made to reschedule the annual leave before the end of the leave year in order to avoid forfeiture.

Exigency

An exigency of public business is a crisis in which the public is in need of immediate assistance. The determination that such a situation exists must be made by the appointed official in each OPDIV.

The determination must be documented and must include:

- Date of determination that the exigency exists;
- Specific beginning and ending dates of the exigency (dates must be fixed);
- Nature of exigency (describe);
- Any other factors which support the exigency decision.

Except where it is made by the head of the OPDIV, the determination may not be made by any official whose leave would be affected by the decision.

Reminder: The determination of an exigency must be made before an employee's scheduled leave is cancelled and not after the fact.

*Extended
Exigency*

An extended exigency is defined as significant circumstances that meet all of the following four conditions:

1. Threaten the national security, safety, or welfare;
 2. Last more than 3 calendar years;
 3. Affect a segment of an agency or occupational class; and
 4. Preclude subsequent use of both restored and accrued annual leave within the time limit specified.

RESTORED ANNUAL LEAVE

Date of Restoration

The date of restoration is determined as follows:

1. The date the annual leave was restored in correcting an administrative error; or
2. The date fixed by management as the end of the exigency that resulted in the forfeiture of the annual leave; or
3. The date the supervisor, after considering the medical documentation, ascertains that the employee is able to return to duty, if the leave was forfeited because of sickness.

Time Limit for Use of Restored Annual Leave

The maximum time limit for use of restored leave is the end of the leave year in which the 2-year anniversary date of restoration occurs. Restored leave which is not used by this deadline may not be restored again.

Example: If leave is restored on June 7, 1998, it must be used by the end of the leave year in the year 2000. The 2-year anniversary is actually June 7, 2000, but they have until the end of that leave year, which will occur in January, 2001.

Extended Exigency - The time limit for use of restored annual leave due to an extended exigency is two years for each calendar year, or part thereof, that the exigency existed, regardless of the number of years during the exigency.

Using Restored Leave

Employees with a restored annual leave account may use their regular annual leave and their restored leave in any order they wish. However, they must advise their leave-approving officials of their choices when requesting the leave. Once the restored leave is used, it may not be changed.

Caution

Employees and leave-approving officials should pay special attention to current year leave balances when employees use restored leave, in order to prevent placing employees in another possible forfeit of "use or lose" leave situation (or restored leave request situation).

RESTORED ANNUAL LEAVE

Missing Employees

Active employees are in a missing status when they are determined to be absent in a status of missing, missing in action, interned in a foreign country, captured by hostile forces, or detained in foreign country against their will.

Former missing employees may elect to receive payment for their forfeited leave or to have that leave restored to them. A written request for either must be filed within 90 days immediately following the termination of their missing status.

If payment for forfeited leave is elected, it shall be paid at the employee's rate of basic pay in effect at the time of forfeit. If restored leave is elected, OPM shall prescribe the time limit for use in each case, taking into consideration the amount of the restored leave and other relevant factors.

Employee Separates

Separating employees who have an unused restored leave balance are paid a lump-sum at the current hourly rate for all unused leave at the time of separation. If there is a general pay increase, lump-sum leave pay will be adjusted to include the higher rate for that period of time covered by leave which would have been used after the increase.

Lump-sum payments may also be adjusted to collect any debts owed to the Government.

Procedures for Requesting Restoration of Annual Leave

The following procedures should be used in conjunction with your OPDIV's policy and procedures:

1. Employees, or any level of management below the approving official, may submit requests for restoration of forfeited annual leave to the appointed individual within your OPDIV. Requests must be in writing and must include the following information:
 - Date of employee request;
 - Employee name and Social Security number;
 - Employee timekeeper number;
 - Number of hours of annual leave to be restored; and
 - Justification for the request.

1. (cont.)

Requests should also have a space for:

- Date of restoration;
- Approval or disapproval;
- Approving official's signature and title;
- Date approved or disapproved.

2. Attach copies of all required documentation to the request and submit the package to the OPDIV appointed person for consideration.
3. If the request is approved, the approving official must sign and date the approval which must then be forwarded to your Servicing Personnel Office (SPO) for processing.

A blank example of a request for restoring leave is shown at the end of this section. If approved by your OPDIV, this form may be used.

Documents Required

A copy of the approved leave request (SF-71 or other written documentation) which shows the date of the application for leave, calendar dates and amount of annual leave scheduled, date of approval, and signature of the leave-approving official should be attached to all requests.

Additional documentation, as listed below, which supports the justification is also required and must be attached to the request.

- a. If restoration is requested because of an administrative error, the documentation must:
 - Describe the event that caused the error.
 - Show dates of the event.
 - Show amount of leave forfeited as a result of the error.
 - Include official statements attesting to the events and to the amount of forfeited leave.

- b. If restoration is requested because of an exigency of public business, the documentation must include a copy of the exigency determination and any other facts which support action taken including:
- The reason for determination that exigency was of major significance requiring that employee could not be released from duty during the period of the exigency.
 - The reason there was no alternative to the cancellation of leave.
 - The reason that the employee who forfeited leave was affected by work requirement generated by exigency.
 - The reason that another employee could not do the work.
 - If exigency terminated before the end of the leave year, the efforts made, if any, to reschedule the cancelled annual leave, including:
 - date of the rescheduling of the cancelled leave,
 - the date(s) on which the leave was rescheduled for use and amount of leave that was rescheduled, and
 - reason why not all of the cancelled leave was rescheduled or used.

Reminder: An exigency determination document must include:

- The date of determination that the exigency existed;
 - A description of the nature of the exigency; and
 - The beginning and ending dates of the exigency.
- c. If restoration is requested because of illness which precluded the use of annual leave, documentation must include:
- Beginning date of illness and date employee was determined to be recovered and able to return to duty (Include a copy of the medical certificate.).
 - Type of leave used and number of hours charged.

c. (cont.)

- If illness terminated before the end of the leave year, efforts made, if any to reschedule the cancelled annual leave, including:
 - The date of rescheduling of the cancelled leave;
 - The dates on which the leave was rescheduled for use and the amount of leave that was rescheduled, and
 - Reason why not all of the cancelled leave was rescheduled or used.
- If an exigency precluded the rescheduling and use of the cancelled annual leave following the illness, include the information in item b above.
- Any other documentation which supports action taken.

Important

Requests for approval of restoration of annual leave must be signed by your OPDIV's approving official and then submitted to your SPO so that a special restored leave account may be established.

Until a restored leave account has been established by your SPO for the employee, the restored leave may not be used. Timekeepers may not enter the use of restored annual leave into a time and attendance record until a balance shows on the employee's OS-340.

Note: Restored annual may be donated under the Voluntary Leave Transfer Program (VLTP).

Caution

Just because forfeited annual leave may be considered for restoration does not mean that it will be restored.

If it is approved for restoration, the SPO or Payroll Liaison will establish a restored leave account and notify the employee and timekeeper of the decision and the balance.

Employees with restored leave balances must use the restored leave by the last day of the second leave year following the year containing the date your leave was restored or it will be forfeited. Employees must specify on the written leave request (SF-71 or other approved form) that they wish to use restored leave. Once the leave is used, it may not be changed.

Employees and their leave-approving officials are responsible for ensuring that restored annual leave is charged accordingly. If your appointment is terminated before your restored leave account balance is totally used, we will authorize payment for any remaining unused balance. Payment will be included in your lump sum payment.

If you have any questions concerning your account, please contact your leave-approving official. More specific information, including documentation required, may be found in the HHS GUIDE FOR TIMEKEEPING, Chapter 4.

CHANGING ANNUAL LEAVE TO SICK LEAVE AND VICE VERSA

Rules

1. Annual leave must not be changed or substituted retroactively for regular sick leave to avoid forfeiture of annual leave at the close of the leave year, or for any other reason.

MILITARY LEAVE

Introduction	Military leave is the authorized absence of an employee from official duty to perform active military duty, active duty for training, or law enforcement. Military leave is not authorized for inactive duty training (usually weekend drills). Note: For military funerals, see "Administrative Leave - Funeral" in this chapter.
Eligibility	Full-time and part-time employees with permanent or temporary indefinite appointments who are members of the National Guard or the Armed Forces Reserves are eligible for military leave. Part-time employees must have a scheduled tour of duty of 16 to 32 hours a week. See the table following this section for detailed information.
Requirement	Employees called to military duty must furnish a copy of their military orders, or a statement from their commanding officers, to their leave-approving officials when requesting military leave. The copy must remain on file for six years. Leave is approved and charged according to the days and dates as specified on the military orders.
Types of Military Leave	There are three types of military leave, and the rules and regulations are different for each one. The three types are: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Regular military leave;• Special military leave; and• Military leave for parades and encampments.
Military Leave Exhausted	After military leave is exhausted, annual leave or leave without pay must be granted to reservists and National Guard members for military duties.

MILITARY LEAVE

Regular Military Leave

Regular military leave is used for active duty or active duty for training.

- Full-time employees are entitled to 15 calendar days of regular military leave in a fiscal year. A fiscal year runs from October 1 to September 30.
 - For part-time employees, the regular military leave entitlement is prorated by multiplying the scheduled number of hours in the employee's work week by 15 (the maximum number of days per year), and then dividing that number by 40 (the number of hours in a regular work week). For example, an employee who works 32 hours a week is entitled to 12 days of regular military leave per fiscal year (i.e. $32 \times 15 = 480$, divided by $40 = 12$).
 - For members of the National Guard, the active duty or active duty for training must be for the Federal Government and not just for the State.
 - Leave is charged in increments of one day, including nonwork days (holidays, off days, weekends, etc.) falling within the period of absence on military duty. The fact that more than one set of orders may be involved is not sufficient reason to consider a continuous period of absence as separate periods of military duty. Nonwork days falling at the beginning or end of military leave are not included in the period of military leave.
 - Employees may use up to 30 days of regular military leave (if available) in any fiscal year, during one or more periods of military duty during the fiscal year.
 - A maximum of 15 days (or prorated earnings for part-time employees) of unused regular military leave may be carried over from one fiscal year to the next.
 - Employees may use the full 15 days at the beginning of the fiscal year, even if the maximum of 30 days of military leave had been used during the prior fiscal year, and even if the military service is continuous.

MILITARY LEAVE

Special Military Leave

Special military leave is used for the purpose of providing military aid to enforce the law or for the purpose of providing assistance to civil authorities in the protection or saving of life or property or the prevention of injury, (i.e., riots, severe weather, and natural disasters).

- Maximum entitlement shall not exceed 22 work days (176 hours) per calendar year.
- Leave is charged in the same increments as annual and sick leave.
- Special military leave may be used in addition to regular military leave.
- Unused portions of 22 work days may not be carried over to the next calendar year.

Military Leave for Parades and Encampments

Military leave for parades and encampments is used by members of the National Guard of the District of Columbia (D.C.) for all days of a parade or encampment ordered.

- Leave is charged in increments of one day.
- Entitlement is unlimited.
- Military leave for parades and encampments may be used in addition to regular military leave and special military leave.
- Leave is not subject to carryover.

Leave Without Pay - Military

Leave without pay - military leave is a long-term absence and is unpaid. When an employee leaves a regular government job for full-time service in the Armed Forces, he or she goes on LWOP - Military, not military leave. This requires a personnel action.

MILITARY LEAVE

Use the following table as a quick reference for military leave details.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE

Introduction

Administrative leave is excused absence from duty, administratively authorized, without loss of pay and without charge to leave. It is also referred to as excused absence. Administrative leave is not earned. It is granted at the discretion of the OPDIV, or the official with the delegated authority, for reasonable periods of time for a variety of special situations.

Check with your OPDIV for supervisory limits and delegated authorities on granting administrative leave.

Administrative Leave Situations

Situations where excused absence may be authorized include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Attendance at administrative hearings;
- Blood donations;
- Holidays for part-time employees (See Chapter 11.);
- Medical examinations or treatments in connection with an application for disability retirement initiated by the Department, or for absence on the day of an on-the-job injury;
- Registration for military service;
- Participation in civil defense activities;
- Voting and registration;
- Job interviews and other out-placement activities when it is determined that it is in the Department's interest (Downsizing is the most common example.); or
- Inclement weather or closure of work place. (See Chapter 8.)

Bone-Marrow or Organ Donors

In addition to annual and sick leave, employees who serve as bone-marrow or organ/tissue donors are entitled to a maximum of 7 days of excused absence for these purposes.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE

Caution - Official Time

Official time is not excused absence, but there may be situations where an employee is authorized to use official time to perform activities other than his/her normal duties. The distinction can be very important because, for example, an employee injured while on excused absence may not be entitled to benefits under the Federal Employees' Compensation Act (FECA), while an employee injured while on official time may be covered.

Official time is included on the employee's record as regular hours worked and is not entered as administrative leave.

Examples of situations where supervisors may authorize official time include, but are not limited to, the following:

- For an employee serving as a labor organization representative. Must be properly documented and approved. See applicable negotiated agreements;
 - For an employee meeting with an equal opportunity counselor or an employee assistance staff for counseling; or
 - For employees to participate in fitness activities to help them meet job-related medical standards or physical requirements.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE - Court Leave

Court Leave

Court leave is the authorized absence of an employee from official duty for attendance at court and other judicial proceedings, either as a juror or, in certain circumstances as a witness, without charge to other leave or loss of pay.

Court leave is granted to permanent and temporary employees, both full-time and part-time, for serving in a nonofficial capacity for:

- a. Jury duty with a Federal, District of Columbia, State or local court;
- b. Witness duty on behalf of a State or local government; or
- c. Witness duty on behalf of a private party when the Federal or District of Columbia government, or State or local government, is a party to the judicial proceeding.

Intermittent employees may not be granted court leave.

Employees on leave without pay may not be granted court leave.

A night shift employee who is eligible for court leave and who is in court during the day is granted court leave for the night shift. The employee is entitled to the night shift differential.

When an employee is required to serve on a jury or as a witness while on annual leave, the leave-approving official must substitute court leave if the employee is eligible.

Court leave is granted only for the days, or portions of days, of an employee's scheduled tour of duty on which the employee performs court service.

Jury Duty

It is Department policy to request exemption of an employee from jury duty only in those rare cases where the employee's absence would seriously handicap the work of the Department. In such cases, the supervisor should prepare a written statement which clearly relates how the work of the Department would be adversely affected and request exemption from the appropriate court authority. Employees may request exemptions for compelling personal reasons on their own initiative.

When excused from jury duty for a day or a part of a day, an employee must return to work if dismissed early enough to return more than 2 hours before the tour of duty is over. The official authorized to grant court leave may continue the employee on court leave for the rest of the day in such cases only if the official determines that return to work would constitute a hardship for the employee.

Witness Duty

Attendance at judicial proceedings as a witness in an official capacity is considered official duty and no leave of any kind is charged. If an employee is summoned by the court or authority, or assigned by the Department, to testify in a nonofficial capacity on behalf of the United States government or that of the District of Columbia, it is considered official duty. Travel expenses for court attendance may be authorized in situations where the employee is considered to be performing official duty.

Court leave may be granted to an employee who is testifying in a nonofficial capacity on behalf of a State or local government.

Court leave may be granted to an employee who is testifying in a nonofficial capacity on behalf of a private party when the United States or District of Columbia Government or a State or local government is a party to the proceeding.

Court leave may not be granted to an employee who appears as a witness on his/her own behalf if such a suit is filed by that employee or if the employee is the defendant in the suit. For absences for this purpose, the employee may request annual leave or leave without pay.

Court leave may not be granted to an employee who is testifying in a nonofficial capacity in a court suit between private individuals or companies. He/she may request annual leave or leave without pay.

Subpoena, Court Order, or Summons

An employee who is called for court service, either as a witness or juror, must present the court order, subpoena, or summons to the leave-approving official. A copy of the order, subpoena, or summons must be maintained in the time and attendance file for six years.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE - Court Leave

Certificate of Attendance

On return to duty after court leave, the employee must submit written evidence of court attendance, such as a marshall's statement or a certificate of attendance from the court, to the leave-approving official. A copy of the evidence of court attendance must be maintained in the time and attendance file for six years.

Fees and Expense Money

Fees received for jury duty or witness service cannot be retained by the employee when court leave is granted, or when an employee is on official duty. The employee should accept such fees and submit them to the appropriate HHS finance office.

Fees received may be retained if they are for service outside the regular tour of duty or on a non-workday or holiday. Fees may also be retained if they are for service as a nonofficial witness in a court suit between private individuals or companies, since the employee is not on court leave or official duty in such a situation.

Expense Money - Not all monies received for jury or witness service are classified as fees. Some government entities provide "expense money" which is considered reimbursement for expenses incurred while serving as a juror or witness. Expense money received may be retained by the employee.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE - Court Leave

Table

Use the following table as a quick reference for using and/or approving court leave:

IF THE EMPLOYEE IS...	THEN THE EMPLOYEE IS ON...
On jury duty	Court leave
A witness in any official capacity	Official duty
A witness on behalf of the U.S. or D.C. government, either official or nonofficial	Official duty
A witness on behalf of a state or local government, in a nonofficial capacity	Court leave
A witness on behalf of a private party when the U.S., D.C., state, or local government is a party in the suit	Court leave
A witness on behalf of a private party when the U.S., D.C. or state government is not a party in the suit	Annual leave or leave without pay
A witness on his/her own behalf in a court suit filed by the employee, or when the employee is the defendant	Annual leave or leave without pay
A court suit between private individuals or companies	Annual leave or leave without pay

Reminder: Intermittent employees and employees on leave without pay may not be granted court leave.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE - Funeral

Funeral Leave

Funeral Leave is excused absence (administrative leave) which may be granted to employees to make arrangements for, or to attend a funeral or memorial service for:

- An immediate family member who was an active member of the Armed Forces whose death resulted from wounds, disease, or injury incurred while in a combat zone.

The maximum excused absence which may be granted for funeral leave in the above instance is three workdays per occurrence.

Excused absence for funeral leave may also be granted to a veteran to enable him/her to participate in a military funeral as an active pallbearer or as a member of a firing squad or guard of honor. The maximum excused absence allowed in this instance may not exceed four hours in any one day.

In all other cases, annual leave or leave without pay may be granted for funeral leave.

Within certain limitations under the Family Friendly Leave Act, sick leave may also be granted for funerals. See the Sick Leave section for these limitations.

Proof that the employee is entitled to excused absence for funeral leave may also be required.

Note: There is no annual limit on the amount of funeral leave used.

Funerals - Federal Law Enforcement Officers and Firefighters

Federal law enforcement officers or Federal firefighters may be excused from duty to attend the funeral of a fellow Federal law enforcement officer or Federal firefighter who was killed in the line of duty.

Attendance at such a service is considered official duty and is, therefore, recorded as regular hours.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE - Home Leave

Introduction

Home leave is a special category of leave which is earned by employees who serve abroad, in addition to annual leave, and is for use in the United States, in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or in the territories or possessions of the United States.

Service abroad is service on and after September 6, 1960, at a post of duty outside the United States and outside the employee's place of residence, if his place of residence is in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico or a territory or possession of the United States.

Note: Service abroad begins on the date of the employee's arrival at a post of duty outside the U.S., or on the date of his entrance on duty when recruited abroad. It ends on the date of the employee's departure from the post, or on the date of his separation from duty when separated abroad.

Overseas employees eligible to accumulate up to 45 days of annual leave are entitled to earn home leave.

Rules

To use home leave, employees must meet the following conditions:

- Employee must have completed a basic service period of 24 months of continuous service abroad;
- Employee must return to duty abroad;
- Home leave must be used within the U.S., the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or a territory or possession of the U.S.; and
- Home leave must be used during an employee's period of service abroad, or within a reasonable period after his return from service abroad when it is contemplated that he will return to service abroad immediately or on completion of an assignment in the U.S.

Home leave may not be used as terminal leave (leave granted immediately prior to separation from Federal service).

Unused home leave is not included in lump-sum leave payments.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE - Home Leave

Using Home Leave

Home leave is used in increments of 1 day. A full day is subtracted from the home leave balance for each day, or portion of a day, that an employee is absent.

Earning Rate

Home leave is earned in increments of 1 day. For each 12 months of service, employees earn home leave at the following rates:

An employee who accepts an appointment to, or occupies, a position which requires that the incumbent accept assignments anywhere in the world as the needs of the agency dictate - 15 days.

Service with a U.S. mission to a public international organization - 15 days.

Service at a post with a differential (not tropical) of 20 percent or more - 15 days.

Service at a post with a differential (not tropical) of 10 to 19 percent - 10 days.

All other overseas employees - 5 days.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE - Time-Off Award

Time-Off Award

A time-off award is an incentive award granted to an employee that allows an excused absence from duty without charge to leave or loss of pay. These awards are granted to employees in recognition of a contribution to the quality, efficiency, or economy of Government operations.

Granting Time Off

OPDIVs may authorize supervisors to grant time-off awards without further review or approval for periods not to exceed 1 workday.

Each determination to grant a time-off award for periods of more than 1 workday, including the amount of such an award, shall be reviewed and approved by an official who is at a higher level than the official who made the initial decision (unless there is no higher level official).

SF-50

When an employee receives a time-off award, a Personnel Action (SF-50) authorizing the employee's entitlement to the Time Off Award will be processed, stating the number of time-off leave hours granted.

The employee must provide a copy of the SF-50 to the timekeeper as supporting documentation for any time-off leave hours used.

Using Time-Off Leave

To use time-off leave, employees follow the usual procedures established by the OPDIV, using the SF-71 or other documentation as determined by the OPDIV to request leave.

Timekeepers must record the use of time-off leave and maintain the balance to ensure that the number of hours used equals the number specified on the SF-50.

Unused Time-Off Leave

There is no time limit for using time-off-award leave. However, if an employee separates, transfers, or retires without using the time-off leave, it will be lost. The law prohibits converting time-off leave to a cash payment under any circumstances.

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT

Family and Medical Leave Act

To be eligible for leave under the FMLA, full-time or part-time employees must have completed at least 12-months of service (not required to be 12 recent or consecutive months).

In addition to other leave to which employees may be entitled, the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) provides full-time Federal employees with a total of 12 administrative workweeks of unpaid leave during any 12-month period for:

- a. the birth of a son or daughter of the employee and care of the newborn;
- b. the placement of a son or daughter with the employee for adoption or foster care;
- c. the care of a spouse, son, daughter, or parent of the employee with a serious health condition; or
- d. a serious health condition of the employee that makes the employee unable to perform any one or more of the essential functions of his or her position.

If agreed to by the employee and the OPDIV, and when medically necessary, leave may be used intermittently or at a reduced schedule. Supporting medical certification may be required.

Leave entitlement for part-time employees equals 12 times the average number of hours in an employee's regularly scheduled workweek. (If the number of hours varies from week to week, a weekly average of the hours scheduled over the 12 weeks prior to the date leave commences shall be used as the basis for this calculation.)

Example: A part-time employee works 30 hours per week, 60 hours per pay period. Entitlement would be twelve 30-hour weeks of unpaid leave during any 12-month period under FMLA.

Invoking FMLA

Employees must invoke their entitlement to FMLA leave. Leave must be requested in writing, stating that the leave is for use under FMLA.

Employees may not invoke entitlement to FMLA leave retroactively for any previous absence from work.

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT

Advance Notice	Employees must provide 30 days advance written notice of intent to use FMLA leave before it is to begin, or as soon as practicable, except in cases of medical emergency or the unexpected availability of a child for adoption or foster care.
Medical Certification	When a request for FMLA leave is for a medical problem, OPDIVs may require that appropriate medical certification be provided. Certification information shall relate only to the serious health condition of the employee, or the family member, for which the current need for FMLA leave exists, including the date the serious health condition began, probable duration, and a general statement as to the incapacitation, examination, treatment required, or amount of time needed. Confidential or personal information should not be included.
Substituting Paid Leave	Employees may elect to substitute annual leave or sick leave, or advanced annual or sick leave, consistent with current laws and regulations, for any unpaid leave under the FMLA. Compensatory time earned and/or credit hours earned may not be substituted for leave used under the FMLA. However, compensatory time and/or credit hours may be used in addition to leave used under the FMLA.
Benefits and Protection	Employees retain their health benefits coverage during the entire period they are on FMLA leave. They may pay the employee share of the premiums on a current basis, or pay upon return to work. Upon return from FMLA leave, employees must be returned to the same positions, or to equivalent positions, with equivalent benefits, pay, status, and other terms and conditions of employment.
Records and Reports	OPDIVs must maintain accurate records tracking the use of leave used under the Family and Medical Leave Act, and report such information as required by OPM for the purpose of evaluating the program.

Chapter 5. Unpaid Leave

OVERVIEW

Introduction

When employees are on unpaid leave they are not in a pay status. Types of unpaid leave include:

- Leave without pay (LWOP);
- Absence without leave (AWOL);
- Suspension; and
- Furlough.

Differentials and Overtime

Employees do not receive pay or differentials for the time they are absent from their jobs in an unpaid status.

Overtime and hours in an unpaid status during the same administrative work week generally require substitution of the overtime hours for the unpaid leave hours.

Effects of Unpaid Leave

In addition to the loss of pay, excessive use of unpaid leave will also have an adverse effect on leave accruals, payment of health benefits, service computation dates (SCD), and within-grade increases. See the next section for leave accrual reduction. Check with your servicing personnel office on health benefits, SCDs, and within-grade increases.

Leave Reduction

Year to date AWOL plus LWOP plus Suspension is totaled each pay period to compute leave reduction. For any pay period in which they accumulate 80 hours, or multiples of 80 hours (i.e. 160, 240, etc.), in a non-pay status, full-time employees lose their annual and sick leave accrual. When this occurs, the Central System will not accrue the annual and sick leave for that particular pay period. Leave balances on earnings and leave statements will reflect the non-accrual.

Note: Any balances of unpaid leave hours used are dropped at the end of each leave year. Employees begin each new leave year with a zero balance in unpaid leave categories.

OVERVIEW

Time Absent

If an employee is absent on unpaid leave for less than a day, you must record the time the leave began and the time the leave ended. Adjust the time absent to the closest 15-minute increment, unless your OPDIV has established a different minimum leave charge.

Meal Break

If part of the absence includes a meal break, adjust the time to account for the break. Example:

If an employee who ordinarily takes a ½ hour lunch break between 12:00 noon to 2:00 p.m. is absent from 12:00 noon to 2:00 p.m.,

- charge leave from 12:30 p.m. to 2:00 p.m., allowing time for the ½ hour lunch break.

Holiday Pay

Employees who are in a nonpay status immediately before and after a holiday are not entitled to pay for the holiday. In other words, if employees are on AWOL, LWOP, or Suspension:

- The last hour (or ¼ hour) they are scheduled to work before the holiday, AND
- The first hour (or ¼ hour) they are to report to work after the holiday.

they must be charged AWOL, LWOP, or Suspension, as appropriate, for the holiday.

If they are in a pay status either the last hour (or ¼ hour) they are scheduled to work before the holiday, or the first hour (or ¼ hour) they are to report to work after the holiday, employees do receive holiday pay.

Caution: Employees must not be returned to pay status either the day before of the day after a holiday for the sole purpose of getting paid for the holiday.

LEAVE WITHOUT PAY

Introduction

Leave without pay (LWOP) is approved absence for which the employee is not paid. LWOP must be requested by the employee.

An employee is eligible for LWOP regardless of length of service or annual and sick leave balances.

Employees must submit a written application to the supervisor before using LWOP. If, for emergency reasons, that is impossible, the supervisor must collect a written application when the employee returns to work.

Note: See the next page for information on Extended LWOP.

Important

Except for specific situations such as the Family and Medical Leave Act, employees do not have a right to LWOP. Management has the discretion to determine whether requests for LWOP will be approved.

LWOP must not be granted when absence without leave (AWOL) is appropriate. If a request was not approved, or not made, and the employee is absent, he or she is then absent without leave (AWOL).

If an employee has followed the proper procedures for requesting leave and provides acceptable evidence, the supervisor must grant a request for LWOP if the employee:

- Is a disabled veteran seeking treatment required in connection with the disability; or
- Has suffered an incapacitating job-related injury or illness, has exhausted any available continuation of pay, and is awaiting adjudication of a Workers Compensation claim.

Charging LWOP

Charge LWOP in 1/4-hour units (15-minute increments), unless your OPDIV has established a minimum leave charge of 1/2 hour or 1 hour.

There is no limit to the amount of LWOP that can be charged, as long as it does not exceed the tour for the pay period. Excessive use of LWOP does, however, have adverse effects on leave accruals, etc.

EXTENDED LEAVE WITHOUT PAY

Extended LWOP

If an employee requests more than 30 days of LWOP, it is called extended leave without pay. This extended LWOP requires a personnel action (SF-50).

Reasons for extended LWOP include, but are not limited to:

- Recovery from an illness or disability;
- Fulfillment of family responsibilities (e.g., to care for an elderly parent or sick child);
- Protection or improvement of health;
- Protection of status and benefit eligibility pending final action on claims for disability retirement or injury compensation;
- For educational purposes, when the course of study or research is in line with work being performed by the Department; and
- Furtherance of a program of interest to the government (e.g., Peace Corps, Presidential Executive Exchange Program, etc).

Requirement

Timekeepers must continue to submit T&A data at the end of each pay period for an employee who is on extended LWOP, even though he or she has been officially removed from a pay status.

ABSENCE WITHOUT LEAVE

Introduction

Absence without leave (AWOL) is unpaid leave charged when:

- An employee is absent without permission or approval; or
- An employee has not notified his/her supervisor of the absence;
- An employee has not provided satisfactory explanation or documentation for the absence from duty.

A timekeeper does not have the authority to grant leave. Therefore, when it cannot be determined that leave has been approved for an employee, the proper charge for the absence is AWOL, not LWOP.

An AWOL charge may be changed later to an appropriate type of leave, if the leave-approving official determines that the employee has satisfactorily explained the absence or presented acceptable documentation. The leave approving official will inform the timekeeper when an employee is AWOL.

Requirement

A written application for AWOL is never appropriate.

If LWOP and AWOL are both involved, use the written application for leave to determine how much time is LWOP. The balance is AWOL.

SUSPENSION

Introduction

Suspension is the placement of an employee in a temporary status without duties and without pay for disciplinary or other reasons.

Requirement

An SF-50B, Notification of Personnel Action, must be processed for a suspended employee. One must also be processed to return the employee to duty after suspension.

Employees who are suspended are entitled to appeal the suspension through an applicable grievance procedure or to the Merit Systems Protection Board. Accordingly, appropriate documentation pertaining to each suspension and the return to duty (SF-50s, etc.) must be maintained.

Pay

Employees are not paid while they are suspended. This means that they do not receive any money, including differentials or premium pay or any other form of pay, for the days on suspension.

FURLOUGH

Introduction

A furlough is the placement of an employee in a temporary status without duties and pay because of lack of work or funds or other non-disciplinary reasons. For example, a furlough is sometimes due to sequestration or lapsed appropriations. Furloughs are not considered to be a break-in-service. A furlough can be either:

- Continuous (without a break); or
- Discontinuous (e.g., 1 day per week for 22 weeks).

Requirement

An SF-50, Notification of Personnel Action, must be prepared for each individual subject to furlough.

A return to duty SF-50 is required for employees returning from continuous furloughs. An SF-50 is not required for employees returning from discontinuous furloughs.

Holidays

Employees may be furloughed for periods of time that include holidays. As a general rule, an employee is entitled to pay for a holiday as long as he or she is in a pay status either the workday preceding a holiday or the workday following a holiday. However, if an employee is on furlough the last hour (or ¼ hour) of the day before the holiday and the first hour (or ¼ hour) after the holiday, he or she is not paid for the holiday.

Reminder: Pay status is any day for which an employee is entitled to receive pay, including leave and holidays.

Note: Furloughs will not normally start or end on a holiday.

Continuation of Pay (COP)

Furloughs do not interrupt or terminate continuation of pay (COP). For information about COP, see Chapter 6.

SUBSTITUTING OVERTIME FOR UNPAID LEAVE

Overview

By law, employees who work more than 8 hours on any given day, and/or 40 hours in any week, must be paid overtime for that day and/or week. However, because employees must be in a pay status for 8 hours a day and/or 40 hours a week, those who use unpaid leave must substitute approved overtime hours to cover the time in a nonpay status - before they may be paid overtime. This time is recorded under substitute hours. Substitute hours are actually regular hours worked.

Before overtime hours may be recorded and paid, regular hours plus substitute hours must equal 40 for the administrative workweek.

Exception: As stated above, an employee who works more than 8 hours on any given day must be paid overtime for that day. Therefore, if an employee works more than 8 hours in a day, he/she must be paid overtime for the number of hours over 8 for that day, even though he/she has not worked 40 hours in the administrative workweek. These overtime hours would then not count toward the required total of 40 regular hours.

Note: For non-standard tours, such as a compressed work schedule, employees must be paid overtime for any hours worked over their regularly scheduled daily tours (i.e., hours over 9, 10, or the applicable number of hours).

See examples on next page.

Pay Rate

Substitute hours are paid at the employee's regular hourly rate, not the overtime rate.

Same Administrative Workweek

If unpaid leave is used, any overtime hours worked during the same administrative workweek must be substituted for the unpaid leave hours in that workweek (up to 8 hours a day and/or 40 hours a week) before any overtime hours are paid.

Different Administrative Workweek

Overtime hours in one administrative workweek cannot be substituted for unpaid leave used in a different administrative workweek, even if the weeks are during the same pay period.

SUBSTITUTING OVERTIME FOR UNPAID LEAVE

Examples

Example 1: Phyllis works 8 hours a day (40 hours a week), Monday through Friday, with a 30 minute lunch break each day. In Week 2, she was approved to work 12 hours of overtime (2 hours each day Wednesday through Friday, and 6 hours on Saturday).

Phyllis worked her regular schedule during Week 1. However, in Week 2 she used 8 hours LWOP on Monday. She did work the overtime as approved, but her total overtime paid is only 6 hours.

Clarification: In Week 2, Phyllis did work the approved 12 hours overtime, but she also used 8 hours of LWOP. Since her total regular hours worked was 32 instead of the required 40, she needed another 8 hours for the week. The 6 hours overtime worked on Saturday then had to be substituted for LWOP, giving her a total of 38 regular hours for the week paid at her regular rate of pay.

She is paid at the overtime rate of pay for the 2 hours worked each day Wednesday through Friday. Because she worked more than 8 hours on these days, Phyllis must be paid at the overtime rate (even though she did not have 40 hours for the week).

Example 2: Robert works 8 hours a day (40 hours a week), Monday through Friday, with a 30 minute lunch break each day. In Week 2, he was approved to work 16 hours of overtime (2 hours each day Tuesday through Friday, and 8 hours on Saturday).

In both workweeks, Robert used 8 hours of LWOP on Monday. He worked his regular schedule the rest of the pay period, plus the 16 overtime hours as approved. His total overtime paid is 8 hours.

Clarification: Robert did work the approved 16 hours overtime in Week 2. However, he also used 8 hours LWOP that week, giving him a total of 32 regular hours in a pay status. The 8 overtime hours worked on Saturday then had to be substituted for the LWOP hours, giving him a total of 40 regular hours for the week.

In Week 1, no overtime hours can be substituted for LWOP because it is a different administrative workweek than the one in which overtime hours were worked. Also, even if hours could be substituted, the 2 worked each day Tuesday through Friday, Week 2, must be paid at the overtime rate because Robert worked over 8 hours each day.

SUBSTITUTING OVERTIME FOR UNPAID LEAVE

Examples

Example 3: Jane works 8 hours a day (40 hours a week), Monday through Friday, with a 30 minute lunch break each day. In Week 1, she was approved to work 14 hours of overtime (2 hours each day Wednesday and Thursday, and 10 hours on Saturday).

In Week 1, Jane worked her regular schedule Monday through 12:00 noon on Friday. She then used 4 hours LWOP for the balance of the day on Friday. She worked the overtime as approved.

In Week 2, Jane worked her regular schedule. Her total overtime pay for the pay period was 10 hours.

Clarification: In Week 1, although Jane did work the approved 14 hours overtime, she also used 4 hours of LWOP on Friday, giving her a total of 36 regular hours for the week. Of the 10 hours worked on Saturday, 4 were substituted for the LWOP hours used on Friday. The other 6 hours worked on Saturday were paid as overtime because they were over the required weekly total of 40.

The extra 2 hours worked each day on Wednesday and Thursday were paid at the overtime rate. They cannot be substituted for LWOP hours, and Jane must be paid overtime for these hours, because any hours over 8 in a day must be paid at the overtime rate.

Example 4: Curtis works 10 hours a day (40 hours a week), Monday through Thursday, with a 30 minute lunch break each day. He was approved to work 20 hours of overtime (10 hours each Friday of the pay period).

Curtis worked his regular schedule Monday through Wednesday, both weeks, plus the approved 20 hours overtime as scheduled. On Thursday, both weeks, he used 10 hours LWOP.

Curtis is not paid any overtime hours.

Clarification: The overtime worked both Fridays must be used to substitute for the LWOP hours Curtis used both Thursdays in order for him to reach a total of 40 hours per week.

Curtis is not entitled to any overtime pay.

Chapter 6. Continuation of Pay

CONTINUATION OF PAY

Introduction

Continuation of pay (COP) is time off for work-related injuries when claims under the Federal Employees Compensation Act are pending. Employees are eligible for COP when they are absent from work due to a job-related injury or medical treatment for a job-related injury.

Employees may receive up to 45 calendar days of paid COP leave for each traumatic injury suffered on the job.

Definition

Traumatic injury is a wound or other condition caused by an accident at the workplace during working hours. It does not include occupational disease or illness.

Differentials and Premium Pay

Employees absent on COP do earn night and shift differential, and premium pay, as if they had worked their normal tour. Exceptions: They do not earn Sunday differential or overtime pay while on COP.

Holiday Worked

If employees are in a position in which they are normally required to work all of the holidays that fall within their normal tour of duty, they are to be paid holiday premium pay for any holidays that fall within the period of COP. These hours are reported as COP holiday.

Time Limitations

Use of COP days must be tracked to ensure that no more than 45 calendar days are used for each injury. All COP must be used within 90 days after the employee's initial return to work after the injury.

If the employee returns to work with any of the 45 days of COP remaining, it may be used as necessary for medical appointments or recurring disability related to the injury - as long as use of COP begins within 90 days after the employee's initial return to work. If the employee does not use, or begin to use, the remaining COP leave within 90 days after the initial return to work, the leave is forfeited.

CONTINUATION OF PAY

Requirements

The employee, or someone acting on the employee's behalf, must complete a Form CA-1, Federal Employee's Notice of Traumatic Injury and Claim for Continuation of Pay/Compensation, and submit it to the official superior as soon as possible, but no later than 30 days after the date of injury.

Medical evidence of a traumatic disabling injury must be submitted to the employing agency within 10 work days after claiming COP. Non- receipt of medical evidence is sufficient reason for termination of COP.

Copies of the CA-1 and the medical certification stating the beginning and ending dates of disability, or partial disability, must be maintained in the time and attendance file for 6 years. Check with your servicing personnel office for agency policies and procedures, as well as for Forms CA-1.

COP applies to every calendar day including days that the employee does not normally work until his or her return to work. An employee is on COP, including the final Saturday and Sunday, up to the day that the doctor's certificate states the employee can return to duty.

Day of Injury

Unless the injury occurs before the beginning of the work day, COP begins the day after the injury occurs. On the day of the injury, any absence due to the injury must be charged to administrative leave. Record the regular hours worked on the day of injury as usual. Record the actual time absent on the day of injury as administrative leave.

Annual or Sick Leave and LWOP Substitutions

An employee may elect to use annual or sick leave instead of claiming continuation of pay. However, the 3 day time limit referred to in the next section, "After 45 Days or When COP Is Depleted", does not begin to run until the use of annual or sick leave ends.

The use of annual or sick leave may not be used to delay or extend the 45-day continuation of pay period or to otherwise affect the time limitations. Therefore, where annual or sick leave is used during a period when COP is otherwise payable, each day for which leave is taken will be counted against the 45 days of entitlement as though the employee had been in a continuation of pay status.

CONTINUATION OF PAY

After 45 Days or When COP Is Depleted

When employees are disabled for work beyond 45 calendar days and desire compensation, they may elect to use their sick and/or annual leave to avoid interruption of pay, or they may use leave without pay.

After the use of the 45 day entitlement, a claim may be filed with the Department of Labor for paid compensation based on loss of wages. This compensation is payable only after the employee has been in a non-pay status (LWOP) for 3 days beyond the 45th day of COP.

Charging COP

Employees are charged 1 full day of COP against the 45-day COP balance for every day absent after the day of the injury. This is true even if the employee is:

- Intermittent or part-time;
- Works a compressed or flexible work schedule; or
- Is absent for only part of the day.

If an employee is absent the entire day on COP, charge COP tour hours for the number of hours that the employee was scheduled to work (i.e. 8 for an 8 hour day, 9 for a 9 hour day, etc.). For every partial day absent, record the actual hours absent on the T&A record. In either case, 1 full day must be subtracted from the COP balance.

When an employee is on continuous COP, days on which the employee is not scheduled to work (e.g., Saturdays, Sundays, holidays) are considered as non-tour COP days. On these non-tour days, regardless of the number of hours the employee would usually work on tour days, charge 8 hours of COP. For every day absent, 1 full day must be subtracted from the COP balance.

When an employee returns to work and uses the remaining COP leave for therapy, medical treatments, or doctor's appointments, the actual hours absent should be recorded on the T&A record. These hours are reported to the Department of Labor. One full day of COP must be deducted from the COP balance.

All absences beyond the 45 day limit for COP must be charged to another type of leave (annual leave, sick leave, LWOP, etc.). If the employee has used all available COP leave for a particular injury, he or she must request another type of leave in writing for any remaining needs. Charge only the exact number of leave hours actually used.

Administrative leave is allowable for doctor's appointments beyond the 45 days only if it is a doctor's appointment scheduled by and at the request of the Department of Labor. Otherwise, administrative leave is inappropriate and cannot be granted.

Caution: Length of Medical Visits - Employees do not have a right to remain away from the office for longer than is necessary for medical appointments or treatments. Any hours away from the office beyond those required for the appointment must be charged to another type of leave (annual leave, LWOP, etc.).

Important Reminder

You must have a medical certificate for any absence for COP, including partial days for medical treatments. Supervisors may require a doctor's certificate indicating the length of time required for the appointment.

COP is charged according to the doctor's certificate. For example:

If the doctor's certificate states that an employee should remain away from work through September 25, a Friday, no COP is charged for the following Saturday or Sunday.

If the doctor's certificate states that the employee may return to work on Monday, September 28, COP is charged for the preceding Saturday and Sunday, September 26 and 27.

Caution

Pay for COP leave is calculated differently for:

- Intermittent employees,
- Part-time employees who do not work the same tour every week, and
- Daily Consultants.

Their pay is calculated using weekly average earnings for the 1-year period prior to the date of the injury. Although they are allowed 45 days of COP, COP leave is paid differently for these employees. See Chapter 11 for more information.

Chapter 7. Religious Compensatory Time

RELIGIOUS COMPENSATORY TIME

Introduction

Religious compensatory time is time off used for religious observances which require the abstention from work during certain periods of time. Employees must repay the amount of religious compensatory time used by working beyond their scheduled tours for the same number of hours used. Use of religious compensatory time is subject to supervisor approval.

Reasonable accommodations must be made to grant religious compensatory time to employees for such observances, unless the adjustment of the work schedule will interfere with the efficient accomplishment of the organization's mission.

All DHHS civilian employees, regardless of exempt/non-exempt status or grade, may be granted religious compensatory time.

The statute is not intended to give Federal employees additional holidays or annual leave. Rather, it is intended to provide employees an added option for following their religious beliefs. Employees may request other forms of accumulated leave as appropriate (i.e., annual leave, credit hours, etc.), or LWOP, or a combination of leave and LWOP, for religious purposes.

Religious compensatory time is entirely different from regular compensatory time. Do not confuse the two. Regular compensatory time is covered in Chapter 9.

Rules

Employees may earn and use religious compensatory time in the same increments as they are permitted to earn credit hours, regular compensatory time, and overtime.

Religious compensatory time may be earned before or after its use. It must be repaid within a reasonable amount of time as determined by the OPDIV.

Important:* Employees may not earn regular compensatory time or be compensated for overtime until any outstanding balance owed for religious compensatory time is repaid (worked off) in full.

Religious compensatory time may not be earned at an alternative work site unless the employee is already approved to work at the alternative work site (e.g., under an approved flexi-place agreement).

Employees who earn religious compensatory time and subsequently are unable to use the time earned, retain credit for the religious compensatory time earned until it is used or until the employee separates.

Requesting Religious Compensatory Time

Employees must request approval from their leave-approving officials to earn and use religious compensatory time. The request must be made in advance, in writing, and must include the following:

- The date(s) and number of hours requested;
- A brief explanation of the personal religious belief that requires the employee to abstain from work at the time requested; and
- The date(s) and times the employee will repay the hours used.

Evaluating Employee Requests

Before granting an employee's request for religious compensatory time, the leave-approving official must ensure that the employee has provided the information required. If the employee failed to provide the required information, the employee should be informed and the request returned without action.

"Personal religious belief" shall be interpreted broadly. Approval or disapproval must be in writing. When the request is disapproved, the reason for disapproval must be specified in writing.

Examples of situations warranting possible disapproval are:

- High priority work will not be performed timely.
 - Absence will cause unsafe working conditions for co-workers.
 - Essential work cannot be performed by another employee during the absence.
 - The work cannot appropriately be performed during overtime periods.
 - It will result in more than a nominal increase in operating costs.
 - It will compromise employment entitlements of other employees.

RELIGIOUS COMPENSATORY TIME

Employee Separates

If religious compensatory time used has not been repaid by the date the employee is separated, the Department will withhold an appropriate amount of basic pay from the employee's final settlement. The employee may choose to have the owed time charged to annual leave if he or she has sufficient annual leave balance.

Premium pay provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) do not apply to overtime worked in connection with religious compensatory time. Religious compensatory time is merely a substitution of time and cannot result in an entitlement to premium pay. Should payment for religious compensatory time become necessary (employee separates with unused religious compensatory time), the hours are not paid at the overtime rate. They are paid at the basic rate of pay at the time the work was performed.

Chapter 8. Temporary Closing of the Work Place

TEMPORARY CLOSING OF THE WORK PLACE

Introduction

A temporary closing is the closing, in whole or in part, of a work place because of an emergency or administrative situation. Absences for these short periods of time are generally excused. Examples of emergency or administrative situations are severe inclement weather conditions, failure of building services, etc.

If there is an emergency or situation causing a temporary closing, an administrative order will be issued by an authorized official which will either:

- Relieve personnel, except those identified as emergency employees to provide critical services, from active duty and excuse their absences for a specific amount of time without charge to leave or loss of pay; or
- Announce a liberal leave, or unscheduled leave, policy which permits non-emergency employees to use a reasonable amount of annual leave or LWOP (or another appropriate accumulated leave such as compensatory time or credit hours) without receiving advance approval from their supervisors.

Important: Liberal leave policy does not mean that employees are excused without a charge to leave. Rather, the policy for requesting the leave in advance is relaxed.

Employees are expected to call, if possible, to resolve any doubt about their intentions to report for duty and to request a determined type of leave. Supervisors may not deny leave once an administrative order policy has been issued.

Definitions

Adjusted Home Departure - Permits employees to leave their homes later than their normal departure times and be excused for late arrival. For example, if an "adjusted home departure" policy is in effect, it means that employees who normally leave for work at 7:00 a.m. would delay their departures until 9:00 a.m. Designated emergency employees are expected to report to work on time.

Adjusted Work Dismissal - Permits employees to leave work early relative to their normal departure times. For example, if a 3-hour early dismissal is authorized, employees who would normally leave work at 5:00 p.m. would be authorized to leave at 2:00 p.m. Designated emergency employees are expected to remain at work until their scheduled departure times.

Disabled Employees - Employees who have medical impairments, either permanent or temporary, that adversely affect their mobility.

Emergency Employees - Employees who have been designated by management as necessary, during an administrative or emergency situation, to perform critical functions.

Rules

If there is no announcement, all employees are to assume that their work place will be open each regular work day regardless of any conditions that may develop. They are also to assume that they are expected to report for duty on time and remain through their scheduled work hours unless they are on previously approved leave.

All employees are expected to report to work and depart from work at their regularly scheduled times in spite of weather conditions and traffic and transportation disruptions, unless an administrative order is issued by an authorized official. Employees are expected to take whatever steps necessary to cope with disruptive conditions (e.g., leave home early or use public transportation rather than a personal car, etc.).

When emergencies arise that cause late arrivals and an administrative order authorizes reasonable tardiness, employees are expected to arrive as soon as possible. Under these circumstances, immediate supervisors may, at their discretion, excuse tardiness for periods of up to two hours - unless some other time period is authorized by the administrative order. Higher level management approval is usually required to excuse tardiness over two hours or longer than that authorized by the administrative order.

For further information on temporary closing of the work place, see HHS Instruction 610-3.

TEMPORARY CLOSING OF THE WORK PLACE

Special Situations

In emergency situations, supervisors should be aware that individuals with disabilities have specific needs and that those needs may change during each emergency situation. Individuals with the same disability may have different needs under similar weather and environmental conditions. Individuals needs may also differ before, during, and after inclement weather, depending on environmental conditions both in the air and on the ground. Some conditions may include snow drifts at curb cuts, unusually large numbers of people being discharged at the same time, public transportation emergencies, and police and safety emergencies. Even seemingly mild weather or environmental conditions could be hazardous to a person with a disability.

When emergency dismissal or closure procedures are operative, those employees with disabilities should be dismissed as early as possible, rather than at normal departure times. Supervisors should rely heavily on the feelings of employees with disabilities and be flexible when making decisions.

Another special situation is that employees may occasionally face family circumstances not covered by an announcement in the media. For example, employees are expected to report to work, but schools open late or are closed. Supervisors should be flexible and as understanding as possible in approving leave in these situations.

Tables

Use the tables on the following pages as a guide for charging leave or excusing absences.

TEMPORARY CLOSING OF THE WORK PLACE

Table I If emergency conditions arise during working hours:

TEMPORARY CLOSING OF THE WORK PLACE

Alternative Work Schedules (AWS)

Employees on alternative work schedules (AWS) are subject to the absence and leave provisions covered in this chapter, as well as to the following provisions:

When early dismissal is authorized for:

- a specific time, AWS employees are dismissed at the end of their tour of duty or at the specific time, whichever is earlier;
- a specific number of hours, AWS employees are dismissed the stated number of hours earlier than the end of the specific tours they are working that day.

Late Arrival:

- Tardiness of AWS employees who do not revert to a fixed schedule during emergency is treated in accordance with procedures established by the OPDIV.
- Tardiness of AWS employees who are required to revert to a fixed schedule during emergencies is treated consistent with that of employees on a fixed work schedule in the same OPDIV.
- AWS employees who start work before the excused tardiness is authorized work their regular tours of duty. They do not receive extra compensation or credit hours for being on duty earlier than other employees whose tardiness is excused.

Closure:

- AWS employees whose tour of duty commences before the closure of the work place is announced, and who reported to work prior to the time of the closure announcement, return home and do not receive extra compensation or credit hours for having come to work.
- Employees on compressed work schedules who are not scheduled to work on a day that the work place is closed are not entitled to any compensation, credit hours, or "in lieu of" consideration for the closure day.

Chapter 9. Premium Pay and Differentials for General Schedule Employees

OVERVIEW

Introduction

Premium pay and differentials for full-time General Schedule (GS) employees are additional pay authorized for overtime, holiday, night or Sunday work, hazardous or standby duty, law enforcement availability, or administratively uncontrollable work when the work has been ordered and approved by authorized persons and performed by the employee.

For Additional Information

For information about premium pay and differentials for part-time, intermittent, Title 38/Baylor Plan, or Federal Wage System employees, or for non-standard tours, see the respective chapters.

Information about premium pay and differentials for General Schedule employees may also be found in the following:

- HHS Instruction 550-1, Premium Pay
 - 5 CFR, Part 550, Subpart A
 - Title 5 - Government Organization and Employees
 - GAO Title 6, Chapter 3

OVERTIME

Introduction

Most full-time GS employees on regularly scheduled tours are paid overtime if they work more than 8 hours a day or more than 40 hours in an administrative workweek. Overtime includes both regularly scheduled overtime and unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime.

Exceptions - Alternative Work Schedules

Employees who have flexible work schedules, and for whom credit hours are applicable, receive overtime pay only for excess hours which are not credit hours.

Employees who are authorized to work compressed work schedules earn overtime only for work in excess of those specified hours that constitute the compressed schedule. (i.e., over 8 hours if their scheduled day is an 8 hour day, over 9 hours if it is a scheduled 9 hour day, etc.).

Important

Each OPDIV is required to ensure that overtime is properly approved, recorded, and documented. Documentation must be maintained with time and attendance data for six years.

Time and attendance records must distinguish between unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime and regularly scheduled overtime. Therefore, it is important that you know the difference between the two types, and that overtime is recorded under the correct, applicable transaction code.

With the exception of emergencies, overtime must be authorized both in advance and in writing. In emergencies, employees may be ordered to work overtime without prior approval, provided that approval is documented the next work day.

For employees on non-reimbursable details outside the Department, OPDIVs must ensure that a clear understanding exists with the gaining organization with respect to when overtime may be worked and whether the cost of any overtime will be reimbursed.

Overtime and Paid Leave

For overtime purposes, hours during which the employee is absent on paid leave are considered to be hours of work. Use of paid leave does not reduce the amount of overtime to which the employee is entitled.

OVERTIME

Overtime and Unpaid Leave

Use of unpaid leave does affect overtime pay. It reduces the amount of overtime to which the employee is entitled. See Chapter 5 for information regarding substituting overtime for unpaid leave.

Pay Rate

Overtime is paid at 1½ times the employee's hourly rate of basic pay. The maximum hourly rate may not exceed 1½ times the hourly rate of basic pay for a GS-10, step 1 employee, including any applicable internal geographic adjustment or locality-based comparability payment and special rates.

Suffer and Permit Overtime

Supervisors should not permit unauthorized work by employees outside their tour hours. If, however, FLSA non-exempt employees perform work for the benefit of DHHS, whether requested or not:

- During hours outside the established tour, and
- Which the supervisor knows about, or has reason to believe is being performed, and has an opportunity to prevent,

they are entitled to irregular or occasional overtime pay referred to as suffer and permit overtime.

Note: Employees on flexible work schedules are not entitled to suffer and permit overtime pay.

On-Call Status

Time spent in an on-call status is not considered hours of work and is not paid as overtime if the employee:

- Is allowed to leave a telephone number or to carry a "beeper" to allow quick contact, even though the employee is required to remain within a reasonable call-back radius; or
- Is allowed to make arrangements for any required work during the on-call period to be performed by another person.

See the Callback Overtime and Regularly Scheduled Standby Duty sections in this chapter for other related information.

OVERTIME

Travel

Time spent on travel is considered overtime only when:

1. It is requested and approved in advance; and
2. It is within the employee's regularly scheduled administrative workweek, including regular overtime work; or
 - involves the performance of actual work while traveling,
 - is incident to travel that involves the performance of work while traveling,
 - is carried out under such arduous and unusual conditions that the travel is inseparable from work,
 - results from an event which could not be scheduled or controlled administratively, including travel by an employee to such an event and the return of the employee to his or her official duty station.

Training, Meetings, or Conferences

For FLSA non-exempt employees, time spent outside regular working hours to attend training (including preparatory time for attendance at training) shall be considered overtime if:

- The employee is directed by the agency to participate in the training (means that the training is required by the agency and the employee's performance or continued retention in the current position will be adversely affected by nonenrollment in such training); and
- The purpose of the training is to improve the employee's performance of the duties and responsibilities of current position (not upward mobility training).

Time spent outside regular working hours to attend lectures, meetings, or conferences shall be considered overtime if the employee:

- Is directed by the agency to attend the event; or
 - Performs work for the benefit of the agency during such attendance.

OVERTIME

Important

Total compensation for a pay period ordinarily cannot exceed the salary level of a GS-15, step 10.

Note: For FLSA non-exempt employees, this maximum earnings limitation does not apply to overtime pay.

OPDIV Heads or their designees are authorized to approve specific time-limited emergency situations which pose a direct threat to life or property. During these authorized emergency situations, the limitation for the maximum biweekly pay period may be exceeded. However, the maximum yearly aggregate salary may not exceed the annual maximum pay ceiling, including all locality and special pay rates, of the pay of a GS-15, step 10. An example of this emergency situation is Desert Storm. For more information, see HHS Circular 550-1 (06/12/96).

The Central System will automatically reduce the hours if an employee reaches the maximum bi-weekly compensation allowed.

Types of Overtime

Types of overtime include:

- Regularly scheduled overtime
 - Unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime
(includes preshift/postshift activities and callback overtime)
 - Administratively uncontrollable overtime
 - Regularly scheduled standby duty
 - PL 85-580 (double time for Quarantine inspectors)
 - Compensatory time

Regularly Scheduled Overtime

Regularly scheduled overtime (sometimes referred to as ARSOT or authorized regularly scheduled overtime) is overtime which is authorized in writing by supervisors before the beginning of the administrative workweek. The overtime work then becomes part of the regularly scheduled administrative workweek. This is important when determining entitlement to night differential.

Reminder: The administrative workweek for all HHS employees is 7 consecutive days, 12:01 a.m. Sunday through midnight Saturday. The basic workweek consists of the days and hours which make up the employee's regularly scheduled tour.

Example: On Friday afternoon, Robert is notified of overtime to be worked on Tuesday of the following week. The overtime was authorized before the beginning of the administrative workweek (Sunday 12:01 a.m.), and therefore it is regularly scheduled overtime.

Important

Regularly scheduled overtime may not be authorized or approved in increments of less than 15 minutes. Supervisors are responsible for assuring that employees do not perform overtime work in increments of less than 15 minutes.

Fractions of Hours

Overtime may be credited in quarter hours as well as whole hours. Both FLSA non-exempt and exempt employees are compensated for every minute of regular overtime unless their overtime or premium pay exceeds the maximum biweekly pay. Therefore, regularly scheduled overtime must be scheduled and worked in quarter-hour increments.

UNSCHEDULED IRREGULAR OR OCCASIONAL OVERTIME

Unscheduled Irregular or Occasional Overtime

If overtime is authorized during the same administrative workweek in which it is performed, it is considered to be unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime.

Unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime must also be approved by supervisors, but employees are notified in the same administrative workweek in which the overtime is performed, rather than in advance of the administrative workweek.

Reminder: The administrative workweek for all HHS employees is 7 consecutive days, 12:01 a.m. Sunday through midnight Saturday. The basic workweek consists of the days and hours which make up the employee's regularly scheduled tour.

Example: On Monday afternoon, the employee is notified of overtime work on Friday of that week. The overtime was authorized after the beginning of the administrative workweek (Sunday 12:01 a.m.), and therefore it is unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime.

Important

Regular Compensatory time may be substituted for irregular or occasional overtime at the employee's request. Compensatory time is covered later in this chapter.

Unlike regularly scheduled overtime, unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime does not have to be worked in 15-minute increments. Sometimes employees work an unusual number of minutes, such as 20 or 37.

Leftover minutes should be accumulated each week and then rounded down or up to the nearest full quarter hour at the end of the administrative workweek (7 minutes or less, round down; 8 to 14 minutes, round up.)

Examples: Jane worked 5 hours and 6 minutes of irregular overtime. There are 6 leftover minutes. She is paid for 5 hours.

Pierre worked 4 hours and 23 minutes of irregular overtime. There are 8 leftover minutes (23 - 15). He is paid for 4 hours and 30 minutes.

PRESHIFT AND POSTSHIFT ACTIVITIES

Preshift and Postshift Activity

Preshift activity is preparatory activity performed prior to the commencement of the principal activities.

Postshift activity is concluding activity performed after the completion of the principal activities.

If such activities meet the following criteria, they shall be considered hours of work and the time for the employee to perform the activities must be scheduled. Activities must:

- Be required by the agency;
- Be indispensable and closely related to the employee's principal activities; and
- Require more than 10 minutes a day.

Preshift or postshift activities outside the employee's daily tour of duty that meet the above three requirements are compensated with irregular or occasional overtime.

Note: A preshift or postshift activity that is not closely related to the performance of the principal activities is considered a preliminary or postliminary activity. Time spent in preliminary or postliminary activities is excluded from hours of work and is not compensable.

CALLBACK OVERTIME

Introduction

Callback overtime is unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime work performed at a time when the employee:

- Was not scheduled to work; or
- Was required to return to work after leaving the work site.

Rules

Because callback work is irregular or occasional overtime work, compensatory time off may be substituted for pay at the employee's request.

GS employees who are required to perform callback overtime are entitled to a minimum of 2 hours of overtime pay, or 2 hours of compensatory time off, for each time they are called back into work (even if they work less than 2 hours each time).

Example: On Wednesday Stanley finished the 8-hour tour and went home. At home, Stanley received a call to return to work due to an emergency. He actually worked one hour, however he is paid for two hours overtime because:

- He was not scheduled to work and was called back after he had left the work site; and,
- He must be paid a minimum of 2 hours overtime.

It is possible to have several call-backs in a 24-hour period. Each call-back is individually payable at the 2 hour minimum, until the bi-weekly pay for exempt employees totals the maximum bi-weekly payable rate for a GS-15. (There is no maximum pay limit for FLSA non-exempt and wage grade employees.)

Called-back employees who are required to work for more than 2 hours will be compensated for the actual hours worked, rounded to the closest quarter-hour.

ADMINISTRATIVELY UNCONTROLLABLE OVERTIME

Introduction

Administratively uncontrollable overtime work (AUO or AUW) is work for which the employee has the responsibility for recognizing, without supervisory direction, circumstances that require him or her to remain on duty or to return to duty.

This administratively uncontrollable overtime work is paid on an annual premium pay basis determined by a percentage of the employee's basic annual salary and the average number of hours worked. Your servicing personnel office determines the amount of the premium pay, adjusts the annual salary by the correct amount, and enters the rate into the Personnel and Pay Master. If you are unsure if an employee is paid AUO/AUW premium pay, check with your servicing personnel office.

Administratively uncontrollable overtime is paid on an annual basis, in lieu of irregular or occasional overtime.

Hours worked should be documented just as are other overtime hours. However, because the employee's annual pay has been adjusted to include an amount for AUO/AUW, timekeepers should not enter the overtime hours worked into the timekeeping system.

Requirements

The employee must:

- Occupy a position for which the additional hours of work cannot be controlled administratively;
- Perform substantial amounts of irregular or occasional overtime work (at least 3 hours per week); and
- Be able to recognize, without supervision, the circumstances which require that he or she remain on duty or return to duty.

An example of this type of position is an investigator.

Pay Rate

AUO/AUW premium pay is an appropriate percentage of the employee's regular pay. It may be no less than 10 percent and no more than 25 percent of an employee's rate of basic pay.

REGULARLY SCHEDULED STANDBY DUTY

Introduction

Regularly scheduled standby duty (RSSD) is premium pay approved on an annual basis for an employee in lieu of regularly scheduled overtime, night, holiday, and Sunday pay. To receive RSSD, an employee is required to remain at, or within the confines of, a duty station longer than ordinary periods of duty, a substantial part of which consists of remaining in a standby status rather than performing work.

While in a standby status, the employee's whereabouts and activities are severely limited and the employee must be available in the event that his/her services are required.

Regularly scheduled standby duty (RSSD) pay is sometimes referred to as standby duty premium pay, standby premium pay, and standby pay.

Note: Prevailing rate employees (or Federal Wage System employees) are not eligible for RSSD.

An SF-50 must be issued by the servicing personnel office for every employee who is authorized regularly scheduled standby pay. The servicing personnel office determines the amount of the premium pay, adjusts the annual salary by the correct amount, and enters it into the Personnel and Pay Master.

If you are unsure if an employee is paid RSSD premium pay, check with your servicing personnel office.

Rules

RSSD is paid in lieu of all other premium pay except irregular or occasional overtime. RSSD employees may be paid overtime or receive compensatory time for irregular or occasional overtime work.

To be authorized for regularly scheduled standby duty pay, the employee's standby hours must be:

- Associated with employee's regularly assigned duties;
- Definite and the employee must be officially ordered to remain at his/her station; and
- Included in the employee's tour of duty on a regularly recurring basis over a substantial period of time.

When an employee actually performs work during or after his/her standby hours, the employee is paid irregular or occasional overtime or allowed to earn compensatory time.

If standby duty includes a holiday, the employee is still on standby duty during the holiday. If he/she is not needed on the holiday, the employee must be excused from work that day. If the employee is not excused, but is absent during the holiday, he/she must be charged annual leave, sick leave, LWOP, or AWOL, as appropriate.

Pay Rate

RSSD is paid on an annual basis and is determined by a percentage of the employee's annual basic salary which may not exceed 25% of the basic rate of a GS-10, Step 1, employee, including any applicable locality-based comparability payment or special rate. This percentage is added to the employee's basic annual salary, and an hourly rate is computed from the total of the two. This increased hourly rate appears on the Earnings and Leave Statement.

Note: The additional percentage of pay earned is creditable for retirement and life insurance purposes only. The adjusted hourly rate is not used to compute overtime pay for irregular or occasional overtime.

Overtime

RSSD pay covers both regular hours and standby hours. If, however, the employee is required to work during the standby hours, he/she is paid overtime pay or allowed to earn compensatory time.

Overtime pay is calculated based on a rate equal to 1½ times the hourly rate of basic pay not including the RSSD premium pay percentage.

Reminder

An employee is in a standby status while on standby duty only at times when he or she is not required to perform actual work and is free to eat, sleep, read, or engage in other similar pursuits. An employee is not in a standby status while on standby duty when the employee's full attention is devoted to his or her work, even though the nature of the work does not require constant activity.

REGULARLY SCHEDULED STANDBY DUTY

Example

Fred is an X-ray technician with a regularly scheduled tour of Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. He is scheduled for 3 hours RSSD each day (until 7:30 p.m.) in case of emergencies.

During the standby period in the first week of the pay period, Fred spent 1 hour on Monday and 1 hour on Friday performing X-rays. The second week, he worked no hours during the standby period. The pay period total hours are:

- 80 regular hours (8 each day, Monday through Friday, both weeks); and
- 2 RSSD overtime hours (1 each day, Monday and Friday, Week 1).

Clarification: Fred is paid overtime for the actual hours worked during his standby hours. His RSSD premium pay is included in his regular hours, covering both the regular hours worked and the standby hours.

PL 85-580 OVERTIME

Introduction

PL 85-580 overtime is paid to quarantine inspection officers for the Public Health Service for any hours worked over their regular tours of duty as necessary to prevent the introduction of communicable diseases into the United States and possessions of the United States.

Overtime duties include the operation of vessels, the inspection or quarantine treatment of persons, conveyances, or goods arriving by land, water, or air in the United States or jurisdictions.

Pay Rate

Overtime in this category is paid at two times the basic hourly rate of pay, or double time.

LAW ENFORCEMENT AVAILABILITY PAY

Introduction

Law Enforcement Availability Pay (LEAP) is paid to certain criminal investigators to ensure the availability of criminal investigators for unscheduled duty in excess of the 40-hour workweek, based on the needs of the employing agency.

LEAP is paid on an annual premium pay basis in lieu of standby duty pay, administratively uncontrollable overtime pay, and irregular or occasional overtime pay. Criminal investigators receiving LEAP may earn overtime pay for regularly scheduled overtime, excluding the first 2 hours of overtime work on any regular workday.

Your servicing personnel office adjusts the annual salary and enters the rate into the Personnel and Pay Master. If you are unsure if an employee is paid LEAP, check with your servicing personnel office.

Hours worked should be documented just as are other overtime hours. However, because the employee's annual pay has been adjusted to include an amount for LEAP, timekeepers should not enter the unscheduled hours worked into the timekeeping system.

Requirements

The criminal investigator must meet the "substantial hours requirement" which is an annual average number of hours of unscheduled duty per regular workday of 2 hours or more. Unscheduled duty hours include hours not part of the 40-hour basic workweek of the investigator and not a part of compensated regularly scheduled overtime hours.

The investigator must be determined by the OPDIV to be generally and reasonably accessible to perform unscheduled duty, based on the needs of the OPDIV.

The investigator and the appropriate supervisor must annually certify that he/she currently meets, and is expected to continue to meet the "substantial hours" requirement.

Pay Rate

LEAP premium pay is 25 percent of an employee's rate of basic pay. It is paid only for periods of time during which the investigator receives basic pay.

COMPENSATORY TIME

Introduction

Compensatory time (also referred to as "comp time") is compensation for overtime work on the basis of time off equal to overtime work performed. It may be substituted only for irregular or occasional overtime pay. Compensatory time worked is subject to the same rules as irregular or occasional overtime. It must be requested in advance, in writing, and approved by the supervisor.

Caution

Do not confuse compensatory time with religious compensatory time or credit hours. The three types are not the same and each has entirely different rules and regulations.

Religious compensatory time is for religious observances only. (See Chapter 7.)

Credit hours may be earned and used only by employees on flexible work tours (not compressed work schedules). Compensatory time is an entitlement to pay for overtime, but credit hours are performed at the option of the employee, with the concurrence of the supervisor. (See Chapter 13.)

FLSA-Exempt Employees

OPDIVs may require that any FLSA-exempt employee whose basic rate of pay exceeds GS-10, step 10, be compensated for irregular or occasional overtime with compensatory time instead of overtime.

Rules

Compensatory time may not be advanced. It may be used in the same pay period it is earned; however, compensatory time may not be used until after it is earned.

Compensatory time must be used within 8 pay periods after it is earned. Any compensatory time that is not used within 8 pay periods will automatically be paid at the overtime rate at which it was earned.

Maximum Biweekly Pay

Compensatory time is subject to the same maximum pay limitation as is overtime. Therefore, an employee's total biweekly pay (the basic pay plus premium pay, plus the compensatory hours earned, plus the compensatory hours balance already accrued which was carried over) may not exceed the equivalent pay of a GS-15, Step 10, employee.

At no time may the number of compensatory hours accumulate beyond the number that would allow the employee's biweekly pay to equal that of a GS-15, Step 10, employee.

1. This limitation is not applicable to FLSA non-exempt employees.
2. This limitation for a pay period may be exceeded in emergency situations which pose a direct threat to life or property. OPDIV heads or their designees have the authority to make emergency determinations.

Note: Even when an emergency determination is made, the maximum yearly aggregate salary may not exceed the highest yearly rate payable for a GS-15.

3. For law enforcement officers, see Chapter 11.

Reminder: The maximum hourly rate may not exceed 1½ times the hourly rate of basic pay for a GS-10, step 1 employee, including any applicable internal geographic adjustment or locality-based comparability payment and special rates.

Determine Maximum Compensatory Hours

Use the following steps to compute the maximum number of compensatory hours that may be earned by an employee. In the example, assume that:

- a. the employee is a GS-13, Step 10 with an annual salary of $72,758.00, and
- b. the annual salary for a GS-15, Step 10, is $101,142.00, and
- c. the annual salary for a GS-10, Step 1, is $35,742.00.

Note: The example involves an employee who is at a higher grade level. An employee at a grade level lower than a GS-10, Step 1, will have a lower hourly overtime rate. The maximum biweekly pay is still that of a GS-15, Step 10, employee, but the hourly overtime rate of pay will be less.

Example: Using the above data and the following steps, compute the maximum number of compensatory hours allowed this employee.

COMPENSATORY TIME

*Determine
Maximum
Compensatory
Hours (cont.)*

1. Determine the maximum hourly overtime rate (GS-10, Step 1):

Divide the annual rate of pay by 2,087 hours and round to the nearest cent, counting one-half cent and over as a whole cent.

$$$35,742.00 \text{ divided by } 2,087 \times 1.5 = $25.69$$

The maximum hourly overtime rate is $25.69.

2. Determine the biweekly pay for the employee and for a GS-15:

To compute a biweekly rate, determine the basic hourly rate as in 1 above and multiply that hourly rate by 80.

$$\text{Employee} - $72,758.00 \text{ divided by } 2087 = 34.86$$

$$$34.86 \times 80 = $2788.80$$

$$\text{GS-15} - $101,142.00 \text{ divided by } 2087 = 48.46$$

$$$48.46 \times 80 = $3876.80$$

3. Subtract the biweekly pay of the GS-13 from that of the GS-15.

$$$3876.80 - $2788.80 = $1088.00$$

4. Divide the difference in the two by the maximum hourly overtime rate.

$$$1088.00 \text{ divided by } $25.69 = 42.35 \text{ hours (rounded to nearest } 1/4 \text{ hour} = 42.25 \text{ hours)}$$

5. Maximum number of compensatory hours this employee may have in a pay period is 42.25. (Carryover + earned - used)

Remember: The employee cannot go over the $1088.00 difference including basic pay, compensatory time earned this pay period, compensatory time balance carried over from the last pay period, and any other additional pay.

Any number of hours over the maximum will be dropped by the Central System.

HOLIDAY WORKED

Introduction

Pay for work performed on a holiday during hours which correspond to regularly scheduled hours of duty is double time. Double time is the basic pay normally received for the holiday, plus a premium equal to the employee's basic rate of pay.

Pay for work on a holiday is applicable only to the time within the regularly scheduled duty hours.

When employees work hours outside their regular tour hours on a holiday, it is overtime. They are paid at the usual overtime rate.

When employees work hours in excess of the scheduled work requirements for that day, it is overtime. They are paid at the usual overtime rate.

Important

All holiday work must be approved in writing, in advance. Each OPDIV is required to ensure that holiday pay (like overtime pay) is properly approved, recorded, and documented. Documentation must be maintained with time and attendance data for six years.

An employee who is required to report for work on a holiday is paid for at least 2 hours, whether or not work is actually performed.

Employees on regularly scheduled tours cannot receive more than 8 hours of holiday pay on any one holiday.

Employees on compressed work schedules or non-standard tours cannot receive more hours of holiday pay than are in their regularly scheduled daily hours.

Pay Rate

In addition to receiving their regular pay for a holiday not worked, employees who work any hours which correspond to their regularly scheduled hours of duty are paid their basic rate of pay for the hours worked.

Hours worked over 8 on a holiday are overtime. For holidays involving night differential, see the following section, Night Differential - Holiday. See examples on next page.

HOLIDAY WORKED

Examples

Example 1: Rick is scheduled to work 8 hours a day, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. During the second week of the pay period, he worked 6 hours on Thanksgiving (Thursday) from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours;
- 8 hours of holiday not worked; and
- 6 hours of holiday worked.

Example 2: Ruth regularly works from 7:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. During the second week of the pay period, on Thanksgiving (Thursday), she worked from 7:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with a meal break from 12:00 to 12:30 p.m. The overtime hours were scheduled in advance of the administrative workweek. The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours;
 - 8 holiday not worked hours;
 - 8 holiday worked hours; and
 - 2 hours regularly scheduled overtime.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL

Introduction

Night differential is paid for any regularly scheduled work performed between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.

Pay Rate

Night pay differential for GS employees is 10 percent of their scheduled basic pay rate, regardless of grade.

Rules

GS employees receive night differential for the period of their regularly scheduled tour which falls between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.

Example 1: An employee who works from 6:00 p.m. to 2:30 a.m., with a meal break from 9:00 to 9:30 p.m., receives 8 hours of night differential because all regularly scheduled hours fall within the range of 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 80 hours night differential.

Example 2: An employee who works from 1:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m., with a meal break from 5:30 to 6:00 p.m., receives 4 hours of night differential for the regularly scheduled period of time between 6:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 40 night differential hours.

An employee who is absent on paid leave is entitled to night differential only when the total amount of paid leave used in the pay period (including both night and day hours) is less than 8 hours.

Night differential is paid in addition to overtime, Sunday, or holiday pay, but it is not included in the rate of basic pay used to compute the overtime, Sunday, or holiday pay.

Caution

Night differential is not paid:

- For meal periods;
- For unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime work at night;

Caution (cont.)

- For night work that is not regularly scheduled (except for temporary assignments to another daily tour);
- For paid leave used when the total amount of paid leave used in the pay period (including night and day hours) is 8 or more hours;
- For any unpaid leave used (AWOL, LWOP, Suspension) during the pay period; or
- To a person substituting at night on another employee's shift, unless such substitution was ordered in advance of the administrative workweek (Sunday through Saturday).

Temporary Assignment

An employee who is temporarily assigned to a daily tour of duty that includes night work, regardless of when the assignment is made, is entitled to a night differential for work performed between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.

Travel Status

An employee is entitled to night differential for night hours of his tour of duty while he is in an official travel status, whether performing actual duty or not.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL - Holiday

Introduction

An employee is entitled to night differential when he is excused from nightwork on a legal holiday, or other day off from duty granted by Executive or administrative order.

Example: Karen is scheduled to work from 1:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 5:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Thursday of week 1 was Thanksgiving holiday. The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours;
- 8 hours holiday not worked; and
- 40 night differential hours.

Karen is paid night differential for the 4 hours after 6:00 p.m. each day that she worked and for the 4 hours after 6:00 p.m. on the holiday that she did not work.

Holiday Worked

Employees who are required to report to work on a holiday are paid for the holiday (including night differential) and they are paid their regular basic pay (minus night differential) for any hours worked. They are not paid double night differential, once for the holiday and once for actually working.

Example: Karen is scheduled to work from 1:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 5:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Thursday of week 1 was Thanksgiving and Karen was required to work 8 hours on the holiday. The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours;
- 8 hours holiday not worked;
- 8 hours holiday worked; and
- 40 night differential hours.

Karen is paid night differential for the 4 hours after 6:00 p.m. each day that she worked and for the 4 hours after 6:00 p.m. on the excused holiday. She is not paid night differential for hours that she actually worked on the holiday, regardless of the time of day worked.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL - Overtime

Introduction

Night differential for overtime is paid to employees who are scheduled to work regularly scheduled overtime (sometimes referred to as ARSOT or authorized regularly scheduled overtime) between the hours of 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. Overtime work must be performed before any compensation is paid.

Reminder: Regularly scheduled overtime must be approved in writing before the beginning of the administrative workweek in which the overtime work will be performed.

Rules

An employee who is regularly scheduled to work 5 hours overtime, but works 6 hours because the estimate of time it would take to perform the job was in error, is entitled to a night differential for any part of the 5 hours worked between the hours of 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. The extra hour is irregular or occasional overtime with no entitlement to a night differential. If, however, the employee should work only 4 of the 5 hours scheduled, the employee is entitled to only 4 hours of regularly scheduled overtime, plus up to 4 hours night differential for any hours worked between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.

First-shift employees (midnight to 8:00 a.m.) on a three-shift daily operation who are scheduled to perform overtime on the third shift (4:00 p.m - midnight) are entitled to a night differential for the hours between 6:00 p.m and midnight, if they are scheduled before the beginning of the administrative workweek. This is in addition to their night differential for the first shift. A break between shifts has no effect on the entitlement.

Caution

Night differential is not paid for unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime work.

Exception: Night differential is paid for irregular or occasional overtime when an employee habitually and recurrently works overtime at night because the nature of his employment requires him to remain on duty until his tasks are completed or until he is relieved from duty.

No employees (including medical personnel) are eligible for night differential for callback overtime.

Example 1

Ted works Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. Before the beginning of the administrative workweek, he was scheduled to work overtime from 4:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. on the second Wednesday, and from 4:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on the second Friday of the pay period. He did work the overtime ordered.

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 6½ regularly scheduled overtime hours; and
- 3½ night differential hours (1 hour on the second Wednesday and 2½ hours on the second Friday).

Example 2

Marcy works Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. On the first Friday she was scheduled by her supervisor to work 2 hours of overtime on the following Wednesday from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. On that Wednesday night, Marcy was ordered to work an additional extra hour of overtime, until 8:00 p.m., to complete the project. She did work the hours ordered.

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 2 regularly scheduled overtime hours;
- 1 irregular or occasional overtime hour; and
- 1 night differential hour.

Marcy is entitled to 1 hour night differential, from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday. She is not entitled to night differential for the additional hour (even though it was worked after 6:00 p.m.) because it was not ordered prior to the beginning of the administrative workweek and is, therefore, irregular or occasional overtime.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL — And Paid Leave

Introduction

The amount of paid leave a GS employee uses during the pay period affects the amount of night differential pay that the employee receives.

If an employee uses 8 or more hours of paid leave during a pay period, night differential is not paid for any paid leave absences during that pay period.

Conversely, if an employee uses less than 8 hours of paid leave during a pay period, he/she is paid night differential for any period of absence on paid leave.

For any night hours actually worked, an employee receives night differential, regardless of the amount of leave he has used during the pay period.

Exceptions

GS employees who are on regular military leave, special military leave, court leave, or continuation of pay continue to get night differential for nights they do not work, no matter how long they are away on leave.

Reminder

Employees never receive night differential for periods of absence on unpaid leave. Do not record night differential for these hours.

Table

Use the following table to determine if night differential should be paid.

IF THE EMPLOYEE HAS USED...	THEN...
<ul style="list-style-type: none">less than 8 hours of paid leave during the pay period	He/she is entitled to night differential for all of the scheduled hours of night duty worked, and for all hours absent on paid leave.
<ul style="list-style-type: none">8 or more hours of paid leave during the pay period	He is entitled to night differential only for the scheduled hours actually worked, but he is not entitled to a night differential for any hours absent on paid leave.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL — And Paid Leave

Example 1 - More Than 8 Hours of Paid Leave

Rosemary works from 4:00 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 7:00 to 7:30 p.m. During the first week of the pay period, she used annual leave on Monday and Tuesday. The pay period totals are:

- 64 regular hours;
- 16 annual leave hours; and,
- 48 night differential hours.

Rosemary is paid night differential for the 6 hours after 6:00 p.m. each day that she worked. She is not paid night differential for hours that she used annual leave because she used "8 hours or more".

Example 2 - Less Than 8 Hours of Paid Leave

Michael works from 6:00 p.m. to 2:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 10:00 to 10:30 p.m. On the first Tuesday of the pay period, Michael went home sick 2 hours early. The pay period totals are:

- 78 regular hours;
- 2 sick leave hours; and
- 80 night differential hours

Michael is paid night differential for each day he worked and for the 2 hours sick leave he used, because he did not use "8 hours or more" for the pay period.

Example 3 - Court Leave

June works between 6:00 p.m. and 2:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 10:00 to 10:30 p.m. She was on court leave both weeks of the pay period. The pay period totals are:

- 80 court leave hours; and
- 80 night differential hours.

June receives night differential even though she was absent on paid leave for more than 8 hours in the pay period, because GS employees receive night differential for absence on court leave.

SUNDAY PREMIUM PAY

Introduction

Sunday premium pay (also referred to as Sunday differential) is paid to full-time employees for non-overtime, regularly scheduled work on a Sunday. Sunday premium pay is not authorized for part-time employees.

Rules

Sunday premium pay is not paid for overtime hours, only for the regularly scheduled tour hours.

Sunday premium pay hours begin at 12:01 a.m., Sunday morning, and continue until 12 midnight, Sunday night.

If an employee's regular schedule starts at 12:01 a.m. Monday, that employee does not earn Sunday premium pay.

If any part of the daily tour of duty falls on Sunday, the entire tour for that day is considered to be Sunday work.

A GS employee who works on Sunday night between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. as part of his or her scheduled tour may receive both night differential pay and Sunday premium pay.

See examples on next page.

Pay Rate

The Sunday premium rate is 25 percent of the hourly rate of basic pay.

Premium pay for GS employees who perform Sunday work is in addition to premium pay for holiday work, overtime pay, or night differential pay. It is not included in the rate of basic pay used to compute hourly rate of pay for holiday work, overtime pay, or night differential pay.

Caution

Sunday must be a part of the employee's regularly scheduled tour in order for the employee to receive Sunday premium pay; and

Employees must actually be at work in order to be paid Sunday premium pay. Those who are scheduled to be at work on a Sunday tour, but are not at work, do not receive the Sunday premium pay.

SUNDAY PREMIUM PAY

Examples

Example 1: Sharon works from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. She worked her regular tour this pay period. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 16 Sunday premium hours.

Example 2: Melissa works from 5:30 p.m. to 2:00 a.m., Sunday through Thursday, with a meal break from 9:00 to 9:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 75 night differential hours; and
- 16 Sunday premium hours.

Note: Though Melissa actually worked only 6 hours on Sunday (5:30 p.m. to 12:00 midnight Sunday, subtracting the ½ hour meal break), she receives Sunday premium pay for the entire 8-hour tour.

Example 3: Amahl works 8 hours a day, Sunday through Thursday evenings from 3:00 p.m. to 11:30 p.m., with a ½ hour meal break from 7:00 to 7:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
 - 50 night differential hours; and
 - 16 Sunday premium hours.

SUNDAY PREMIUM PAY — And Leave

Introduction

Employees do not earn Sunday premium pay for any hours when they are not at work. Therefore, when an employee uses any type of paid leave (and, of course, when he uses unpaid leave) no Sunday differential is paid.

Example: Hans is scheduled to work 8 hours on Sunday, but uses 3 hours of annual leave. For that day, the hours would be:

- 5 regular hours;
- 3 hours of annual leave; and
- 5 hours of Sunday premium for the hours worked.

Hans does not receive Sunday premium pay for the hours absent on annual leave.

Example: Bill works from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. He used annual leave on the first Sunday of the pay period from 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 76 regular hours;
- 4 annual leave hours; and
- 12 Sunday premium hours.

Rule

Employees on leave for the part of the tour which falls on Sunday do not receive Sunday premium pay for the rest of the day's work.

Example: Frieda works from 11:00 p.m. to 7:30 a.m., Sunday through Thursday, with a meal break from 1:00 a.m. to 1:30 a.m. The first Sunday of the pay period, she used annual leave from 11:00 p.m. to 12:00 midnight. The pay period totals are:

- 79 regular hours;
- 1 annual leave hour;
- 8 Sunday premium hours; and
- 65 night differential hours.

Since Frieda was on annual leave for all of her tour that fell on Sunday during Week 1 (the hour between 11:00 p.m. and midnight), she does not receive Sunday premium pay for that entire day.

SUNDAY PREMIUM PAY — And Overtime

Introduction

Employees who are entitled to Sunday premium pay cannot earn more than 8 hours of Sunday premium pay on one Sunday tour (unless on a compressed work schedule).

Any Sunday hours over 8 in one tour must be entered as overtime hours.

Sunday premium pay is not paid for overtime hours.

Example

Martin is scheduled to work from 2:30 to 11:00 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, with a meal break from 6:00 to 6:30 p.m.

On Sunday afternoon, Martin's supervisor asked him to work 2 hours of unscheduled irregular overtime that evening from 11:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m., for a total of 10 hours worked on Sunday. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 16 Sunday premium hours;
- 45 night differential hours; and
- 2 irregular overtime hours.

Martin is not paid Sunday differential for the unscheduled irregular overtime hours. (Note also that he is not paid night differential for his ½ hour meal break each day, or for the unscheduled irregular overtime hours.)

SUNDAY PREMIUM PAY — Two Tours on Sunday

Introduction

Full-time GS employees who change shifts on Sunday, resulting in two daily tours of duty between midnight Saturday and midnight Sunday, or portions thereof, are entitled to Sunday premium pay for both shifts, or for each daily tour. Sunday premium pay is paid for each hour of each daily tour of duty which is not overtime work.

Night differential is paid for any hours worked between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. on each tour.

Sunday differential does not apply to overtime hours.

Note: Unless unavoidable, supervisors should not schedule an employee to work on two different daily tours on the same Sunday.

Examples

Ann works 8 hours a day, 10:00 p.m. to 6:30 a.m., Saturday through Wednesday, with a meal break from 1:00 a.m. to 1:30 a.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 32 Sunday premium hours; and
- 75 night differential hours.

Because she ends one tour on Sunday morning and begins another tour on Sunday evening, Ann is paid 8 hours of Sunday premium for each Sunday and each Saturday. She is paid 7½ hours night differential for each day. No night differential is paid for the ½ hour meal break or for the ½ hour from after 6:00 a.m.

If Ann works the same schedule as above and she also works 8 hours of unscheduled overtime (6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. on both Wednesday and Sunday, Week 2), the pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 32 Sunday premium hours;
- 75 night differential hours; and
- 8 irregular overtime hours.

Reminder: Ann is not paid premium pay (Sunday differential or night differential) for overtime hours.

HAZARD DIFFERENTIAL

Introduction

Hazard differential pay may be granted to full time, part-time, and intermittent GS employees. It is paid in addition to any additional pay or allowances payable under other statutes.

Hazard differential pay is additional compensation paid to employees for duty involving physical hardship or hazard. For conditions and circumstances qualifying for hazardous duty pay, see next pages.

Caution

Hazard pay may not be paid to an employee when the hazardous duty has been taken into account in the classification of the position. For Federal Wage System employees, see Chapter 10.

Before crediting hazard pay, verify with your servicing personnel office that both the situation and the employee qualify for hazard pay.

Rules

When an employee performs duty for which hazard pay differential is authorized, HHS pays the hazard differential for the hours in a pay status on the day (calendar day or a 24-hour period) on which the duty is performed.

Hours in a pay status for work performed during a continuous period extending over 2 days shall be considered to have been performed on the day on which the work began and charged to that day.

Requests to consider conditions for hazard differential other than those specified must be made through the DHHS Office of the Assistant Secretary for Management and Budget for approval by the Office of Personnel Management.

Example

Michael is a GS employee who works from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. During the first week of the pay period, he took part in snow removal all day on Tuesday and Wednesday. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 16 hazard differential hours.

Chapter 10. Premium Pay and Differentials for Federal Wage System Employees

OVERVIEW

Introduction

Premium pay for full-time Federal Wage System (FWS) employees is additional compensation for overtime, standby duty, Sunday work, or holiday work when the work has been requested and approved by authorized persons and performed by the employee.

Differentials are paid for night shift and environmental hazard duty.

Reminder

HHS pays FWS employees according to rates of pay set by local Wage Boards. These Wage Boards set the rates according to what non-government workers in the same part of the country, doing the same work, are getting paid. FWS employees are also called prevailing rate employees.

Pay for FWS employees is different from pay for General Schedule (GS) employees. It is calculated at an hourly rate, not a yearly rate.

For Additional Information

For information about premium pay and differentials for part-time and intermittent employees, see Chapter 11. For Title 38/Baylor Plan, see Chapter 12. For General Schedule employees, see Chapter 9; and for employees on an alternative work schedule, see Chapter 13.

Information about premium pay and differentials for FWS employees may also be found in the following:

- HHS Instruction 532-1-80, Pay for Environmental Hazards
 - HHS Instruction 532-4, Overtime Pay - Federal Wage System
 - 5 CFR Part 532, Subpart E

OVERTIME

Introduction

Overtime work for FWS employees on regularly scheduled tours means authorized and approved hours of work performed in excess of 8 hours in a day or in excess of 40 hours in an administrative workweek, whichever results in the greater number of overtime hours. It includes both irregular or occasional overtime and regular overtime.

FWS employees are not eligible for Regularly Scheduled Standby Duty.

For FWS employees, hours in a standby or on-call status, or while sleeping or eating, shall not be credited for the purpose of determining hours of work in excess of 8 hours in a day.

Exceptions - Alternative Work Schedules

Employees who have flexible work schedules, and for whom credit hours are applicable, receive overtime pay only for excess hours which are not credit hours.

Employees who are authorized to work compressed work schedules earn overtime only for work in excess of those specified hours that constitute the compressed schedule. (i.e., over 8 hours if their scheduled day is an 8 hour day, over 9 hours if it is a scheduled 9 hour day, etc.).

Important

Each OPDIV is required to ensure that overtime is properly approved, recorded, and documented. Documentation must be maintained with time and attendance data for six years.

Time and attendance records must distinguish between regularly scheduled overtime and unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime. Therefore, it is important that you know the difference between the two types, and that overtime is recorded under the correct, applicable transaction code.

With the exception of emergencies, overtime must be authorized both in advance and in writing. In emergencies, employees may be ordered to work overtime without prior approval, provided that approval is documented the next work day.

OVERTIME

Paid Leave and Holidays For overtime purposes, hours during which the employee is absent on paid leave or holidays are considered to be hours of work and do not reduce the amount of overtime to which the employee is entitled.

Unpaid Leave Use of unpaid leave does affect overtime pay. See Chapter 5 for information regarding substituting overtime for unpaid leave.

Pay Rate Overtime is paid in accordance with Title 5 or FLSA regulations, whichever is applicable.

FWS employees are not subject to the pay limitations imposed on GS employees.

Note: FWS employees who are FLSA non-exempt shall be paid overtime in accordance with Fair Labor Standards Act guidelines.

Suffer and Permit Overtime Supervisors should not permit unauthorized work by employees outside their tour hours. If, however, FLSA non-exempt employees perform work for the benefit of DHHS, whether requested or not:

- During hours outside the established tour, and
- Which the supervisor knows about, or has reason to believe is being performed, and has an opportunity to prevent,

they are entitled to irregular or occasional overtime pay referred to as suffer and permit overtime. Note: Employees on flexible work schedules are not entitled to suffer and permit overtime pay.

Caution - Compensatory Time FWS employees must be paid at the prescribed rate for overtime work. Thus, these employees cannot earn and use compensatory time in lieu of overtime payments. (They can, however, earn and use religious compensatory time. Refer to Chapter 7.)

Exception: FWS employees on flexible and compressed work tours are permitted compensatory time under the Federal Employees Flexible and Compressed Work Schedules. See Chapter 13.

OVERTIME

Callback Overtime

FWS employees receive callback overtime pay for being called back to the workplace. When called back, they receive a minimum of 2 hours of overtime pay (or the actual number of hours worked, whichever is greater), whether or not work is performed.

Overtime Examples

Note: You must assign a shift code to overtime worked. Shifts are discussed in the next section, but are also shown here.

Example 1: Sally works from 7:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with a lunch break from noon to 12:30 p.m. On Monday, Week 1, she worked overtime until 5:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 2 overtime hours (Shift 1).

Example 2: Jerry works from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. On the first Thursday of the pay period Jerry took a ½ hour break from 4:30 until 5:00 p.m., and then resumed work for 5 hours of overtime until 10:00 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 5 overtime hours.

Clarification: Jerry regularly works Shift 1. Therefore, even though the overtime hours were worked at night, they are paid at the Shift 1 rate.

Note

For night differential and overtime, see the following section.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL

Introduction

Night differential is a differential paid to FWS employees who work a majority of their regularly scheduled tour hours between 3:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m.

Pay Rate

Rates are set by local Wage Boards and are recorded in the employee's Pay Master. The amount of night differential paid is determined by the scheduled hours of the shift. Hours are divided into two shifts:

- Second Shift (3:00 p.m. to 12:00 midnight) —
Pay is increased 7½ percent.
- Third Shift (11:00 p.m. to 8:00 a.m.) —
Pay is increased 10 percent.

Rules - Determining Shift Rate for Night Differential

FWS employees must be scheduled for a majority of their hours during a shift to receive that particular shift rate. Majority of hours means a number of whole hours greater than one-half of the shift, e.g., 5 hours of a scheduled 8-hour shift.

Meal breaks of 1 hour or less that occur when a night shift differential is authorized should be included for purposes of determining an FWS employee's entitlement to night differential.

The night shift differential is paid for the entire shift when the majority of the regularly scheduled hours fall within the specified tour. If employees are scheduled for less than a majority of their hours during a shift, they receive the next lowest shift rate. Use the following table to determine the shift rate for the employee.

EMPLOYEE REGULARLY WORKS A MAJORITY OF HOURS DURING...	EMPLOYEE RECEIVES...
7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.	no night differential pay
3:00 p.m. to midnight	Shift 2 night differential pay for the entire shift
11:00 p.m. to 8:00 a.m.	Shift 3 night differential pay for the entire shift

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL

Important

There is no authority to permit a splitting of the night shift differential. If a person works an equal number of hours in Shift 2 and Shift 3, or if there is no majority of whole hours in either shift, then the employee receives the lower of the two differentials (Shift 2).

If a person works an equal number of hours in Shift 1 and Shift 2, or if there is no majority of whole hours in either shift, the employee receives no night differential.

Travel

An FWS employee regularly assigned to a shift for which night differential is payable continues to receive the usual night differential for hours of his/her tour of duty while in an official travel status.

Examples

Example 1 - No night differential: Stephanie works Monday through Friday, 11:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., with a meal break from 3:00 to 3:30 p.m. Count the hours worked in each shift, including the meal break:

4 hours in Shift 1 (11 a.m. - 3 p.m.)
4½ hours in Shift 2 (3 p.m. - 7:30 p.m.)

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours.

Clarification: There are zero night differential hours because Stephanie does not work a majority of whole hours on the second shift. Therefore, she is paid at the Shift 1 rate.

Example 2 - Shift 2 night differential: Bob works Monday through Friday, 7:00 p.m. to 3:30 a.m., with a meal break from 11:00 to 11:30 p.m. Count the hours worked in each shift, including the meal break:

5 hours in Shift 2 (7 p.m. - 12 midnight)
4½ hours in Shift 3 (11 p.m. - 3:30 a.m.)

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL

*Examples
(cont.)*

Example 2 - Shift 2 night differential (cont):

Clarification: Bob works a majority of whole hours on the second shift, so he is paid at the Shift 2 rate.

Example 3 - Shift 3 night differential: Manuel works Monday through Friday, 7:30 p.m. to 4:00 a.m., with a meal break from 11:30 p.m. to 12:00 midnight. Count the hours worked in each shift, including the meal break:

4½ hours in Shift 2 (7:30 p.m. - 12 midnight)

5 hours in Shift 3 (11 p.m. - 4:00 a.m.)

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 3.

Clarification: Because Manuel works a majority of whole hours on the third shift, he is paid at the Shift 3 rate.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL - Overtime

Night Differential and Overtime

Overtime pay for an FWS employee, who regularly works a shift for which night differential is paid (i.e., Shift 2 or 3) will be computed on the night rate, even though the hours of overtime worked extend into, or fall entirely within the day shift.

When the overtime work is performed on a non-workday, overtime pay is computed on the rate of the employee's last previous regularly scheduled shift.

Rotating Tour

An employee regularly assigned to a rotating schedule involving work on both day and night shifts:

- who performs overtime work which extends or falls entirely within the succeeding shift is entitled to overtime pay computed on the rate of the employee's regularly scheduled shift in effect for that calendar day; or
- when the overtime is performed on a nonworkday, the employee is entitled to overtime pay computed on the average rate of basic pay for all regularly scheduled shifts worked by the employee during the basic workweek.

Examples

#1 - Overtime on a workday: Elsa's regularly scheduled tour is from 11:30 p.m. to 8:00 a.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 2:00 a.m. to 2:30 a.m. During the first week of the pay period, she worked 3 hours of overtime from 8:00 to 11:00 a.m. on both Monday and Wednesday. Count the hours worked in each shift for Elsa's regularly scheduled tour (not when the overtime was worked).

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 6 overtime hours, Shift 3; and
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 3.

Clarification: Elsa is paid at the Shift 3 rate for the overtime hours (the shift in which she usually works), even though the overtime hours were worked during Shift 1.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL - Overtime

(cont.)*

#2 - Overtime on a workday: Sylvia works Monday through Friday, from 3:00 p.m. to 11:30 p.m., with a meal break from 8:00 to 8:30 p.m. During the second week of the pay period, she worked 6 hours of overtime on Friday from 11:30 p.m. to 6:00 a.m., with a meal break from 2:30 a.m. to 3:00 a.m. Count the hours worked in each shift for Sylvia's regularly scheduled tour (not when the overtime was worked).

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 6 overtime hours, Shift 2; and
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2.

Clarification: Even though the overtime hours were worked during Shifts 2 and 3, Sylvia is paid at the Shift 2 rate for the overtime (the shift in which she usually works).

#3 - Overtime on a nonworkday: Michelle's regularly scheduled tour is from 3:00 p.m. to 11:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 6:00 to 6:30 p.m. On Saturday, the second week of the pay period, she worked 5 hours of overtime from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. without a break. Count the hours worked in each shift for Sylvia's regularly scheduled tour (not when the overtime was worked):

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 5 overtime hours, Shift 2; and
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2.

Clarification: Regardless of the time of day that the overtime hours were actually worked, Michelle is paid at the Shift 2 rate for the overtime because it is a nonworkday and her last previous regularly scheduled shift was Shift 2.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL - Temporary or Substitute Tour

Introduction

FWS employees may be assigned to a temporary tour on a night shift or to serve as a substitute for another employee on a night shift.

Rules

An FWS employee regularly assigned to a night shift, who is temporarily assigned to another night shift with a higher differential, receives the higher night shift differential when the majority of the employee's non-overtime hours of work fall within the shift having the higher differential.

An FWS employee regularly assigned to a night shift continues to receive his/her usual night shift differential during a temporary assignment to the day shift or to another night shift with a lower differential.

An FWS employee regularly assigned to a day shift is entitled to a night shift differential for any period during which he/she is temporarily assigned to work a regular shift for which a night shift differential is otherwise payable.

Examples

#1 - Temporary tour with a higher shift differential: Rupert's regularly scheduled tour is from 6:00 p.m. to 2:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, the second shift.

This pay period, Rupert was temporarily assigned to work from 2:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m., the third shift, with a meal break from 6:00 a.m. to 6:30 a.m.

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 3.

Clarification: Rupert receives the higher shift rate (Shift 3). An employee regularly assigned to a night shift, who is temporarily assigned to a shift with a higher differential, receives the higher differential when the majority of the regularly scheduled hours of the temporary tour fall within that shift.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL - Temporary or Substitute Tour

(cont.)*

#2 - Substitute Tour with Lower Shift Differential: Peggy's regularly scheduled tour is Monday through Friday, from 2:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m., the third shift.

This pay period, she worked as a substitute from 6:00 p.m. to 2:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, the second shift, with a meal break from 10:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 3.

Clarification: Peggy receives the higher shift differential (Shift 3) even though the substitute tour was on Shift 2. An employee regularly assigned to a night shift receives his/her regular night shift differential during another night shift with a lower differential.

#3 - Temporary tour with higher shift differential: Tom usually works the first shift, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. This pay period, he was temporarily assigned to work from 6:00 p.m. to 2:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, the second shift, with a meal break from 10:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2.

Clarification: Tom receives night differential. An employee regularly assigned to a day shift is entitled to night differential for any period during which he/she is temporarily assigned to work a night shift.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL - Holiday

Introduction

FWS employees regularly assigned to a shift for which a night shift differential is payable, continue to receive the night differential for paid absence on holidays or other days off from duty granted by Executive or administrative order.

The night differential is paid at the same rate the employee usually earns for the regularly scheduled shift.

Example

Daniel works the third shift, Monday through Friday, from 11:30 p.m. to 8:00 a.m., with a meal break from 2:30 to 3:00 a.m. During the first week of the pay period, Monday was a holiday. The pay period totals are:

- 8 holiday not worked hours;
- 72 regular hours; and
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 3.

Clarification: Daniel receives his usual night differential. An employee who regularly works a night shift is entitled to the appropriate night differential for any period of excused absence on a holiday.

Note

For information about holiday hours worked, see the Holiday Worked section later in this chapter.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL - Paid Leave

Introduction

FWS employees who are regularly assigned to a night shift are paid a night shift differential for any absence on paid leave, regardless of the amount of paid leave used during the pay period.

The rate payable is determined by the shift to which the employee is assigned at the time of going on leave. See the following rules.

Note: FWS employees do not receive night differential for nights when they are absent on unpaid leave.

Rules

Rotating Tour - An FWS employee assigned to a regular rotating schedule involving work on both day and night shifts will be paid a night shift differential only for any paid leave taken during periods when the employee is scheduled to work a night shift.

The employee does not receive night differential for absences occurring during periods when he/she is scheduled to work the day shift.

Irregular Shifts - If an FWS employee's shift is changed at irregular intervals, the employee is paid night differential during periods of paid leave if he/she received night differential for the last shift worked preceding the absence on paid leave.

Temporary Tour - When an FWS employee who is regularly scheduled to work the day shift is absent on paid leave during a temporary assignment to a night shift, the employee is paid as follows:

- If the assignment to the night shift is of indefinite duration and no expiration date is specified, an employee going on paid leave receives night differential; but
 - If the assignment to the night shift is of specified duration, an employee going on paid leave receives night differential only for that portion of the absence which falls within the specified period of assignment to the night shift. After the expiration of the specified period, the employee's pay reverts to the day rate.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL - Paid Leave

Examples

Example 1 - Employee on night shift: Christopher's regularly scheduled tour is from 5:00 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 9:00 to 9:30 p.m. He used annual leave during the first week of the pay period. The pay period totals are:

- 40 regular hours;
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2; and
- 40 annual leave hours.

Example 2 - Employee on a temporary tour: Madelyn's regularly scheduled tour is from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 12:00 noon to 12:30 p.m.

This pay period she was temporarily assigned to work from 5:00 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 9:00 to 9:30 p.m. This assignment was a specified duration, lasting from Monday of Week 1 through Tuesday of Week 2. Madelyn was absent on sick leave the entire second week of the pay period.

The pay period totals are:

- 40 regular hours;
- 56 night differential hours, Shift 2; and
- 40 sick leave hours.

Clarification: There are zero hours of night differential for Wednesday through Friday of Week 2, because Madelyn's temporary tour expired at the end of Tuesday and she ordinarily works the day shift. Madelyn receives night differential only for that portion of the absence which falls within the specified period of assignment to the night shift. After the expiration of the specified period, Madelyn's pay reverts to the day rate.

SUNDAY PREMIUM PAY

Introduction

Sunday premium pay (also referred to as Sunday differential) is extra pay for full-time FWS employees who work on Sunday as a part of their regularly scheduled tour.

Pay Rate

The Sunday premium rate is 25 percent of the hourly rate of basic pay. Basic rate of pay includes night differential.

Rules

Sunday premium pay hours begin at 12:01 a.m., Sunday morning, and continue until midnight, Sunday night. If an employee starts work at 12:01 a.m. Monday, that employee does not earn Sunday premium pay.

If any part of the tour falls on Sunday, the entire tour is considered to be Sunday work.

Sunday premium pay is not paid for any periods of time when the employee is not at work, including holidays, paid leave, excused absence with pay, compensatory time off, credit hours, continuation of pay, or time off award.

Caution

FWS employees who are not regularly scheduled to work on Sunday, do not get Sunday premium pay if they do work on Sunday. Sunday differential is not authorized for part-time or intermittent employees.

Examples

#1 - Day Shift: Nancy works from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours; and
- 16 Sunday premium hours, Shift 1.

#2 - Night Shift: Kevin works from 11:00 p.m. to 7:30 a.m., Shift 3, Sunday through Thursday with a meal break from 2:00 to 2:30 a.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
 - 80 night differential hours, Shift 3; and
 - 16 Sunday premium hours, Shift 3.

SUNDAY PREMIUM PAY - Leave

Introduction

FWS employees do not receive Sunday premium pay for any hours when they are not at work. This includes any type of absence, either paid or unpaid.

If part of an employee's tour falls on a Sunday, and the employee is on leave for the entire part of the tour which falls on Sunday, the employee does not receive Sunday premium pay for any hours worked that day.

Examples

#1 - Day shift and leave: Peter works Sunday through Thursday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with lunch from 12:30 to 1:00 p.m. On the second Sunday of the pay period, he took annual leave from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 77 regular hours;
- 3 annual leave hours; and
- 13 Sunday premium hours, Shift 1.

#2 - Shift 2 and leave: Cindy works the second shift from 3:30 p.m. to midnight, Sunday through Thursday. On the second Sunday, she took annual leave all day. The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours;
- 8 annual leave hours;
- 8 Sunday premium hours, Shift 2; and
- 72 night differential hours, Shift 2.

#3 - Shift 3 and leave: Charles works the third shift from 11:00 p.m. to 7:30 a.m., Sunday through Thursday, with a meal break from 2:00 to 2:30 a.m. He took annual leave for the first hour of the tour (11:00 p.m. to 12:00 midnight Sunday) and returned at 12:01 Monday morning. The pay period totals are:

- 79 regular hours;
 - 1 annual leave hour;
 - 8 Sunday premium hours, Shift 3; and
 - 72 night differential hours, Shift 3.

SUNDAY PREMIUM PAY - Overtime

Introduction

Sunday premium pay is not paid for overtime hours, only for the regularly scheduled tour hours.

Any Sunday hours in excess of 8 in one tour must be entered as overtime hours and paid at the overtime rate.

Exception: Employees on compressed work schedules. See Chapter 13.

Example

Natasha works Sunday through Thursday, from 3:30 p.m. to 12:00 midnight, Shift 2, with a meal break from 6:30 to 7:00 p.m. During the second week of the pay period, she worked 2 hours of overtime on Sunday from midnight to 2:00 a.m., for a total of 10 hours on Sunday.

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2;
- 16 Sunday premium hours, Shift 2; and
- 2 overtime hours, Shift 2.

Natasha is not paid Sunday differential for the overtime hours.

SUNDAY PREMIUM PAY — Two Separate Tours

Introduction

In the event that a full-time FWS employee has two separate regular tours of duty on Sunday, the employee is entitled to Sunday premium pay not to exceed 8 hours for each regularly scheduled tour that does not involve overtime. Exception: Compressed work schedules. See Chapter 13.

Sunday premium pay does not apply to overtime hours.

Night differential is paid for each shift at the applicable rate for the time of the shift.

Note: Unless unavoidable, supervisors should not schedule an employee to work on two different daily tours on the same Sunday.

Examples

Susan works on Shift 2, 6:30 p.m. to 3:00 a.m., Sunday through Wednesday, and 6:30 p.m. Saturday to 3:00 a.m. Sunday, each week. She takes a meal break from 10:30 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. each day. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2; and
- 32 Sunday premium hours, Shift 2.

Clarification: Susan earns 8 hours of Sunday premium pay for 6:30 p.m. Sunday to 3:00 a.m. Monday (5 actual hours on Sunday). She also earns 8 hours of Sunday premium pay for 6:30 p.m. Saturday to 3:00 a.m. Sunday (3 actual hours on Sunday). Thus, Susan is entitled to 16 hours of Sunday premium pay each Sunday.

If Susan works the same schedule as above and she also works 8 hours of unscheduled overtime (3:00 a.m. to 7:00 a.m. on both Sundays), the pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2;
- 32 Sunday premium hours, Shift 2; and
- 8 irregular overtime hours, Shift 2.

Reminder: Susan is not paid Sunday premium pay for overtime hours.

HOLIDAY WORKED

Introduction

Pay for work performed on a holiday during hours which correspond to regularly scheduled hours of duty is double time. Double time is the basic pay normally received for the holiday (including night differential), plus a premium equal to the employee's basic rate of pay (including night differential) for any hours worked.

Important

All holiday work must be approved in writing, in advance.

Each OPDIV is required to ensure that overtime is properly approved, recorded, and documented. Documentation must be maintained with time and attendance data for six years.

Rules

Minimum hours - FWS employees who are required to report for work on a holiday are entitled to at least 2 hours of holiday pay, whether or not work is actually performed.

Night differential - Night differential is a part of basic pay. FWS employees receive their usual night differential pay (Shift 2 or 3) for any holiday hours worked. It is paid in addition to that paid for the holiday not worked.

Overtime - Pay for holiday hours worked is applicable only to those hours within the regularly scheduled duty hours. Any hours worked outside, or in excess of, the regularly scheduled tour hours on a holiday, are overtime. They are paid at the usual overtime rate.

Employees on regularly scheduled tours cannot receive more than 8 hours of holiday pay on any one holiday. Any hours over 8 worked on a holiday are overtime.

Employees on compressed work schedules or non-standard tours cannot receive more hours of holiday pay than are in their regularly scheduled hours for that day. Additional hours are overtime.

Pay Rate

In addition to receiving their regular pay for a holiday not worked, for any hours worked on a holiday during their regularly scheduled hours of duty, employees are paid an additional basic rate of pay.

HOLIDAY WORKED

Examples

Reminder: Employees are paid their regular shift differential when they work overtime, regardless of when the overtime was actually worked.

Example 1 - Day shift: Tony works the first shift from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. During the first week of the pay period, Tony worked his regular tour on Thanksgiving (Thursday) and then worked 1 hour of overtime (until 5:30 p.m.).

The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours;
- 8 holiday not worked hours;
- 8 holiday worked hours, Shift 1; and
- 1 overtime hour, Shift 1.

Example 2 - Night shift: Amy works the second shift from 3:00 p.m. to 11:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 6:00 to 6:30 p.m. During the second week of the pay period, she worked 6 hours on July 4th (Friday) from 3:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., with a meal break from 7:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours;
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2;
- 8 holiday not worked hours; and
- 6 holiday worked hours, Shift 2.

Clarification: Amy will be paid night differential for the 6 holiday worked hours (Shift 2), in addition to her regular night differential for 8 holiday hours not worked.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL

Introduction

Environmental differential is a differential pay authorized for FWS employees who are exposed to specific hazards, physical hardships, or working conditions of an unusually severe nature. Any employee exposed to a situation for which environmental differential pay (EDP) is authorized is entitled to the appropriate differential without regard to the type of appointment or tour.

Basic Environmental Rates

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) authorizes a percentage rate for the category in which the working condition or hazard falls. Those employees entitled to an EDP are paid an amount equal to the appropriate percentage rate multiplied by the current hourly rate for a WG-10, Step 2, employee for the wage area for which the EDP is payable. Actual exposure categories with percentages and shift categories with percentages are listed on the next pages.

Important

Environmental differential is paid in two ways:

- On a shift basis — for the entire shift on the day on which the exposure occurred; or
- For actual exposure — for each specific exposure, subject to some limitations.

You must verify the percentage paid for each on the current list approved by OPM.

Requirement

You must obtain an Exposure Certificate from the supervisor, which lists:

- Employee's name and Social Security number
- Date of exposure
- Type of exposure situation (actual exposure or shift basis)
- Time of exposure
- Rate of differential (percentage)

Exposure Certificates must be kept on file for 2 years.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL

Rules

Employees may be entitled to both actual exposure and on a shift basis. However, employees may not be paid more than one environmental differential for the same hours of work. If they are entitled to both types of differential during particular hours, they are paid the higher of the two rates.

The number of hours an employee is paid environmental differential pay may not exceed the number of hours of duty performed by the employee on the day of exposure. Exception: Employees paid on a per shift basis are paid for all hours in a pay status on the day on which he/she is exposed to the situation.

Environmental differential pay is considered to be a part of basic pay and is used to compute premium pay for overtime, holiday, or Sunday work. It is not considered a part of basic pay and is not used when computing lump-sum annual leave or severance pay.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL

Computing EDP Rates

Three different environmental differential pay (EDP) rates must be computed for every wage area. You must enter the appropriate rate into the time and attendance records for any employees receiving EDP.

To determine the rate of the environmental differential which is payable to the employee, you must know the percentage rate authorized for the particular exposure situation. Refer to the two tables on the preceding pages for this information.

Reminder: The rates are computed on the WG-10, Step 2 pay applicable for your wage area and apply to any grade. Therefore, you do not have to compute them for each individual employee.

Caution

The rates must be re-computed anytime the rate for a WG-10, step 2, employee changes in your wage area.

Do not use the rates computed in the following example in actual situations. First, verify the WG-10, Step 2, rate in your wage area. Then, using the formula in the example, compute the correct one for your area.

Example

Jack is in the Washington, D.C. wage area and his hourly rate is $18.00/hour. He is assigned to duty aboard surface craft which is a qualifying situation for actual exposure differential pay. The percentage rate authorized is 15 percent.

The hourly rate for a WG-10, Step 2, in Jack's area is $16.58/hour.

1) Compute the Basic EDP Rate: The basic EDP rate is the current hourly rate for a WG-10 step 2 in the employee's wage area, multiplied by the percentage payable for the exposure situation, counting one-half cent and over as a whole cent. Use this formula regardless of the grade of the employee. Note: The basic EDP rate is also used for any holiday hours worked.

Multiply $16.58 (not $18.00) by 15 percent:

$$16.58 \times .15 = 2.487, \text{ rounded off} = 2.49$$

$2.49 is the basic EDP rate.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL

Computing EDP Rates

Example

(cont.)

2) Compute the Sunday EDP Rate: The EDP rate for Sunday work is the basic EDP rate plus 25 percent.

Multiply $2.49 (base rate) X .25 = .6225, rounded off = .62

$3.11 is the Sunday EDP rate.

3) Compute the Overtime EDP Rate: The EDP rate for overtime work is the basic EDP rate multiplied by 1½.

$$2.49$ (basic rate) X 1.5 = 3.735, rounded off = 3.74

$3.74 is the overtime EDP rate.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL — Actual Exposure

Introduction

An employee entitled to EDP on an actual exposure basis is paid a minimum of 1 hour EDP for the exposure. For exposure beyond one hour, the employee is paid in increments of one quarter hour for each 15 minutes or portion in excess of 15 minutes.

Entitlement begins with the first instance of exposure and ends one hour later, except that when exposure continues beyond the hour, it is considered ended at the end of the quarter hour in which exposure actually terminated.

Rules to Determine Number of EDP Hours

For 1 hour or less - 1 hour of EDP.

Example: Nancy is exposed for 5 minutes. She earns 1 hour of EDP.

For more than 1 hour - 1 hour of EDP and $\frac{1}{4}$ hour for each additional 15 minutes and portion thereof in excess of 15 minutes.

Example: Sarah is exposed for 1 hour and 18 minutes. She earns 1 hour and 30 minutes of EDP.

Example: Bill is exposed for 1 hour and 16 minutes. He earns 1 hour and 30 minutes of EDP (two quarter-hour increments).

Reminder: Always round up.

For intermittently during a shift - Each exposure is considered separately, and each exposure that is less than 1 hour is first increased to an hour and then added together. However, the number of hours of EDP may not exceed the number of hours worked by the employee on the day of the exposure.

Example: Richard is exposed to unusually severe hazards between:

- 8:00 a.m. and 8:20 a.m.
- 10:15 a.m. and 10:35 a.m.
- 1:05 p.m. and 1:40 p.m.

He is entitled to 3 hours of EDP. However, if Richard had been exposed at 9 different times, for periods of less than 1 hour each during an 8-hour shift, he would receive 8 hours of EDP, not 9 hours.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL — Actual Exposure

Rules to Determine
Number of EDP Hours
(cont.)

More than one category or situation during the same hour - The exposure which results in the highest differential.

Example: Matthew is required to perform high work (25 percent rate) involving high voltage electrical energy (50 percent rate) for 20 minutes during an 8-hour shift.

He receives 1 hour of EDP at the 50 percent rate applicable to "high voltage electrical energy" working conditions.

Examples

Assume that the employees in the two examples here are both in a hypothetical wage area, XYZ, and that the EDP rates were computed correctly. The EDP rate of actual exposure is $10.00 for regular hours, $12.50 for Sunday hours, and $15.00 for overtime hours.

Example 1: Janice works on the second shift from 3:00 to 11:30 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, with a meal break from 6:00 to 6:30 p.m. During Week 2, she was exposed to a hazard (flying as a crew member) for 2 hours on Sunday, 3 regular hours on Monday, and 4 overtime hours on Friday. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 80 night differential hours, Shift 2;
- 16 Sunday premium hours, Shift 2;
- 4 overtime hours, Shift 2;
- 2 Sunday premium EDP hours (rate - $12.50);
- 3 regular EDP hours (rate - $10.00); and
- 4 overtime EDP hours (rate - $15.00).

Clarification: Janice receives:

- 8 regular hours each day (Sunday through Thursday);
- 8 night differential hours, Shift 2, each day;
- 16 Sunday premium hours, Shift 2 (8 each Sunday);
- 4 overtime hours, Shift 2 (overtime on Friday);
- 2 Sunday premium EDP hours (EDP at the Sunday rate);
- 3 regular EDP hours (EDP at the basic rate); and
- 4 overtime EDP hours (EDP overtime on Friday).

The percentage for flying is 100 percent. Therefore, Janice is paid the full amount of the computed EDP rates for the XYZ wage area.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL - Actual Exposure

Example 2: Manuel works on the first shift from 7:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from 12:00 noon to 12:30 p.m. During the first week of the pay period, on Thursday after leaving work at 4:00 p.m., he was called back to work overtime from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m. On Saturday, he worked overtime from 9:00 a.m to 12:00 noon.

During Week 1, Manuel was actually exposed to two hazards, dirty work (4%) and high work (25%).

The EDP rate of actual exposure for 4% is $.40 for regular hours and $.60 for overtime hours. The EDP rate of actual exposure for 25% is $2.50 for regular hours and $3.75 for overtime hours.

The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours;
- 2 callback overtime hours, Shift 1;
- 3 overtime hours, Shift 1;
- 4:30 regular EDP hours @ $.40;
- 3:30 regular EDP hours @ $2.50;
- 1 overtime EDP hour @ $.60; and
- 1 overtime EDP hour @ $3.75.

Clarification: See chart on next page for actual exposure hours. Manuel receives:

- 1 hour of regular EDP @ $.40 for Monday, Week 1;
- 1 hour of regular EDP @ $2.50 for Monday, Week 1;
- 1:30 hours of regular EDP @ $.40 for Tuesday, Week 1;
- 1:30 hours of regular EDP @ $2.50 for Tuesday, Week 1;
- 1 hour of regular EDP @ $2.50 for Wednesday, Week 1;
- 1 hour of regular EDP @ $.40 for Wednesday, Week 1;
- 1 hour of overtime EDP @ $.60 for Thursday, Week 1;
- 1 hour of regular EDP @ $.40 for Friday, Week 1; and
- 1 hour of overtime EDP @ $3.75 for Saturday, Week 1.
- 8 regular hours each day, Monday through Friday, both weeks;
- 2 hours callback overtime, Shift 1, Thursday, Week 1 (though he worked 1 hour, he is entitled to 2 hours of pay for callback overtime); and
- 3 overtime hours, Shift 1, Saturday, Week 1.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL — Actual Exposure

*ChartChart for Example 2: Manuel's actual exposure hours are:

	10 a.m. - 10:30 a.m. 10 a.m. - 10:05 a.m.	High work, 25% Dirty work, 4%	1 hour @ 25% (pay for an hour at higher rate only)

Saturday	9:05 a.m. - 9:30 a.m.	Cold work, 25%	1 overtime hour @ 25%

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL — Shift Basis

Introduction

An employee entitled to EDP on a shift basis is paid EDP for the entire shift in which the exposure occurred.

Reminder: Some employees may be entitled to EDP on a shift basis and an actual exposure basis. Should this happen, they receive the higher of the two.

Rules

1) If an employee entitled to EDP on a shift basis is exposed to a hazard at any time during work (including regular hours or overtime), he/she receives EDP:

- for every hour in the regular tour; and
- for all overtime hours that day (if any).

For the day on which the exposure took place, record regular EDP hours for the entire shift, even if the exposure was during overtime.

Record any overtime hours worked in conjunction with a shift in which exposure took place as overtime EDP hours, even if the exposure was during regular hours.

2) If an employee is exposed to a hazard for which EDP is payable on a shift basis, and on the same day is exposed to a hazard for which EDP is payable on an actual exposure basis at a higher rate, he/she receives EDP:

- for actual exposure at the higher rate for the time of exposure, and
- at the shift rate for the rest of the shift.

For the actual exposure hours at a higher rate, record the type of exposure, the EDP rate and the number of hours of actual exposure. Subtract the actual exposure hours from the number of hours in the tour for that day and record difference in the EDP shift-based hours.

Do not record hours under the shift-based hours that you already recorded under actual exposure hours.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL — Shift Basis

Example 1

Sam is entitled to EDP on a shift basis. His tour is 7:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from 12:00 to 12:30 p.m. The percentage rate for asbestos exposure is 8 percent. In Sam's area, the EDP rate is $.80 for regular hours and $1.20 for overtime hours.

On Monday during Week 1, at the request of his supervisor, Sam worked until 5:30 p.m. (2 hours overtime). He was exposed to asbestos from 5:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. during the overtime. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours (8 hours each day, Monday through Friday);
- 2 overtime hours, Shift 1 (Monday, Week 1);
- 8 regular EDP hours (Monday, Week 1 @ $.80 per hour); and
- 2 overtime EDP hours (Monday, Week 1 @ $1.20 per hour).

Clarification: Sam receives EDP pay on Monday, Week 1, for the 8 hours of his regular tour, because even though he was exposed during overtime, he is entitled to EDP for the entire shift.

Example 2

Mark is entitled to EDP on a shift basis. His tour is 7:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from 11:30 a.m. to noon. On a shift basis, the percentage rate for exposure to low degree micro-organisms is 4 percent ($.40 for regular hours in Mark's area). For actual exposure, welding in confined spaces, the percentage rate is 6 percent ($.60 per hour in Mark's area).

On the first Tuesday of the pay period, Mark was exposed to micro-organisms (low degree hazard). From 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. on that same Tuesday, Mark was also exposed to a higher level hazard, welding in confined spaces. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours (8 hours each day, Monday through Friday);
- 2 EDP hours actual exposure (Tuesday, Wk 1 @ $.60/hr); and
- 6 EDP hours shift environmental (Tuesday, Wk 1 @ $.40/hr).

Clarification: Although Mark is entitled to EDP on a shift basis for his entire 8 hour tour on Tuesday, he was actually exposed for 2 hours to a higher level hazard. Therefore, for those 2 hours, he is entitled to actual exposure EDP.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL — And Paid Leave

Introduction

The amount of EDP employees receive while on paid leave depends on whether the employee is paid on a shift basis or an actual exposure basis.

Employees are not paid an environmental differential during periods of absence on paid leave on any day on which they are not exposed to situations for which an environmental differential is authorized.

Note: Employees do not receive an environmental differential for hours absent on unpaid leave.

Rule - Shift Basis

If an employee is exposed to a situation for which EDP is authorized on a shift basis, the environmental differential will be paid during a period of absence on paid leave for the day on which the exposure occurs. In other words, an employee who has been exposed is entitled to EDP for the entire shift, including the hours absent on paid leave during the same workday.

The employee is not paid environmental differential on any days of paid leave that he/she is not exposed.

Rule - Actual Exposure

If an employee is exposed to a situation for which EDP is authorized on an actual exposure basis, the environmental differential will be paid during a period of absence on paid leave only to the extent that the leave falls within minimum payment periods.

In other words, if an employee worked 10 minutes and then spent the rest of the same hour on paid leave, the employee would receive 1 hour of EDP, even though he or she had worked only 10 minutes. The employee would not receive EDP for any additional hours absent on paid leave that day.

ENVIRONMENTAL DIFFERENTIAL — And Paid Leave

Example 1 - Shift Basis

Paul works from 7:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. On the second Friday of the pay period, he was exposed to toxic chemicals (low degree), for which the percentage rate is 4 percent. He then used annual leave from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. Paul is entitled to shift EDP at a rate of $.40 per hour. The pay period totals are:

- 77 regular hours (8 hours each day Monday through Friday, Wk 1, and Monday through Thursday, Wk 2, 5 hours on Friday, Wk 2;
- 3 annual leave hours (Friday, Wk 2); and
- 8 regular EDP hours (Friday Wk 2 @ $.40/hr).

Clarification: Since Paul receives EDP on a shift basis and was exposed to a hazard on a day he used paid leave, he is entitled to EDP for the entire shift, including the hours on paid leave.

Example 2 - Actual Exposure

Diane works Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m, with lunch from 10:45 to 11:15 a.m. On the second Monday, she was intermittently exposed to hazardous weather for 5 intervals of 5 minutes each, between 8:00 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. (as shown below), for which the percentage rate is 25 percent. Diane then used annual leave for 4 hours, from 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. on the day of the exposure. Her basic EDP rate is $2.50 per hour.

Actual Exposure Times:	Entitlement to EDP:

8:05-8:10 a.m.	1 hour
9:10-9:15 a.m.	1 hour
10:15-10:20 a.m.	1 hour
11:20-11:25 a.m.	1 hour
12:25-12:30 p.m.	1 hour

The pay period totals are:

- 76 regular hours (8 each day Monday through Friday, Wk 1, Tuesday through Friday, Wk 2, and 4 on Monday, Wk 2) ;
- 4 annual leave hours (Monday, Wk 2); and
- 5 EDP hours (Monday, Wk 2 @ $2.50/hr).

*Example 2 -
Actual Exposure

Clarification: Each 5-minute segment of exposure is rounded up to 1 hour, for a total of 5 hours. Though Diane worked only 4 hours during the shift, since her last exposure was between 12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m., and part of that hour was spent on paid leave, Diane is entitled to EDP for 1 of the 4 hours of paid leave. Thus, Diane is entitled to 5 hours of EDP for that day. (If Diane had been absent on unpaid leave instead, she would only have received 4 hours of EDP.)

Note: Diane's exposures were all discontinuous (i.e., not falling within the same hour). If any exposures had been continuous (i.e., falling within the same hour), she would not have been entitled to 1 hour of EDP. For example, if her second exposure had been from 8:55 a.m. to 9:12 a.m., she would have received 1 hour for the first exposure and 15 minutes for the second exposure because it is continuous.

Chapter 11. Other Employees

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Overview

Introduction

Part-time employees work from 16 to 32 hours a week.

Exception: Part-time employees employed prior to April 8, 1979, may work less than 16 hours or more than 32 hours a week. With special exception, other part-time employees may work less than 16 hours per week, but there is no authority to allow more than 32 hours per week.

The number of hours for the part-time tour is determined prior to employment and is entered on the SF-50. In some cases, exact hours are also pre-determined and are recorded on the SF-50. The number of pre-determined hours (and, if applicable, the exact days and hours) must be accounted for with either regular hours or appropriate leave.

Examples

Example 1: Regular Tour - Floyd is a part-time employee scheduled to work 30 hours a week, 8:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, with ½ hour for lunch. He worked his regularly scheduled tour during both weeks of the pay period. The pay period total is:

- 60 regular hours (6 hours each day Monday through Friday, both weeks).

Example 2: Less Than Scheduled Tour - Mary is a part-time employee scheduled to work 18 hours a week, 8:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, with ½ hour for lunch. On the first Monday of the pay period, Mary worked from 8:00 to 11:00 a.m. She worked her regularly scheduled tour for the balance of the pay period. The pay period total is:

- 33 regular hours (3 hours Monday, Week 1, plus 6 hours each day Wednesday and Friday, Week 1, and Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, Week 2).

Mary must request appropriate leave for the 3 hours absent on the first Monday.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Additional Hours and Overtime

Additional Hours Worked and Overtime

Like full-time employees, part-time employees on regular tours do not receive overtime pay until they have been in pay status (i.e., working or absent on paid leave) for more than 8 hours in a day or 40 hours in a week.

All hours up to 8 in a day or 40 in a week are regular hours, even if the part-time employee:

- Has been in pay status more hours than the scheduled tour, and/or
- Worked on non-scheduled days.

Any hours over 8 in one day or 40 in a week are overtime.

Examples - Additional Regular Hours

Example 1: Renee works 6 hours a day from 8:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday, with lunch from 12:00 noon to 12:30 p.m. In Week 2, she worked until 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday. The pay period totals are:

- 52 regular hours (6 each day Monday through Thursday, Week 1, and Monday and Wednesday, Week 2; plus 8 each day Tuesday and Thursday, Week 2).

Clarification: There is no overtime. Renee did not work more than 8 hours on any day or more than 40 hours in a week.

Example 2: Emil works 5 hours a day from 8:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Emil worked his regular tour, and he worked 8 hours each day Thursday, Friday, and Saturday during Week 1. The pay period totals are:

- 64 regular hours (5 each day, Monday through Wednesday, and 8 each day Thursday through Saturday, Week 1; plus 5 each day Monday through Friday, Week 2).

Clarification: There is no overtime. Emil worked outside his regular tour, including a Saturday, but worked less than 40 hours in that week.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Additional Hours and Overtime

Examples - Overtime

Example 1: Ellen works 7 hours a day, Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with lunch from 11:30 p.m. to noon. The first Monday, she worked 9 hours (until 5:30 p.m.). Pay period totals are:

- 71 regular hours (8 on Monday, Week 1, and 7 each day, Tuesday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Friday, Week 2); and
- 1 overtime hour (Monday, Week 1).

Clarification: Because she worked 9 hours (more than 8 hours a day) on the first Monday, Ellen is paid 1 hour overtime.

Example 2: Mel was scheduled to work 8 hours a day, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday each week, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. During the first week of the pay period, Mel used annual leave on Monday and worked 8 hours on Tuesday through Saturday. He worked his regular tour the balance of the pay period. The pay period totals are:

- 8 annual leave hours (Monday, Week 1);
- 56 regular hours (8 each day, Tuesday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Wednesday, Week 2); and
- 8 overtime hours (Saturday, Week 1).

Clarification: Because Mel had been in pay status for more than 40 hours during the first week (8 hours annual leave and 32 regular hours), he is paid overtime for those 8 hours worked on Saturday.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Differentials

Introduction

Part-time employees who work at night as part of their regular tour are entitled to earn night differential.

Sunday differential is not authorized for part-time employees, even if it is a part of their regularly scheduled tour. Exception: Title 38 employees. See Chapter 12.

Hazard differential is paid to part-time GS employees.

Environmental differential is paid to part-time Federal Wage System employees.

Night Differential and Leave

As is the case with full-time employees, the amount of paid leave a part-time GS employee uses during the pay period affects the amount of night differential pay that the employee receives.

If a part-time GS employee uses 8 or more hours of paid leave during the pay period, night differential is not paid for any paid leave absences during that pay period. Exceptions: If absent on regular military leave, special military leave, court leave, or continuation of pay, they continue to get night differential for nights they do not work, no matter how long they are away on leave.

FWS employees who are regularly assigned to a night shift are paid a night shift differential for any absence on paid leave, regardless of the amount of paid leave used during the pay period.

Reminder: Night differential is never paid for absences on unpaid leave.

For Additional Information

For additional rules governing night, Sunday, environmental, and hazard differentials, see:

- Chapter 9 for GS employees; and
 - Chapter 10 for FWS employees.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Holiday Not Worked

Introduction

Part-time employees are paid for holidays not worked only when they are regularly scheduled to work on that day, and only for the number of hours in their regularly scheduled tour for that day.

If a part-time employee is not scheduled to work on the day on which a holiday falls, he/she is not entitled to pay for that day.

Part-time employees are not paid for holidays that are celebrated on "in lieu of holidays", whether they are scheduled to work or not.

An "in lieu of holiday" is when the holiday actually falls on one day, but is celebrated on another day. For example, if a holiday falls on a Saturday and employees are given a day off on Friday to celebrate, Friday is the "in lieu of holiday" day off; or if the holiday falls on a Sunday, and they are given a day off on Monday to celebrate, Monday is the "in lieu of holiday" day off.

This means that if Christmas falls on a Saturday, and the "in lieu of" holiday is Friday, a part-time employee is not entitled to the Friday as a holiday, even if he/she were scheduled to work on that day. However, in such a situation, the employee may be granted excused absence (administrative leave) where, for example, the office is closed.

Example - In Lieu of Holiday

Jo works both weeks of the pay period, Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, with no meal break. July 4th fell on Saturday, Week 2, and Federal employees were given an "in lieu of holiday" day off on the Friday before the 4th. Jo worked her regular tour each day except for that Friday, which she did not work because the office was closed. The pay period totals are:

- 36 regular hours (4 hours per day Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Thursday, Week 2); and
- 4 hours administrative leave (Friday, Week 2).

Clarification: Since she is a part-time employee, Jo cannot be paid for the day off which was celebrated "in lieu of" the actual holiday. As the office was closed, Jo's supervisor granted her 4 hours admin leave. Otherwise, Jo would have had to use 4 hours annual leave or LWOP.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Holiday Not Worked

Examples - Holiday Not Worked

Example 1: John works a regularly scheduled tour Monday through Thursday from 6:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m., without a meal break. On Labor Day holiday, which fell on Monday during the first week of the pay period, he did not work. The pay period totals are:

- 4 holiday not worked hours (Monday, Week 1); and
- 28 regular hours (4 hours per day Tuesday through Thursday, Week 1, and Monday through Thursday, Week 2).

Clarification: John is paid for the holiday he did not work because the actual holiday falls on a Monday when he was scheduled to work.

Example 2: Shane works a regularly scheduled tour Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, from 7:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., with lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Memorial Day falls on a Monday, Week 2. The pay period total is:

- 36 regular hours (6 hours each day Wednesday through Friday, both weeks).

Clarification: Shane is not paid for the holiday because he is not regularly scheduled to work on Monday.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Holiday Worked

Introduction

Part-time employees are entitled to holiday premium pay for work performed on a holiday which falls within their regularly scheduled daily tour. They must be paid a minimum of 2 hours pay.

Part-time employees may not receive holiday premium pay for hours of work performed outside their regularly scheduled tour.

Example - Holiday Hours Worked During Tour

Jeff works 6 hours a day, 8:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with a lunch break from noon to 12:30 p.m. On Labor Day (Monday), Week 1, he worked his scheduled tour of 6 hours on the holiday. The pay period totals are:

- 54 regular hours (6 each day Tuesday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Friday, Week 2);
- 6 holiday not worked hours (Monday, Week 1); and
- 6 holiday worked hours (Monday Week 1).

Clarification: Jeff is paid double time for working on the holiday (his regular pay for the holiday not worked plus his regular pay for the holiday worked) because he worked on a holiday that fell on one of his regularly scheduled workdays.

Note: Had Jeff worked fewer hours on the holiday, he would have been paid holiday premium pay, or holiday worked hours, for the actual number of hours he worked (or a minimum of 2 hours).

Example - Holiday Hours Worked Outside Tour

Mark's regular tour is 6 hours a day, from 7:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Friday of Week 2 was a holiday. He worked on the holiday from 12:00 noon to 4:00 p.m. without a break. The pay period totals are:

- 56 regular hours (6 each day, Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Thursday, Week 2, plus 2 hours on Friday, Week 2);
- 6 holiday not worked hours (Friday, Week 2); and
- 2 holiday worked hours (Friday, Week 2).

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Holiday Worked

*Example -
Holiday Hours

Outside Tour

Clarification: Mark is paid 2 hours of holiday premium pay for the hours worked between 12:00 noon and 2:00 p.m. which fall within his regular tour on that holiday, and regular pay for the 2 hours worked from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. because these hours are outside his regular tour. Since he did not work over 8 hours that day, he is not paid overtime pay.

Note: Had Mark worked only until 3:00 p.m., he still would have received 2 hours of holiday premium pay because there is a 2 hour minimum requirement.

*Example -
More Hours
Than Tour But Not Overtime*

Maria works 6 hours a day, 8:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with a meal break from 11:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. On Monday, Labor Day, Week 1, she worked from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with a break at the usual time. The pay period totals are:

- 56 regular hours (2 hours Monday, Week 1, plus 6 hours each day for the balance of her regular schedule);
- 6 holiday not worked hours (Monday, Week 1); and
- 6 holiday worked hours (Monday, Week 1).

Clarification: Maria is paid holiday premium pay for the six hours between 8:00 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on the holiday because those are her regularly scheduled hours of duty. She is paid regular pay for the 2 hours from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. because the hours are outside her tour.

*Example -
Holiday
Worked - Not
Overtime*

Raphael is a part-time employee who works 8 hours a day, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, with a meal break from noon to 12:30 p.m. On Monday, Labor Day, he worked from 8:30 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. (7 hours). The pay period total is:

- 55 regular hours (8 each day, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, both weeks, and 7 regular hours, Monday, Week 1).

Clarification: Raphael is not paid for a holiday not worked or holiday premium pay because Monday is not part of his regular scheduled tour.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Holiday Worked

*Example -
Holiday
Worked -
Overtime*

Theresa is scheduled to work 6 hours a day, 11:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from 2:30 to 3:00 p.m. On Monday, Labor Day, she worked from 11:00 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. (9 hours). The pay period totals are:

- 56 regular hours (6 hours each day Tuesday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Friday, Week 2, plus 2 hours on Monday, Week 1);
- 6 holiday not worked hours (Monday, Week 1);
- 6 holiday worked hours (Monday, Week 1); and
- 1 overtime hour (Monday, Week 1).

Clarification: For the holiday, Theresa is paid holiday premium pay for her regularly scheduled hours worked, 11:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. For the additional hours, she is paid her regular pay for two hours and overtime for one hour. Reminder: Overtime is paid for any hours worked over eight in a day.

Note: The Labor Day work in this example was not regularly scheduled; therefore, there is no night differential paid for the 6:00 to 8:30 p.m. work.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Paid Leave

Introduction

Except for holiday leave, paid leave for part-time employees is basically the same as for full-time employees (e.g., annual leave, sick leave, court leave). However, for part-time employees, accruals are computed each pay period, based on the number of hours worked, and leave is charged only for the number of scheduled hours of their tours.

Example: Wesley is scheduled to work Monday, Wednesday, and Friday each week from 7:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., with a lunch break from 11:00 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. He was absent on annual leave the first week of the pay period. The pay period totals are:

- 19½ hours annual leave (6½ hours each day, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, Week 1); and
- 19½ regular hours (6½ hours each day, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, Week 2).

Clarification: Charge leave only for the number of hours per day that Wesley was scheduled to work. Do not charge leave for lunch breaks or for the days or hours that he was not scheduled to work.

Annual and Sick Leave Accruals

Part-time employees earn annual and sick leave at the same rate of accrual as full-time employees. Because part-time employees work fewer hours than full-time employees, the leave hours earned by them are proportionately less. Their accruals must be prorated, based on total hours in a pay status and number of years in Federal service.

For conversions from full-time to part-time, or vice-versa, during a pay period, use the part-time formula to compute leave accruals.

A chart of leave accruals for part-time employees follows. The formula for computing prorated leave for part-time employees begins on the page after the chart. Below is a reminder of leave categories:

If employee has been with Federal Service for...	The Leave Category is...
0 - 3 years	4 hours
over 3 - 15 years	6 hours
over 15 years	8 hours

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Paid Leave

Maximum Accrual For determining leave accruals, part-time employees are limited to a maximum of 80 hours in a pay status per pay period (including regular hours and paid leave hours). Any hours over 80 are disregarded in computing leave earnings.

Caution Part-time employees in annual leave category 6 do not accrue the additional 4 hours in the last full pay period of the calendar year.

Carryover Hours Carryover hours are the regular hours remaining after the computation of annual and sick leave accruals for the current pay period. They are carried over to the next pay period, added to the number of regular hours worked in that pay period, and used to compute those accruals. There are both sick leave carryover hours and annual leave carryover hours. Since the sick leave category is always 4, regardless of the time in Federal service,

- carryover hours for employees in annual leave category 4 will always be the same for annual and sick leave; and
- carryover hours for employees in annual leave category 6 and 8 may be the same, but usually are not the same, for annual and sick leave.

If an employee changes from part-time to full-time, any carryover hours are dropped.

Divisor Table Use the following table to determine the correct divisor to use to compute annual leave accruals. For sick leave, always use divisor 20.

IF THE LEAVE CATEGORY IS...	THEN DIVIDE THE TOTAL HOURS BY...

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Paid Leave

Formula for Prorating Leave

Use the HHS-564 (Administrative Time and Leave Record), or similar form, to record and accurately calculate leave accrued for part-time employees. There are 3 columns labeled "Part-Time" on the right hand side of the HHS-564 for this purpose. (Sample HHS-564 on page 18.)

1. Total the number of regular hours and paid leave hours for the pay period and record the total in the column marked "HRS WRKD PP" on the HHS-564.

Reminder: Paid leave includes any type of paid leave (compensatory time, annual leave, sick leave, administrative leave, etc.) used, as well as any holidays not worked. Hours worked in excess of 80 are not included in the total.

2. Add any previous carryover hours to the total hours worked this pay period. For example, if Peter worked 32 hours this pay period and has 6 annual leave carryover hours and 12 sick leave carryover hours:
 - a. 32 hours worked + 6 annual leave carryover hours from the last pay period = 38 hours. This total is used to compute the annual leave accrual.
 - b. 32 hours worked + 12 sick leave carryover hours from the last pay period = 44 hours. This total is used to compute the sick leave accrual.
3. Compute the annual leave and sick leave accruals by dividing the total number of hours by the correct divisor. For example, if Peter worked 32 total hours this pay period, has 6 annual leave carryover hours and 12 sick leave carryover hours from last pay period, and is in leave category 6:
 - a. Peter earned 2 hours of annual leave this pay period and has 12 carryover hours for next pay period.

 $32 + 6 = 38$ divided by 13 = 2 with 12 hours left over
 - b. Peter earned 2 hours of sick leave this pay period and has 4 carryover hours for next pay period.

 $32 + 12 = 44$ divided by 20 = 2 with 4 hours left over

3. Clarification: Using total hours worked this pay period, 32, add the previous pay period carryover hours (if any). The chart shows a divisor of 13 for annual leave category 6. (Always use 20 for sick leave.) After performing the division, the remaining number of hours are the carryover hours for next pay period.

Sample HHS-564 for Part-Time Employee - The HHS-564 on the next page is a sample recording for Amy who is a part-time employee in leave category 8 (divisor is 10) who changed from full-time to part-time at the beginning of the 1998 leave year. Amy now works Monday through Friday, both weeks of the pay period, from 7:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon with no lunch break.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Unpaid Leave

Introduction

Part-time employees may use approved leave without pay (LWOP) or be absent without leave (AWOL), furloughed, or suspended. These types of leave are unpaid. Part-time employees should only be charged unpaid leave for the number of hours per day for which they are regularly scheduled to be at work, or for an appropriate portion of those hours.

Examples

Example 1: Angela works 4 hours a day, 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, Monday through Thursday, without a meal break. She was authorized for leave without pay every day during Week 1. The pay period totals are:

- 16 hours LWOP (4 hours each day Monday through Thursday, Week 1); and
- 16 regular hours (4 hours each day Monday through Thursday, Week 2).

Clarification: Since Angela is scheduled for only 4 hours on Monday through Thursday each week, she is not charged leave for days she is not scheduled (Fridays), nor is she charged more hours per day than those for which she is scheduled (4).

Example 2: Angela works 4 hours a day, 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, Monday through Thursday, without a meal break. She was authorized for 2 hours leave without pay every day during Week 1. The pay period totals are:

- 8 hours LWOP (2 hours each day Monday through Thursday, Week 1); and
- 24 regular hours (2 hours each day Monday through Thursday, Week 1, and 4 hours each day Monday through Thursday, Week 2).

Clarification: Angela is charged 2 hours per day only for days she is scheduled to work. She is not charged for day she is not scheduled to work (Fridays).

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Compensatory Time and Time Off Incentive Award

Compensatory Time

Part-time GS employees are entitled to earn and use compensatory time instead of receiving payment for unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime. The rules and regulations are the same as for full-time employees. However, because their scheduled hours are fewer, the compensatory time used by part-time employees is proportionately less.

Reminder: Compensatory time must be earned before it can be used. Also, employees must work 8 hours in a day or 40 hours in a week before they can earn overtime or compensatory time.

Do not confuse regular compensatory time with religious compensatory time. They are not the same and each has entirely different rules and regulations.

See Chapter 9 for rules and regulations for compensatory time.

Religious Compensatory Time

Part-time employees are entitled to earn and use religious compensatory time for religious holidays. The rules and regulations are the same as they are for full-time employees.

Part-time employees are charged religious compensatory time only for the number of hours of their scheduled tour. Therefore, the amount of religious compensatory time earned and used is proportionately less than for full-time employees.

For more information, see Chapter 7, Religious Compensatory Time.

Time Off Incentive Award

Part-time employees may be granted Time Off Incentive Awards. The amount of time which they may be granted, however, is proportionately less than that for full-time employees. They may be granted time off leave for an amount equal to the average number of hours of work in his/her biweekly scheduled tour of duty during a leave year.

A single award of time off leave may be granted not to exceed an amount equal to ½ of the maximum amount that could be granted during the leave year.

See Chapter 4, Time Off Incentive Award.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Military Leave

Introduction

Part-time employees with permanent appointments AND a scheduled tour of duty of 16 to 32 hours a week, who are members of the Armed Forces Reserves or National Guard, are eligible for military leave on a fiscal year basis just as are full-time employees. The rules and requirements for military leave for part-time employees are the same as those for full-time employees. However, the number of days of regular military leave for part-time employees is prorated.

For definitions of the three types of military leave and applicable rules, see Chapter 4, Military Leave.

Regular Military Leave

Regular military leave for part-time employees is a percentage of the 15 days of regular military leave granted to full-time employees. It is prorated by:

- Multiplying the scheduled number of hours in the employee's workweek by 15 (the maximum days granted per year); and then dividing that number of hours by 40 (the number of hours in a regular workweek). See the chart on the following page.

Example: An employee who is regularly scheduled to work 32 hours a week is entitled to 12 days of regular military leave per fiscal year. (32 hours times 15 = 480, divided by 40 = 12).

- Part-time employees who do not use the entire prorated number of regular military leave days may carry over the unused portion from one fiscal year to the next. The maximum number of days which may be carried over is the number of days prorated for the employee for the fiscal year.
 - Regular military leave is charged in increments of one day. It includes work days and non-work days (holidays, weekends, off days, etc.) falling within the period of absence indicated on the military orders. For each calendar day or partial calendar day absent, 1 full day of leave is deducted from the regular military leave balance. For regular workdays absent, charge the number of scheduled tour hours. For non-scheduled workdays, charge 8 hours, regardless of the number of hours the employee works on a tour day.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Military Leave

Regular Military Leave

You may use the formula on the previous page to compute the number of days of regular military leave that part-time employees are allowed, or you may use the following chart.

IF the biweekly
part-time tour is...

THEN the annual regular military leave allowed is...

52-54	10
46-50	09
40-44	08
36-38	07
32-34	06

Special Military Leave

Part-time employees are entitled to 22 work days (176 hours) of special military leave per calendar year just as are full-time employees. This leave is charged only for the hours used, in the same increments as annual and sick leave.

Military Leave for Parades and Encampments

Part-time employees who are members of the National Guard of the District of Columbia are entitled to unlimited military leave for parades and encampments for all days of a parade or encampment ordered, just as are full-time employees. Leave is charged in increments of one day.

Examples

Example 1: Sylvia works 6 hours a day, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday with a ½ hour lunch break. She was absent all of Week 2 on military leave for parades and encampments. The pay period totals are:

- 18 regular hours (6 hours each day Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, Week 1); and
- 18 hours military leave for parades and encampments (6 hours each day Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, Week 2).

Sylvia used 3 days of military leave for parades and encampments. Non-tour days are not counted.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Military Leave

(cont.)*

Example 2: Henry works 6 hours a day, Monday through Thursday, from 8:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. He presented military orders which stated that he had military duty from the first Monday of the pay period through the second Monday of the pay period. Henry was absent on regular military leave the first week of the pay period and returned on Tuesday of the second week. The pay period totals are:

- 30 hours regular military leave (6 hours per day Monday through Thursday, Week 1, and 6 hours Monday, Week 2);
- 24 hours non-tour military leave (8 hours per day for Friday, Saturday, and Sunday in the middle of the pay period); and
- 18 regular hours (6 hours per day Tuesday through Thursday, Week 2).

Eight days are subtracted from the military leave balance (includes non-tour days falling within the period of absence indicated on the military orders).

Example 3: Joy works 4 hours a day, Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, with no lunch break. She was called for special military duty from the first Friday of the pay period through the second Monday of the pay period and was absent during that time, returning to work on Tuesday. The pay period totals are:

- 8 hours special military leave (4 hours per day Friday, Week 1 and Monday, Week 2);
- 32 regular hours (4 hours per day Monday through Thursday, Week 1 and Tuesday through Friday, Week 2).

Joy has used 8 hours of special military duty leave. Leave is charged in increments actually used and non-tour days are not counted.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Continuation of Pay

Introduction

Part-time employees who have work-related injuries qualify for continuation of pay (COP) for up to 45 days, the same as full-time employees. However, because part-time employees may have a schedule in which the hours each week are the same OR one in which the hours each week are different, OR sometimes they do not work each week of the appointment, there are two ways to compute COP pay. Specific details on computing pay in the different instances are located in Title 20, Volumn 1, Section 10.

For any days that the employee is not scheduled to work during the period of disability (including Saturdays, Sundays, holidays, or off days), charge 8 hours of non-tour COP, regardless of the number of hours the employee works on a scheduled tour day.

If the employee returns to work and then is absent part of a day for a medical appointment related to the injury, or because he/she is required to work a limited schedule because of the injury, charge the exact amount of COP time that the employee is actually absent.

For every day or portion of a day that the employee is absent, 1 full day is subtracted from the COP balance.

For rules and regulations on Continuation of Pay, See Chapter 6.

Same Hours Worked Each Week

For part-time employees who work the same number of hours each week, charge only the number of regularly scheduled tour hours per day to COP. As usual, charge 8 hours COP for each non-workday.

Example: Jake works from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, Monday through Thursday, without a break. He was on COP for the entire pay period, continuing from the previous pay period. The pay period totals are:

- 32 COP hours (4 hours each day, Monday through Thursday, both weeks); and
- 48 non-tour COP hours (8 hours each day, Sundays, Fridays, and Saturdays, both weeks).

Fourteen days will be deducted from the COP balance.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Continuation of Pay

*Works
Irregular
Hours OR Does Not Work Each
Week of the Appointment*

For part-time employees who do not work the same number of hours each week OR who do not work each week of the year or appointment, pay is calculated using weekly average earnings for the 1-year period prior to the date of the injury. Although they are allowed 45 days of COP, COP is paid differently for these employees.

In these cases, follow the procedures for the time and attendance system you are using to transmit a time and attendance record for the employee. A hard copy of the certified time and attendance record should also be forwarded immediately to the Personnel and Pay Systems Division (PPSD) for computation and payment.

Example: Maureen is a part-time employee who works each week of the year, but does not work the same number of hours each week. Currently, during the first week of the pay period, she works from 8:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Monday through Friday, with lunch from 12:00 noon to 12:30 p.m. During the second week of the pay period, she works Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., with no lunch break. Maureen was on COP for the entire pay period, continuing from the previous pay period.

Because Maureen does not work the same hours each week, her pay must be computed by PPCSD.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Alternative Work Schedules

Introduction

Part-time employees may work an alternative work schedule (AWS). An AWS is either flexible or compressed (CWS) and the regulations are the same as they are for full-time employees.

For rules governing flexible and compressed work schedules and for additional information, see Chapter 13.

Flexible Work Schedules

Like full-time employees, part-time employees on flexible work schedules are entitled to earn credit hours when they work more than their daily tour. Credit hours must be earned before they can be used.

A limited number of credit hours may be carried forward from one pay period to the next. For part-time employees, the maximum number of credit hours which may be carried forward is $\frac{1}{4}$ of their biweekly work requirement.

Compressed Work Schedules (CWS)

Compressed work schedules enable part-time employees to work their tours in fewer days by sometimes working over 8 hours in a day. A part-time employee on a CWS works:

- Normally less than 40 hours per week; but
- 32 to 64 regular hours a pay period.

There are no common schedules for part-time employees on a compressed work tour. They are unique. However, once determined, they are fixed schedules and any changes must be requested and approved prior to the beginning of a new pay period.

Overtime and/or Compensatory Time

For employees on compressed work schedules:

- Only hours over the scheduled tour may be reported as overtime/compensatory time;
 - Only hours over 8 in a day or 40 in a week may be considered for overtime/compensatory time; and
 - The overtime/compensatory time rules must be followed.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES - Alternative Work Schedules

CWS Examples

Example 1: Regular hours - Mary is a part-time employee who works three 12-hours days, Monday and Wednesday, Week 1, and Tuesday, Week 2. Her compressed work schedule is from 7:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on those days, with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. Mary worked her regular schedule. The pay period total is:

- 36 regular hours (12 each day Monday and Wednesday, Week 1, and Tuesday, Week 2).

Example 2: Overtime - Matthew has a compressed work schedule of 12 hours Monday and Wednesday, Week 1, and 6 hours Tuesday and Wednesday, Week 2.

Matthew worked 14 hours on Monday, 8 hours on Tuesday, and 12 hours on Wednesday, Week 1. He worked 8 hours on Tuesday and 6 hours on Wednesday, Week 2. The pay period totals are:

- 46 regular hours, (12 hours each day Monday and Wednesday, and 8 hours Tuesday, Week 1, 8 hours Tuesday and 6 hours Wednesday, Week 2); and
- 2 hours overtime (Monday, Week 1).

Clarification: Matthew is paid overtime pay for 2 hours on Monday, Week 1, because he worked over his scheduled tour of 12 hours and, as required by law, the number of hours worked were over 8 in a day. (He is not paid overtime pay for the hours worked on each Tuesday, because the total hours worked did not exceed 8 in a day or 40 in week.)

INTERMITTENT EMPLOYEES

Introduction

Intermittent employees, also called when actually employed (WAE) employees, do not have regularly scheduled tours of duty. They are paid only for the actual hours worked each day and do not account for absence with leave. If an intermittent employee does not work during an entire pay period, a time and attendance record for him or her is not submitted.

Rules

Regular hours - For intermittent employees, record only the actual number of hours worked. Do not record absences.

Holidays/Leave - Intermittent employees do not qualify for annual and sick leave, and they do not receive pay for holidays not worked.

Note: If a regular employee changes to an intermittent employee, HHS pays the employee a lump-sum of money for any unused annual leave, or the employee may retain it until separation. If the employee retains it, at separation the lump-sum annual leave will be paid at the rate at which it was earned before the change. The leave may not be used.

Premium Pay/Differentials - Intermittent employees earn overtime premium pay for working over 8 hours per day or 40 hours per week.

Intermittent employees are entitled to night differential when the night work is regularly scheduled.

They do not earn Sunday premium pay. (Except Title 38 employees.)

Federal Wage System intermittent employees earn environmental differential pay.

Continuation of Pay

Intermittent employees are entitled to 45 days of continuation of pay (COP). However, COP wages are paid differently for these employees. It is calculated using weekly average earnings for the 1-year period prior to the date of the injury.

In these cases, a hard copy of the certified time and attendance record should be forwarded with a memo immediately to PPSD for payment. PPSD will calculate the amount due and pay the employee.

STUDENT EDUCATIONAL EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

Introduction

Students appointed under the Student Educational Employment Program (formerly the Stay-In-School Program) are assigned to work according to their school schedules. They may work full-time or part-time schedules, from 1 - 40 hours in a week.

Rules

Hours are reported for students the same way as they are for any other part-time or full-time employee.

There are no limitations on the number of hours a student can work per week, but the student's work schedule should not interfere with the student's academic schedule. The SF-50 will indicate whether the employee is full-time or part-time and the number of base hours for each student's tour of duty.

Students may work in excess of their regular tour. Hours in excess of the tour are reported the same way as they are for any other employee.

Overtime

Students are paid overtime on the same basis as any other part-time or full-time employee.

Part-time students who work more than their regularly scheduled tour hours are not paid overtime, unless they work more than 8 hours in a day or 40 hours a week. Excess hours less than 8 in a day or 40 in a week are paid as regular hours.

Full-time students are paid overtime for any hours worked over 8 in a day or 40 hours a week.

Annual and Sick Leave

Students earn annual and sick leave just as do regular part-time and full-time employees, unless their appointments are for less than 90 days. If the appointment is less than 90 days, they earn sick leave, but they do not earn annual leave. (See Temporary Employees in this Chapter.) The amount earned is determined by their part-time or full-time status and their Service Computation Dates.

STUDENT EDUCATIONAL EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

Holiday Not Worked

Part-time student employees receive pay for holidays on the same basis as regular part-time employees. They are paid only for the number of hours they are regularly scheduled to work that day. If they are not scheduled to work that day, they do not receive holiday pay.

Like regular part-time employees, students do not get paid for holidays that are celebrated on "in lieu of" holidays, whether they are scheduled to work or not. However, if a student is scheduled to work on an "in lieu of" holiday, the employee may be granted excused absence (administrative leave) where, for example, the office is closed.

If students are placed on a full-time schedule, they are paid 8 hours of holiday pay for holidays that fall within their full time schedules.

Table

To determine the number of holiday hours to enter for students, see the following table:

IF	AND	THEN
The holiday falls on a regularly scheduled workday	Student is in a full-time pay status	Student is paid full-time pay (8 hours) for the holiday.
The holiday falls on a regularly scheduled workday	Student is in a part-time pay status	Student is paid holiday pay based on the regularly scheduled part-time tour for that day (i.e., the number of hours normally scheduled to work that day, e.g., 4 hours.)
The holiday is celebrated on an "in lieu of" holiday (i.e., holiday is Saturday, but is celebrated on Friday)	Student is in a full-time pay status	Student is paid full-time pay (8 hours) for the holiday.
The holiday is celebrated on an "in lieu of" holiday (i.e., holiday is Sunday, but is celebrated on Monday)	Student is in part-time pay status	Student is not paid holiday pay whether scheduled to work or not on the celebrated day. Note: Student may be granted administrative leave for the number of hours scheduled to work if, for example, office is closed.

TEMPORARY EMPLOYEES

Introduction

Temporary employees may be either General Schedule (GS) or Federal Wage System (FWS).

They may be appointed for 90 days or more (including 1040-hour appointments) or appointed for less than 90 days.

Appointments of Less Than 90 Days

Sick Leave - GS and FWS temporary employees who are appointed for less than 90 days are entitled to earn and use sick leave.

Annual Leave - GS and FWS temporary employees who are appointed for less than 90 days do not earn annual leave.

If they have an annual leave balance transferred from another appointment, they may use it.

Note: If appointments for temporary employees are extended beyond 90 days, or are made permanent, the employees are credited with annual leave retroactive to the first day of the original appointment. LWOP used prior to the extension, may not be changed to annual leave after the extension.

GS Employees - Holidays - GS employees with appointments of less than 90 days are entitled to paid holidays if the holiday is a part of their regularly scheduled tours.

They are entitled to holiday premium pay if they work on a holiday that is a part of their regularly scheduled tours.

FWS Employees - Holidays - FWS employees with appointments of less than 90 days are not entitled to paid holidays.

They are not entitled to holiday premium pay for hours worked on a holiday. If they work on a holiday, they are paid regular pay.

1040-Hour Appointments

Employees on 1040-hour appointments cannot work more than 1040 hours. Supervisors must be kept informed of the number of hours these appointees have worked.

TEMPORARY EMPLOYEES

Important

For 1040-hour appointments:

Do count and apply the following hours toward the 1040 hours:

- regular hours worked
- overtime worked
- compensatory time worked
- holiday hours worked

Do not count the following as part of the 1040 hours:

- holiday hours not worked
- annual or sick leave used
- LWOP or AWOL
- court leave used
- administrative leave used

Table

To determine annual leave entitlement and retroactive accrual for temporary employees, see the table below:

TYPE OF APPOINTMENT	ANNUAL LEAVE ENTITLEMENT	RETROACTIVE CREDIT
Temporary - 89 days or less	None	N/A
Temporary - 90 days or longer (Includes 1040-hour appointment)	Immediate on date of appointment	N/A
Appointment extended to 90 days or longer	On date of extension (because extension constitutes an appointment of 90 days or longer)	On completion of 90 consecutive days of service, annual leave is credited retroactive to first day of appointment.

EXPERTS/CONSULTANTS

Introduction

An expert or consultant is usually a specialist from outside HHS appointed to serve by giving advice to individuals or departments or to perform difficult and challenging tasks.

Important

Experts or consultants may have more than one appointment (up to a maximum of 10 appointments) and each appointment has a different common accounting number (CAN). A separate time and attendance record must be transmitted for each appointment/CAN and the CAN entered next to the hours description code in the record must match the one in the employee profile portion of the record.

Rules

Temporary or Intermittent - Experts and consultants are either intermittent or temporary employees. If "intermittent" is not indicated on the SF-50, the employee is temporary.

Daily or Hourly - Experts and consultants are assigned and paid on a daily or an hourly pay basis which is documented on the SF-50. It is indicated in the salary box as a daily rate followed by "PD", or as an hourly rate followed by "PH". How they are paid determines the way you record their T&A data.

- Hourly experts/consultants are paid for each hour worked and time is reported as number of hours worked. They must certify the time they worked on a daily basis.
- Daily experts/consultants are paid for each day worked, regardless of the number of hours involved, and time is reported as number of days worked.

Note: Experts/consultants approved to perform duties away from the worksite must be paid on an hourly basis.

Common Accounting Number - A common accounting number (CAN) is the number assigned to a fund account used to pay employees. The correct CAN must be used when recording time and attendance data for experts or consultants.

Travel - Experts and consultants are not paid for the time spent traveling to and from their duty stations.

Rules (cont.)

Leave Benefits -

Intermittent experts/consultants do not earn or use leave.

Temporary experts and consultants with appointments of 90 days or longer are entitled to earn and use annual and sick leave. Their eligibility will be indicated in the remarks section of their SF-50s. Rates of accrual, conditions under which leave may be used, and provisions of lump-sum payment for unused annual leave are the same as for other full-time or part-time employees.

Overtime Pay - Experts/consultants, whether paid on an hourly or a daily basis, will not be paid additional compensation for work in excess of 8 hours per day. They may, however, be paid for work on more than 5 days a week or 10 days a pay period provided the statutory pay maximum is not exceeded. Exception: In the unusual event that experts/consultants are covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), overtime provisions for more than 8 hours a day or 40 hours a week must be followed.

Hourly experts/consultants are paid at their regular hourly rates for each hour worked, up to a total of 8 hours per day.

Daily experts/consultants are paid at their regular daily rate for any day on which they work, regardless of the number of hours worked.

Credit Hours - Experts/consultants may not earn or use credit hours.

Holidays - Experts/consultants who work on a holiday are paid at their regular rates of pay.

Intermittent experts/consultants are not entitled to holiday pay when they do not work on the holiday, regardless of when the holiday falls.

Temporary experts/consultants are entitled to pay at their regular rates when they do not work on a holiday if the holiday falls within their regularly scheduled tour of duty. If so entitled, the remarks section of the SF-50 must state, for example, "To be paid for holidays occurring within regular tour of duty whether or not work is performed." They will not be paid for holidays that fall outside their regular tours of duty.

EXPERTS/CONSULTANTS

Maximum Pay Limitation

The biweekly pay for an expert/consultant may not exceed the biweekly rate of pay for Level IV of the Executive Schedule.

Examples

Example 1: Jane is paid the maximum daily rate. She worked 11 days this pay period. The pay period total is:

- 10 days (Monday - Friday, both weeks).

Clarification: Jane can only receive pay for 10 days, since pay for the 11th day would exceed the statutory maximum.

Example 2: Kirby is an hourly consultant. This pay period he worked 8 hours a day, Monday through Friday, except for the second Monday when he used sick leave. The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours (8 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1, and 8 each day Tuesday through Friday, Week 2); and
- 8 sick leave hours (Monday, Week 2).

Example 3: Juanita is a daily consultant. She worked 6 hours on Monday and Tuesday for both weeks of the pay period. The pay period total is:

- 4 days (Monday and Tuesday, Week 1, and Monday and Tuesday, Week 2).

Clarification: Experts and consultants who work by the day may work more than or fewer than 8 hours. Record time as 1 day for each day they work, regardless of how long they actually worked.

Don't forget! The CAN number must always be recorded next to each hours description code in the time and attendance record and it must match the CAN number in the employee profile!

FIREFIGHTERS

Introduction

Although some firefighters do have 80-hour tours, most work a non-standard tour that is more than 40 hours a week and 80 hours a pay period. Their daily tours may be 24 hours a day and are usually 112 or 144 base hours per pay period.

Firefighters with regular 80-hour biweekly tours are processed exactly like normal GS employees. This section deals with those firefighters who have base hours of 112 or 144.

Note: Meal breaks for firefighters are considered as part of the regular tour. Do not deduct time spent on meal breaks from hours of work.

Pay Rate

Firefighter Hourly Rate of Basic Pay - The firefighter hourly rate of basic pay is computed by dividing the applicable annual rate of basic pay by 2756 hours. The firefighter hourly rate of basic pay is used to compute biweekly pay.

Overtime - Overtime hours are any hours of work in excess of 53 hours per week or 106 hours in a biweekly pay period. The overtime rate of pay is 1½ times the firefighter hourly rate of basic pay.

For FLSA-exempt firefighters, the hourly overtime rate is capped at 1½ times the GS-10, step 1, rate (2087-hour basis), but cannot be less than the individuals' firefighter hourly rate of basic pay. There is no pay cap for FLSA non-exempt employees.

Rules

Special-Regular Hours - Firefighters are paid overtime pay for all hours in excess of 53 in a week (106 in a pay period). These excess hours (over 53 in a week/106 in a pay period) that are part of a firefighter's regular basic tour of duty, are referred to as special-regular hours.

Firefighters on 112-hour tours receive overtime pay for 6 special-regular hours per pay period. Those on 144-hour tours receive overtime pay for 38 special-regular hours per pay period.

It is not necessary to report special-regular hours separately on the T&A record. Record all hours of the basic tour as regular hours. The payroll system will automatically generate the special-regular hours.

Differentials - Firefighters do not earn night, hazard, or environmental differentials. They do not earn Sunday premium pay.

Funeral Leave - A Federal firefighter may be excused from duty to attend the funeral of a fellow Federal firefighter who was killed in the line of duty. When excused for this reason, it is considered to be official duty and the hours absent for the funeral are recorded as regular hours worked.

For any other funeral leave, see Chapter 4.

Leave

Like other employees, firefighters may earn and use leave. See Chapter 4 for paid leave and Chapter 5 for unpaid leave.

Leave Use - Leave is charged according to the daily tour. If the daily tour is 24 hours a day and the firefighter uses leave for 1 day, the firefighter is charged 24 hours of leave for that day. If the daily tour is 8 hours, the firefighter is charged 8 hours for absence on that day.

Leave Accruals - Firefighters who work a 112 or 144 hour tours, or an uncommon tour, accrue annual and sick leave at an accelerated rate which is determined by using a conversion factor. The conversion factors and the formula for determining leave accruals are detailed in the section following the tables on the next page. The tables may be used to obtain the leave accruals.

Note: For sick leave, always refer to the annual leave category 4 on the table.

Caution: Excessive use of unpaid leave results in the loss of accruals of annual and sick leave for firefighters, just as it does for regular employees. If/when unpaid leave reaches a cumulative total, or multiple cumulative totals, equal to the number of hours in the pay period tour (i.e., 112 or 144 hours), accrual of annual and sick leave is lost for that pay period.

FIREFIGHTERS

Leave Tables

The following tables show the rates of accrual for annual leave for each pay period. These tables may be used for other uncommon tours of duty of 112 or 144 hours (i.e. law enforcement officials, etc.)

For sick leave, always refer to annual leave category 4 on the tables.

Notice that the number of annual and sick leave hours accrued in the last full pay period in the calendar year is more than in other pay periods and that the maximum carryover amounts are higher.

Note: For employees with these tours who are in leave category 6, the rule for earning an extra 4 hours in the last pay period does not apply.

112-Hour Pay Period

IF LEAVE CATEGORY IS	ANNUAL LEAVE EARNED PER YR	EARNED EACH PAY PERIOD...	EARNED LAST PP IN YEAR	MAXIMUM CARRYOVER
4	145 hours	5 hours	21 hours	336 hours
6	224 hours	8 hours	24 hours	336 hours
8	291 hours	11 hours	16 hours	336 hours

144-Hour Pay Period

IF LEAVE CATEGORY IS...	ANNUAL LEAVE EARNED PER YR	EARNED EACH PAY PERIOD	EARNED LAST PP IN YEAR	MAXIMUM CARRYOVER
4	187 hours	7 hours	12 hours	432 hours
6	288 hours	11 hours	13 hours	432 hours
8	374 hours	14 hours	24 hours	432 hours

Formula for Determining Leave Accrual

Annual Leave - To determine the annual leave accruals in the tables:

1. Divide the number of tour hours scheduled for each biweekly pay period by 80 to get the conversion factor.

$$112 \text{ divided by } 80 = \underline{1.4} \qquad 144 \text{ divided by } 80 = \underline{1.8}$$

Conversion factors are 1.4 for 112- hour tours and 1.8 for 144-hour tours.

FIREFIGHTERS

Formula for Determining Leave Accrual

2. Using the yearly annual leave accruals for regular employees (shown below), multiply the total by the appropriate conversion factor to get the yearly accruals for 112- and 144-hour tours. Divide that yearly total by 26 pay periods to get the biweekly accrual. Annual leave yearly accruals for regular employees:

- Leave category 4 is 104.
- Leave category 6 is 160.
- Leave category 8 is 208.

Example: For an employee in leave category 6 with a 112-hour tour of duty:

$$160 \times 1.4 = 224 \text{ (yearly) divided by 26 (pay periods) = 8.6}$$

The leave earned each pay period is 8.0. (See table.) The .6 fractional remainder is dropped from the biweekly accrual and used at the end of the year. See #3.

3. Any fractional remainder for each pay period is multiplied by 26 pay periods. The answer is then rounded off and added to the regular biweekly accrual to get the total accrual for the last full pay period of the calendar year. Using the example above (#2):

$$.6 \text{ (remainder)} \times 26 = 15.6 \text{ rounded off is } 16.0 + 8.0 = 24.0$$

The accrual for the last full pay period of the calendar year is 24.0. (See table.)

Sick Leave - The same formula is used to compute sick leave accruals, always using annual leave category 4. For 144-hour tour:

1. $104 \times 1.8 = 187.2$ divided by 26 = 7.2

The sick leave earned each pay period is 7.0. (See table.)

2. $.2 \text{ (remainder)} \times 26 = 5.2$ rounded off is $5.0 + 7.0 = 12.0$

The sick leave accrual for the last full pay period of the calendar year is 12.0. (See table.)

FIREFIGHTERS

Unpaid Leave -Substitute Hours

If the amount of unpaid leave in a pay period exceeds the number of special-regular hours, the pay for special-regular hours is reduced by the hours of unpaid leave used. You do not need to do this subtraction. The payroll system does it for you.

Any irregular hours (additional hours of work which are outside a firefighter's regular tour of duty) worked, will be substituted first for unpaid leave hours in the regular tour of duty (53 a week/106 a pay period), and then the special-regular hours.

If the firefighter's regular tour of duty includes a basic 40 hour workweek, irregular hours must be substituted first for hours of unpaid leave in the basic 40 hour workweek/80 hour biweekly tour. If the firefighters pay is computed on a weekly basis, the irregular/substitute hours must be worked in the same administrative workweek. Normally, this applies to those employees with 112-hour tours.

Time Off Incentive Award Military Leave

A firefighter may be granted a Time Off Incentive Award (TOIA) the same as other employees.

For regular military leave, charge the number of tour hours scheduled for each regular tour day the employee is absent. If the daily tour is 24.0 hours, charge 24.0 hours; for a daily tour of 8.0, charge 8.0. For each day of absence on days that the employee is not scheduled to work, charge 8 hours military leave. For each day absent, regardless of the number of hours charged, 1 full day is deducted from the military leave balance.

Military leave for parades and encampments is charged in 1 day increments only for the regularly scheduled tour days that the employee is absent.

Special military leave is charged in the same increments as annual and sick leave only for those hours absent.

See Chapter 4 for more information on military leave.

FIREFIGHTERS

Continuation of Pay (COP)

Firefighters are entitled to COP for injuries received on the job, just as are regular employees.

Reminder: Employees receive administrative leave for absence on the day of injury.

For COP absences on a regularly scheduled tour day, always charge the scheduled number of tour hours for each day, beginning the day after the injury. For absences for a portion of a day for an injury related medical appointment or absence, charge the actual amount of COP time that the employee is absent. For days on which the firefighter is not scheduled to work, charge 8 hours.

For each day, or portion of a day, absent, 1 full day is subtracted from the 45-day balance, regardless of the number of hours charged.

For more information on Continuation of Pay, See Chapter 6.

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS

Introduction	Most employees engaged in law enforcement activities work a special tour of duty of more than 40 hours a week and/or more than 80 hours a pay period.
Overtime	Overtime hours are any hours over 42 3/4 hours per week.
Overtime Rate of Pay	Overtime is paid at same rate of pay as other employees, except in the case of law enforcement officials whose basic pay exceeds that of a GS-10, step 1, employee. For these employees, overtime is paid at the employees' actual rates of hourly pay.
Maximum Pay	The maximum limitation for law enforcement officers is either 150 percent of the minimum rate for GS-15, or the rate for Level V of the Executive Schedule, whichever is less.
Funerals	A Federal law enforcement officer may be excused from duty to attend the funeral of a fellow Federal law enforcement officer who was killed in the line of duty. When excused for this reason, hours absent are considered to be official duty and are recorded as regular hours worked. For any other funeral leave, see Chapter 4.

Chapter 12. Title 38

(Baylor/Non-Baylor and Physician Special Pay)

TITLE 38 - OVERVIEW

Introduction

In occupations specified by the Department (DHHS), Title 38 compensation applies to permanent and temporary, full-time and part-time, and intermittent General Schedule employees. Title 38 is a premium pay consisting of two plans which apply to nurses and other health-care professionals.

Title 38 employees are either:

! Non-Baylor, or

! Baylor Plan.

If an employee is a Title 38 employee, it will be so noted on the personnel action (SF-50B). If he/she is a Baylor Plan employee, it must also be noted on the SF-50B. Employees can be placed on the Baylor Plan only at the beginning of the pay period and taken off it only at the end of the pay period. A personnel action is required to do either.

Under Title 38, there is also a discretionary special pay which is available for OPDIVs to use to recruit and retain highly qualified physicians and dentists. This pay is known as Physician Special Pay or PSP. If an employee receives PSP, it will be noted on his/her SF-50B. It may also be verified by your servicing personnel office (SPO).

Physician Special Pay

See the last page in this chapter for information on leave and premium pay for those employees receiving Physician Special Pay (PSP). Refer to HHS Instruction 590-1, Title 38 Physician Special Pay, for other detailed information.

Non-Baylor Employees

Non-Baylor employees work regular schedules and their hours worked are recorded as regular hours just as they are for other employees.

TITLE 38 - OVERVIEW

Baylor Plan Employees	Title 38 authorizes the use of a weekend schedule . This is an unusual tour of duty referred to as the Baylor Plan. Baylor Plan employees work 2 regularly scheduled 12-hour tours contained within Saturday and Sunday. Although their regular tour is only 48 hours a pay period, they are considered to be full-time employees. Their regular hours worked are recorded as Baylor or Non-Baylor hours.
Regular Base Pay	The regular base hourly rate for Title 38 employees, except for Baylor employees, is computed by dividing their annual salary by 2087, just as for other employees. For Baylor employees, their annual salary is divided by 1248. This rate is used for all purposes other than to calculate premium pay.
Premium Pay Base Rate	The Title 38 hourly premium pay base rate is computed by dividing their annual salary by 2080. Premium pay (night differential, overtime, etc.) is calculated using this hourly premium.
Overtime	The Title 38 overtime rate is 1½ times the employee's hourly premium pay base rate . The overtime pay under Title 38 may be greater than under Title 5 because the GS-10, Step 1, provision is not applicable.
Title 38 Part-Time and Intermittent Employees	Unless otherwise stated, these employees are eligible for premium pay. For example, unlike Title 5, Title 38 premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work is payable to part-time and intermittent employees.
Maximum Pay	Pay for a Title 38 employee (basic pay plus premium pay) is limited in any one pay period to the maximum payable rate of Executive Level V. Exception: Physician Special Pay. See page 12-24 for PSP.
For Additional Information	Specific differences between Title 38 Baylor and Non-Baylor employees and regular employees are contained within this chapter. For the rules and regulations governing each topic, see the respective chapter.

TITLE 38 NON-BAYLOR

Alternative Work Schedules	Title 38 non-Baylor employees may work on alternative work schedules (compressed or flexible work tours). For information about these tours, see Chapter 13, Non-Standard Tours.
Annual and Sick Leave	Title 38 employees earn and use annual and sick leave just like regular employees and hours are recorded the same. See Chapter 4.
Military Leave	Title 38 non-Baylor employees are entitled to military leave if they meet the requirements. Record hours the same way as you would for other employees. See Chapter 4.
Continuation of Pay	Title 38 non-Baylor employees are entitled to continuation of pay (COP) for work-related injuries. Record hours the same way as you would for other employees. For the rules regarding COP procedures and examples, see Chapter 6. For part-time and intermittent employees, see Chapter 11.
Religious Compensatory Time	Title 38 non-Baylor employees are entitled to earn and use religious compensatory time off for religious holidays. Hours are recorded just as they are for regular employees. See Chapter 7.
Unpaid Leave	Non-Baylor employees may use and be charged unpaid leave (LWOP, AWOL), just the same as regular employees. See Chapter 5.
Premium Pay and Differentials	Title 38 non-Baylor employees are eligible for night differential and for overtime, Sunday, and holiday worked premium pay. Title 38 non-Baylor employees in designated positions only are eligible for on-call and Saturday premium pay. Check with your SPO to see if the employee is in one of these positions. Caution: Commissioned Corps officers and special program employees assigned to the AD pay plan are not covered by Title 38 premium pay provisions.

Overtime

Most Title 38 non-Baylor employees are paid overtime when working:

- ! More than 8 hours per day, or
- ! More than 40 hours in an administrative workweek.

Under Title 38, overtime work does not have to be scheduled before the beginning of the workweek in order to be compensated with premium pay.

Title 38 non-Baylor employees on compressed work schedules receive overtime pay only for work over the number of hours specified in their compressed schedules. Those with a credit hour option on flexible work schedules receive overtime pay only for hours in excess of the flexible schedule which are not credit hours.

Holiday Worked

Title 38 non-Baylor employees are entitled to premium pay for working on a holiday.

All hours worked during the employee's scheduled tour for the day of the holiday are reported as holiday worked. All hours in excess of the tour are reported as holiday overtime.

A Title 38 non-Baylor employee required to perform work on a holiday is entitled to at least 2 hours of holiday premium pay.

Night Differential

Title 38 non-Baylor employees are eligible for night differential pay for work performed on a tour between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.

For work during these hours, Title 38 employees are paid an additional 10 percent of their premium base hourly rate.

Note:

- ! If at least 4 hours of the tour fall between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m., employees are paid night differential for the entire tour.
- ! If less than 4 hours of the tour fall between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m., employees are paid night differential only for the hours actually worked between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.

Night Differential (cont.)

Title 38 employees are also paid night differential for officially ordered and approved overtime and when substituting for another employee during designated night hours.

Sunday Premium Pay

Sunday work is work performed on a tour between midnight Saturday and midnight Sunday. All Title 38 non-Baylor employees, including part-time and intermittent employees, are eligible for Sunday premium pay (Sunday differential).

Title 38 employees are paid an additional 25 percent of their hourly premium pay rate for the entire tour that begins or ends on a Sunday (i.e., tour that includes any hours between midnight Saturday and midnight Sunday).

Title 38 employees are also paid Sunday premium pay for officially ordered and approved overtime, or when substituting for another employee during designated weekend hours.

Saturday Premium Pay

Saturday work is work performed on a tour between midnight Friday and midnight Saturday.

Only Title 38 employees in designated positions are eligible for Saturday premium pay (Saturday differential). Ask your SPO for an up-to-date list of these occupations.

Title 38 employees in designated occupations are paid an additional 25 percent of their hourly premium pay rate for the entire tour that begins or ends on a Saturday (i.e., tour that includes any hours between midnight Friday and midnight Saturday).

Title 38 employees also receive Saturday premium pay for officially ordered overtime work or when substituting for another employee.

Differential Combinations

Title 38 non-Baylor employees may be eligible for 2 or more types of premium pay and differentials for the same period of service. For example, an employee scheduled to work from 3:00 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. on Sunday would be eligible for both:

TITLE 38 NON-BAYLOR

*Differential
Combinations
(cont.)*

- ! Sunday premium pay at 25 percent and night differential at 10 percent of the employee's hourly premium rate.

On-Call

On-call premium pay may be granted to Title 38 employees only in designated positions when an employee is officially scheduled as ready to return to work when contacted and ready for duty either:

- ! Outside regular work hours, or
- ! On a holiday.

Ask your SPO if the employee is in a designated position. Note: To be considered on-call, the employee must be:

- ! Accessible by telephone or beeper,
- ! Ready to return to work, and
- ! In a physical condition that allows him or her to resume duty assignments.

Pay Rate - Title 38 employees in the designated positions are paid an additional 10 percent of their overtime hourly rate for:

- ! Each hour of on-call duty on a designated holiday, or
- ! Overtime on-call duty exceeding 8 hours in a day or 40 hours in a week.

Part-time and intermittent employees in designated occupations are also eligible for on-call pay in the above situations.

Suspending and Resuming On-Call Pay - On-call pay is suspended during the period of actual callback overtime or holiday duty. The employee is then paid callback overtime pay or holiday pay. On-call pay resumes when the callback period is complete and the employee resumes the remaining scheduled on-call duty, if any.

Caution: Title 38 employees do not receive night differential, Sunday premium pay, or Saturday premium pay when in an on-call status.

TITLE 38 NON-BAYLOR

Callback Overtime

Callback overtime work for Title 38 employees is:

- ! Work on a day an employee is not scheduled to work;or
- ! Work performed outside regular hours when an employee is required to return to work after leaving.

Part-time and intermittent employees receive callback overtime pay if they meet the requirements for overtime pay.

Note: Employees do not have to be in an on-call status to qualify for callback overtime. For more information about callback overtime, see Chapter 9.

Starting Callback Overtime - Callback overtime pay starts when the employee reports to work. In other words, employees are not paid on-call pay during the time they are working callback overtime. They are paid callback overtime pay.

Minimum Callback - A minimum of 2 hours callback overtime must be credited for each call back to the work site.

Compensatory Time

Title 38 non-Baylor employees may earn and use compensatory time in 15-minute increments, just as regular employees do. The same rules and regulations apply. They must voluntarily request (in writing) to earn compensatory time off in lieu of overtime pay.

Reminder: Compensatory time must be earned before it can be used.

Note: Compensatory time is also referred to as comp time. See Chapter 9 for more information.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

Tour of Duty

Reminder: Baylor Plan employees work 2 regularly scheduled 12-hour tours contained within Saturday and Sunday, and they are considered full-time employees. An SF-50 is required to place a Title 38 employee on the Baylor Plan and to remove him or her from the Baylor Plan.

The basic workweek for Title 38 Baylor Plan employees is 2 regularly scheduled 12-hour tours of duty occurring between midnight Friday and midnight Sunday.

The administrative workweek is 7 consecutive calendar days, Sunday through Saturday.

Substitutes

There is no provision or requirement for paying substitutes at the rate for Baylor Plan employees during the basic workweek. Therefore, substitutes are paid in accordance with their regular rates, with overtime and any additional pay as applicable.

Pay Rate

The hourly rate of basic pay for Baylor Plan regular hours (worked during the basic workweek) is derived by dividing the annual salary by 1248.

The hourly rate of basic pay for non-Baylor Plan regular hours (worked outside the basic workweek) is derived by dividing the annual salary by 2087.

Hours Worked

There are 3 kinds of hours for which Baylor employees can be paid:

- 1) Baylor regular hours (worked within the basic workweek);
- 2) Non-Baylor regular hours (worked outside the basic workweek);
and
- 3) Overtime hours (hours worked which do not qualify as either Baylor regular or non-Baylor regular hours).

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

Hours Worked Examples

Example 1: Mary is a nurse on the Baylor Plan. She works from 8:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays, with lunch from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. This pay period she worked her regular tour plus 6 hours on Tuesday, Week 1, and 8 hours on Wednesday, Week 2. The pay period totals are:

- ! 48 Baylor hours; and
- ! 14 non-Baylor hours.

Clarification: Mary is paid non-Baylor hours for any hours worked outside her basic workweek, 6 Tuesday, Week 1, and 8 Wednesday, Week 2.

Example 2: Using Example 1, let's assume that on the Wednesday of Week 2, Mary worked 10 hours rather than 8. The pay period totals would then be:

- ! 48 Baylor hours;
- ! 14 non-Baylor hours; and
- ! 2 overtime hours.

Clarification: Mary is paid overtime for the additional 2 hours because she worked over 8 hours on a non-Baylor day. Therefore, the hours are neither Baylor or non-Baylor hours. See Baylor Overtime later in this chapter.

Leave

Leave for Baylor Plan employees is charged for each hour absent during the basic workweek. This applies to all types of leave, both paid and unpaid. Leave is not charged for absences outside the basic workweek (on days other than Saturdays and Sundays).

Reminder: The basic workweek for Baylor employees is two regularly scheduled 12 hour shifts on Saturdays and Sundays.

Note: For more about leave, see Chapter 4, Paid Leave, and Chapter 5, Unpaid Leave.

Accelerated Leave Use

Title 38 Baylor Plan employees use leave at an accelerated rate of 1.667 for every hour of leave. This applies to all leave types that are charged hourly, including both paid and unpaid leave.

Accelerated Leave Use (cont.)

It includes annual, sick, administrative, voting, and court leave, compensatory time and religious compensatory time, special military leave, funeral leave, LWOP, and AWOL. For example, if a Baylor Plan employee uses 1 hour of annual leave, he/she is actually charged for 1.667 hours of leave. Therefore, the employee must have earned more than 1 hour of leave to be able to use 1 hour.

It is not necessary to convert this yourself. If a Baylor Plan employee is absent on leave for an hour, record 1 hour on the T&A record. The system converts it to the actual charge of 1.667 hours which then appears on the Earnings and Leave Statement.

The system converts the accelerated amount of leave used by multiplying the amount of leave charged by 1.667. Fractional hours are rounded to the closest 15-minute interval.

Leave that is charged by the day (e.g., regular military leave, COP) is not accelerated.

Leave Accrual

Baylor Plan annual leave accrual rates are:

Category	Rate
4	1 hour for every 12 hours worked
6	1 hour for every 8 hours worked, and 4 additional hours on the last pay period in December
8	1 hour for every 6 hours worked

Always use category 4 for sick leave.

Examples

Example - Annual Leave Use: Ben works from 8:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, with lunch from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. He worked his regular tour for Week 1. During Week 2, Ben used annual leave all day on Saturday.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

*Examples
(cont.)*

Example - Annual Leave Use (cont.): The pay period totals are:

- ! 36 Baylor hours (12 each day Saturday and Sunday, Week 1, and Sunday, Week 2); and
- ! 12 hours annual leave (Saturday, Week 2).

The payroll system calculates the accelerated charge (12 hours X 1.667 = 20 annual leave hours used) which shows up on the Leave and Earnings Statement.

Example - Annual Leave Balance: Jane is a nurse on the Baylor Plan. Her tour is 12 hours a day Saturday and Sunday, from 7:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., with a lunch break from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. She is in leave category 6 and her previous balance was 72 hours. This pay period she used annual leave on the first Saturday. Jane's annual leave balance:

Balance forward	72 hours
A/L earned this pp	6 hours
A/L used this pp	12 hours (X 1.667 = 20.004, rounded off = 20)
Current balance	58 hours (72 + 6 = 78 hours - 20 = 58 hours)

Her current leave balance is 58 hours.

Example Sick Leave Use/Balance: Amy is a nurse on the Baylor Plan who works from 7:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Sunday and Saturday, with lunch from 12:30 to 1:00 p.m. Her previous sick leave balance was 80. On Sunday, Week 2, Amy used sick leave from 1:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- ! 42 Baylor hours (12 each day Sunday and Saturday, Week 1 and Saturday, Week 2; and 6 hours Sunday, Week 2); and
- ! 6 sick leave hours (Sunday, Week 2).

The system calculates the accelerated charge (6 hours used X 1.667 = 10 sick leave hours used).

Previous balance = 80 + 4 earned = 84 - 10 used = 74 new balance.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

Military Leave

Eligible Title 38 Baylor Plan employees are entitled to military leave. For regular military leave, they may be granted up to 15 calendar days per fiscal year, just as are regular employees. Regular military leave is charged by the day and is not accelerated. For each day absent, 1 full day is deducted from the regular military leave balance. Special military leave is charged by the hour and is accelerated.

Charge 12 hours regular military leave for both days during the Baylor weekend. If non-Baylor workdays fall within the period of the leave, enter 8 non-tour military leave hours for each day absent outside the Baylor weekend.

Example

Jo works 7:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Sunday and Saturday, with lunch from 12:30 to 1:00 p.m. She submitted military orders and is absent on regular military leave the entire pay period. Pay period totals are:

- ! 48 regular military leave hours (12 each day Sunday and Saturday, both weeks); and
- ! 80 non-tour military leave hours (8 each day Monday through Friday, both weeks).

14 days are subtracted from her military leave balance.

Continuation of Pay

Title 38 Baylor Plan employees are entitled to continuation of pay (COP) for work-related injuries for up to 45 days. COP is charged by the day and is not accelerated. For each day absent, 1 full day is deducted from the 45-day COP balance, even if the employee is not absent the entire day. Note: COP is covered in Chapter 6.

Charge administrative leave for the time absent on the day of injury. For each day absent during the Baylor weekend after the day of injury, charge 12 hours COP. For any non-Baylor workdays that fall within the period of time covered by the doctor's certificate, charge 8 non-tour COP hours. If the employee returns to work and then uses part of a day during the Baylor weekend for a medical appointment, charge the amount of time that the employee is actually absent to COP. 1 full day is deducted from the remaining COP balance.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

COP Example

Roberto works from 8:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Sunday and Saturday, with lunch from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. He was injured in the previous pay period and was still absent on COP during Week 1 of the current pay period.

The doctor's certificate authorized Roberto to return to work as of Monday, Week 2. However, his next scheduled day of work was not until Saturday. On that day he had a doctor's appointment from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- ! 39 COP hours (12 each day Sunday and Saturday, Week 1, and Sunday, Week 2; and 3 on Saturday, Week 2);
- ! 40 non-tour COP hours (8 each day, Monday through Friday, Week 1); and
- ! 9 Baylor hours (Saturday, Week 2).

Nine days are subtracted from Roberto's 45-day COP balance. Remember, 1 full day is subtracted for Saturday, Week 2, when he was absent only 3 hours.

Note: If the doctor had not authorized Roberto to return to work until Saturday of Week 2, he would have been charged 40 additional non-tour COP hours against the 45-day COP balance (for the non-Baylor hours in Week 2).

Religious Compensatory Time

Title 38 Baylor Plan employees are entitled to earn and use religious compensatory time off for religious holidays.

Baylor Plan employees can only use religious compensatory time during their regularly scheduled weekend hours (i.e., the basic workweek, Sunday or Saturday). Religious compensatory time may be earned during any hours that are:

- ! In excess of their 12 hours scheduled each Sunday and Saturday;
- ! In excess of 8 hours worked any day Monday through Friday;
- ! In excess of 40 hours in the administrative workweek.

Caution: Since the first 8 hours Baylor employees work each day on Monday through Friday are non-Baylor hours, they may not be credited for religious compensatory hours. Also, because Baylor employees work only 24 hours during an administrative workweek, they must work at least 16 non-Baylor hours to reach the hours "in excess of 40 in the administrative workweek" in order to earn religious compensatory time.

Baylor Plan employees use religious compensatory time at the accelerated rate of 1.667 hours of religious comp time for each scheduled weekend hour. When they earn religious comp time, it is accrued at the accelerated rate.

Charge 1 hour on the T&A record and the system converts this to 1.667. The actual charge of 1.667 hours appears on the Earnings and Leave Statement.

Note: See Chapter 7 for more information on religious compensatory time.

Religious Compensatory Time Example

Philip works from 8:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., Sunday and Saturday, with lunch from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. He requested and was approved for religious compensatory time for Sunday, Week 1. Philip left work at 5:00 p.m. that day, using 4 hours of religious compensatory time off. He worked till 11:00 p.m. on the both Saturdays to earn religious compensatory time. The pay period totals are:

- ! 44 Baylor hours (8 hours Sunday, Week 1, and 12 hours both Saturdays, and the second Sunday);
- ! 4 hours religious compensatory time used (Sunday, Week 1); and
- ! 4 hours religious compensatory time earned (2 hours, both Saturdays).

The system converts the religious comp time earned and used to the accelerated amounts.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

Premium Pay

Baylor Plan employees are not entitled to premium pay (e.g., overtime, Sunday, Saturday, holiday, or night differential) for hours worked during the basic Baylor workweek (Saturday and Sunday).

Baylor Plan employees do receive Title 38 premium pay and night differential, if entitled, for all work performed outside the basic Baylor workweek.

Overtime

Baylor Plan employees are paid the non-Baylor hourly rate for non-overtime work outside the period between midnight Friday and midnight Sunday. Overtime for Baylor Plan employees is paid for work which is more than:

- ! 24 hours worked on Saturday and Sunday;
- ! 8 hours on any day Monday through Friday; or
- ! 40 hours within an administrative workweek.

Note: Under these provisions, overtime worked immediately before or after a Baylor tour (e.g., 4 extra hours worked at the end of a Sunday Baylor tour) would be paid at the overtime rate. However, 4 non-Baylor hours worked mid-week in addition to the regular Baylor hours would be paid at the regular hourly rate, not the overtime rate.

Overtime Example

Sheila is a Baylor Plan nurse who works 8:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Sunday and Saturday, with lunch from 12:30 to 1:00 p.m. She worked overtime from 6:00 a.m. to 8:00 a.m. on Saturday for both weeks, and 10 hours on Wednesday, Week 1. The pay period totals are:

- ! 48 Baylor hours (12 each day, Sunday and Saturday, both weeks);
- ! 8 non-Baylor hours (Wednesday, Week 1);
- ! 6 overtime hours (2 Wednesday, Week 1, and 2 each Saturday, both weeks).

Clarification: Sheila is paid overtime for 2 hours on Wednesday because she worked more than 8 hours that day. She is paid 2 hours each Saturday because she worked more than her scheduled 12 hour tour each day.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

Holiday Worked

If a holiday falls during the Baylor weekend, Baylor employees are not given the day off and do not receive holiday premium pay for working. Baylor employees receive holiday premium pay only if they work on a holiday outside the Baylor weekend. Baylor Plan employees are paid at double their hourly premium rate for each hour worked on a holiday outside their basic workweek.

Holiday hours worked by Title 38 Baylor employees outside the Baylor weekend, up to 8 hours in a day, are recorded as holiday worked. Holiday hours over 8 in a day must be recorded as holiday overtime.

A Baylor employee required to perform work on a holiday outside the basic workweek is entitled to at least 2 hours of holiday premium pay.

Important - If Baylor employees work hours on an "in lieu of holiday" outside their basic workweek, they do not get the holiday premium pay.

An "in lieu of holiday" is when the holiday actually falls on one day, but is celebrated on another day. For example, when a holiday falls on a Saturday and most employees are given a day off on Friday to celebrate, Friday is the "in lieu of holiday"; or if the holiday falls on a Sunday, and they are given a day off on Monday to celebrate, Monday is the "in lieu of holiday".

Example: July 4, 1992, fell on a Saturday. An "in lieu of holiday" day off was given to non-Baylor employees on the preceding Friday. If a Baylor employee worked on that Friday, the hours worked would be reported either as non-Baylor regular hours or, for any hours worked over 8, as overtime hours - because this is an "in lieu of holiday" day off.

However, if July 4 holiday actually fell on a Friday and the Baylor employee worked that day, then the employee would receive holiday premium pay for up to 8 hours and holiday overtime for hours worked beyond 8.

Holiday Pay Rate

Holiday premium pay for Baylor Plan employees is paid at 2 times the annual salary rate divided by 2080.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

Holiday Pay Example

Sharon works 12 hours a day, Sunday and Saturday, from 7:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., with lunch from 12:30 to 1:00 p.m. She worked her regular tour and, during Week 2, Sharon also worked 10 hours on a Thanksgiving holiday, Thursday. The pay period totals are:

- ! 48 Baylor hours (12 each day, Sunday and Saturday, both weeks);
- ! 8 holiday worked hours (Thursday, Week 2); and
- ! 2 holiday overtime hours (Thursday, Week 2).

Clarification: The actual holiday fell on that Thursday, so Sharon is paid holiday worked pay. Since the maximum holiday pay is 8 hours, the additional 2 hours must be paid at the holiday overtime rate.

Night Differential

Night differential for Baylor employees is payable only for work performed between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. outside the basic Baylor workweek. The night differential rate is an additional 10 percent of the hourly premium rate.

- ! If employees work at least 4 hours between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. of an assigned tour of duty outside their basic workweek, they are paid night differential for the entire tour.
- ! If employees work less than 4 hours between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. of the tour outside their basic workweek, they are paid night differential just for the hours actually worked.

Night Differential Example

Sandra works two 12-hour Baylor shifts between midnight Friday and midnight Sunday, from midnight to 12:30 p.m., with a meal break from 4:00 to 4:30 a.m. She worked her regular tour.

During Week 2, Sandra also worked on Tuesday from 5:00 to 11:30 p.m. with a meal break from 7:30 to 8:00 p.m., and on Thursday from 4:00 to 8:00 p.m. without a meal break.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

*Night
Differential
Example
(cont.)*

The pay period totals are:

- ! 48 Baylor hours (12 each day, Sunday and Saturday, both weeks;
- ! 10 non-Baylor hours (6 hours Tuesday and 4 hours Thursday, Week 2);
- ! 8 hours night differential (6 hours Tuesday and 2 hours Thursday, Week 2).

Clarification: Night differential is paid for the hours of the entire tour on Tuesday, minus the ? meal break, because Sandra worked at least 4 hours between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. Night differential is paid for only 2 hours on Thursday, the hours Sandra actually worked, because she worked less than 4 hours between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Do not enter night differential for Sunday or Saturday because these are during the basic Baylor workweek.

*Sunday
Premium Pay*

Baylor employees do not receive Sunday premium pay for hours worked during the Baylor basic workweek.

Baylor employees do receive Sunday premium pay for any hours worked outside the basic Baylor workweek between midnight Saturday and midnight Sunday.

Note: Sunday premium pay is also referred to as Sunday differential.

Pay Rate - Baylor employees are paid an additional 25 percent of their hourly premium rate for Sunday premium pay.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

Sunday Premium Pay Example

Jill's Baylor tour is from 7:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., Sunday and Saturday, with a lunch break from 12:30 to 1:00 p.m. On Sunday of Week 1, she also worked from 7:30 p.m. until 10:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- ! 48 Baylor hours (12 each day, Sunday and Saturday, both weeks);
- ! 3 overtime hours (Sunday, Week 1);
- ! 3 Sunday premium hours (Sunday, Week 1); and
- ! 3 night differential hours (Sunday, Week 1).

Clarification: Do not record Sunday premium pay or night differential for the Baylor hours because Jill's hours are within her basic Baylor workweek. However, for the additional 3 hours worked on Sunday, Jill is paid overtime, Sunday differential, and night differential because the hours are outside her basic workweek and more than her scheduled tour.

Had Jill simply worked her regular Baylor tour, she would not receive Sunday premium pay or night differential (or overtime) because all Sunday hours are within the basic workweek and, therefore, not eligible for premium pay.

Saturday Premium Pay

Only Baylor employees in designated positions are eligible for Saturday premium pay (Saturday differential) for hours worked outside the Baylor basic workweek. Ask your SPO if the employee is eligible.

Pay Rate - The designated employees are paid an additional 25 percent of their hourly premium rate for work performed between midnight Friday and midnight Saturday which is outside the basic workweek.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

Saturday Premium Pay Example

Jane worked her regular Baylor tour from 8:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., with a lunch break from noon to 12:30 p.m., on Sunday and Saturday, both weeks. On Saturday, Week 2, she began work at 4:00 a.m. (an additional 4 hours for Saturday) and she is in an occupation that is entitled to Saturday premium pay. The pay period totals are:

- ! 48 Baylor hours (12 each day, Sunday and Saturday, both weeks);
- ! 4 overtime hours (Saturday, Week 2);
- ! 2 night differential hours (Saturday, Week 2; and
- ! 4 Saturday premium hours (Saturday, Week 2).

Clarification: Jane is paid Saturday premium hours for Saturday, Week 2, from 4:00 a.m. to 8:00 a.m. because the hours are outside her Baylor basic workweek. She is not paid Saturday premium for the regular Baylor hours because they are within her Baylor basic workweek.

Had Jane simply worked her regular Baylor tour, she would not receive Saturday premium pay because all her Saturday hours are within the Baylor basic workweek.

On-Call

Baylor employees in designated positions only are eligible for on-call premium pay outside the basic workweek. Ask your SPO for an up-to-date list of these positions.

Requirements/Pay Rate - The designated employees are paid an additional 10 percent of their hourly overtime rate for:

- ! Each hour of on-call duty on a federal holiday outside the basic workweek; or
- ! Each hour of on-call duty when hours of work exceed:
 - 24 hours on Saturday and Sunday of the administrative workweek,
 - 8 hours on any day, Monday through Friday, or
 - 40 hours within an administrative workweek.

On-Call (cont.)

Suspending/Resuming On-Call Pay - On-call pay is suspended during the period of actual call-back overtime or holiday duty. The employee then receives callback overtime pay or holiday pay.

On-call pay resumes when the callback period is complete and the employee resumes the remaining scheduled on-call duty, if any.

Caution - Title 38 Baylor employees do not receive night differential, Sunday premium, or Saturday premium when in an on-call status.

Note: To be considered on-call, the employee must be accessible by telephone or beeper, be ready to return to work, and be in a physical condition that allows him or her to resume duty assignments.

Callback Overtime

Callback overtime pay for Title 38 Baylor Plan employees is paid for overtime work when an employee must return to the worksite. They are eligible to receive callback overtime pay only for work in excess of:

- ! 24 hours on Sunday and Saturday of the administrative workweek;
- ! 8 hours on any day, Monday through Friday; or
- ! 40 hours within an administrative workweek.

Starting Callback - Callback overtime pay starts when the employee reports to work. In other words, employees do not receive on-call pay during the time that they are working callback overtime. They receive callback overtime pay.

Minimum Callback - A minimum of 2 hours callback overtime must be credited for each call back to the work site.

Note: Title 38 Baylor employees may receive night differential, Sunday premium, or Saturday premium when working callback overtime.

TITLE 38 BAYLOR PLAN

Example - On-Call Pay with Callback Overtime

Rose works from 7:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., Sunday and Saturday, with lunch from 12:30 to 1:00 p.m. She is in an occupation that is eligible for on-call pay and Saturday differential.

Rose was on-call both days, during both weeks of the pay period, from 8:00 p.m. to 4:00 a.m. On Saturday, Week 1, she was called back to work from 9:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- ! 48 Baylor hours (12 each day, Sunday and Saturday, both weeks);
- ! 30 hours on-call (8 each day, Sunday, Week 1, and Sunday and Saturday, Week 2, plus 6 on Saturday, Week 1);
- ! 2 hours callback overtime (Saturday, Week 1);
- ! 2 night differential hours (Saturday, Week 1); and
- ! 2 Saturday differential hours (Saturday, Week 1).

Compensatory Time

Baylor Plan employees may earn and use compensatory time. The employee must voluntarily request in writing to earn compensatory time in lieu of overtime pay.

Reminder: Comp time must be earned before it can be used.

Compensatory time for Baylor Plan employees can be earned only during hours that are in excess of:

- ! 24 hours on Sunday and Saturday of the administrative workweek;
- ! 8 hours on any day Monday through Friday; or
- ! 40 hours in the administrative workweek.

Caution - Hours in excess of the Baylor basic workweek that do not constitute overtime hours (i.e., non-Baylor regular hours) maynot be credited for compensatory use. For example, if an employee who worked 24 hours on a Baylor weekend worked 8 hours on Tuesday, the employee cannot earn comp time for the 8 hours because they are not overtime hours. They are non-Baylor hours. To be credited as earned comp time, hours worked would have to be more than 8 in a day.

Using Comp Time - Baylor Plan employees can only use compensatory time during their scheduled weekend hours (i.e., the basic workweek) They use compensatory time at the rate of 1.667 hours for each scheduled weekend hour. Record an hour on the T&A record and the system does the conversion. The actual charge of 1.667 hours then shows up on the Earnings and Leave Statement.

Compensatory Time Example

Frank works from 9:00 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., Sunday and Saturday, with lunch from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. On Saturday, Week 1, he worked overtime from 9:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. Frank submitted a written request to earn compensatory time instead of overtime pay, which was approved. He used an hour of comp time off from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Saturday, Week 2. The pay period totals are:

- ! 47 Baylor hours each day (12 each day, Sunday and Saturday, Week 1, and Sunday, Week 2, plus 11 on Saturday, Week 2);
- ! 2 hours compensatory time earned (Saturday, Week 1); and
- ! 1 hour compensatory time used (Saturday, Week 2).

The system converts the compensatory time earned and used to the accelerated amounts.

Chapter 13. Alternative Work Schedules

OVERVIEW

Introduction

There are two types of work schedules jointly referred to as Alternative Work Schedules or AWS. They are Compressed Work Schedules (CWS), and Flexible Work Schedules (FWS). AWS schedules are available to employees upon approval from their Operating Division head or Regional Director.

There are many types of flexible work schedules and compressed work schedules under an AWS. This handbook does not attempt to cover every situation that may arise under an AWS. Also, since AWS programs for bargaining unit employees are established by negotiated agreements, bargaining unit employees and their supervisors and managers should consult the applicable agreement for its provisions.

There is no authority to create a separate work schedule that combines flexible and compressed work schedules benefits. Do not "borrow" selectively from both schedules to establish another work schedule that provides unauthorized benefits. There are, however, some forms of flexible work schedules which do allow work to be compressed into fewer than 10 workdays in a biweekly pay period.

Time Accounting Method

Agencies participating in AWS programs must establish time accounting methods that provide the supervisor with "affirmative" or personal knowledge of each employee's entitlement to pay by showing number of hours of duty, attendance, and nature and length of absences.

For Additional Information

See the Handbook on Alternative Work Schedules by OPM (12/96), or HHS-Instruction 610-1 (6/17/96).

For non-standard tours (Firefighters and Law Enforcement Officials), see Chapter 11, Other Employees.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES - Overview

Introduction

A compressed work schedule or CWS is one in which an employee's basic work requirement for each pay period is scheduled by the Agency for less than 10 days. An OPDIV may have more than one CWS from which an employee may select his/her preferred schedule.

Compressed work schedules are always fixed schedules. They are not flexible. Once approved, full-time and part-time employees work the same scheduled days and hours each pay period, unless there is a change made in writing prior to the beginning of the pay period.

Credit Hours: Employees on compressed work schedules may not earn or use credit hours.

Compressed Work Schedules

Full-time employees on CWS are required to work their 80 hour tours in less than 10 days in a bi-weekly pay period. Part-Time Employees on CWS work fewer than 80 hours a biweekly pay period, but they are also required to complete their tour hours in less than 10 workdays during the bi-weekly pay period.

Examples of 80-hour CWS schedules:

1. 10 hours a day, 4 days a week
2. 9 hours a day for 8 days, 8 hours one day, and one day off each pay period
3. 13 hours and 20 minutes a day, 3 days a week

CWS employees do not earn overtime for hours worked that are part of their regularly scheduled tours, even if the hours are over 8 in a day.

Important

When a full-time employee on a compressed work schedule goes on travel, to a training class, or is temporarily assigned to an office without CWS, supervisors may change the employee's work schedule to a regular or flexible work schedule for that pay period (or pay periods, if appropriate). However, any changes required must be made in writing prior to the beginning of the pay period. No changes may be made after a pay period has started.

If the pay period has already started and travel/training is required, the supervisor may consider approving compensatory time or overtime for the employee's regular day off.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES - Overview

Regular Hours

Regular hours for CWS employees are the same as for regular or flexible schedules. They are still regular hours, but hours are recorded on the time and attendance record only on the days CWS employees are scheduled to work. On unscheduled days, nothing is recorded. Exception: Such things as military leave, continuation of pay, overtime, etc. See the following respective sections.

Reminder: Compressed Work Schedules are fixed schedules. CWS employees work the same schedule each day unless there is a change made in writing prior to the beginning of the pay period.

Any hours scheduled for CWS employees must be accounted for with hours worked or leave used.

CWS Examples

Example 1: Chris is scheduled to work 10 hours a day, Monday through Thursday, from 7:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., with lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. He worked the full scheduled tour this pay period. The pay period total is:

- 80 regular hours (10 each day, Monday through Thursday, both weeks).

No hours are recorded on days that Chris is not scheduled to work.

Example 2: Joy works eight 9-hour days, Monday through Thursday, both weeks, (8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.); one 8-hour day on Friday, Week 1, (8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.); and is off on Friday of Week 2. Her lunch break is from 12:00 noon to 12:30 p.m. She worked her regular schedule. The pay period total is:

- 80 regular hours (9 each day, Monday through Thursday, both weeks; and 8 hours on Friday, Week 1).

No hours are recorded on days that Joy is not scheduled to work. Had she used annual leave on one Monday, the pay period total would be:

- 9 hours annual leave (Monday, Week 1); and 71 regular hours.

She must account for her scheduled number of hours with leave.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES - Overtime and Compensatory Time

Overtime

Employees on compressed work schedules are regularly scheduled to work more than 8 hours on most days.

Full-time employees on CWS schedules do not earn overtime for working over 8 hours in a day as a part of their scheduled tour. They do earn overtime time for working hours over their scheduled tour, and/or for working more than 80 hours in a pay period.

Example: Jo is scheduled to work 10 hours a day. If she works 11 hours one day, she is paid 1 hour of overtime (not 3 hours).

Part-time employees on CWS schedules do not earn overtime for hours in excess of their compressed work schedules unless it is more than 8 hours in a day or 40 hours per week. For hours worked over 8 in a day or 40 hours in a week that are not a part of their regular schedules, they do earn overtime.

Example: Larry is scheduled to work 5 hours a day. If he works 8 hours one day, he is paid 8 regular hours. If he works 10 hours, he is paid 8 regular hours and 2 hours of overtime (not 5 hours).

As with other employees, overtime for employees on compressed work schedules must be requested and approved in writing, in advance.

Note: See Chapters 9 and 10 for more information on overtime.

Overtime Rate

Overtime pay is 1½ times the hourly rate of basic pay, not to exceed 1½ times the hourly rate of basic pay of GS-10, step 1.

Compensatory Time

Employees on compressed work tours may be granted compensatory time off, instead of payment for, an equal amount of irregular or occasional overtime. Like overtime, compensatory time must be requested and approved in writing, in advance.

Reminder: Compensatory time must be earned before it is used.

Note: See Chapters 9 and 10 for more information on compensatory time.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES - Overtime and Compensatory Time

Examples

Example 1: Joe works 10 hours a day, Monday through Thursday, from 7:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with lunch from 11:30 a.m. to noon. During Week 1, he worked 12 hours on Tuesday and Wednesday (2 hours of unscheduled irregular or occasional overtime each day). During Week 2, Joe worked his regular tour, plus 8 hours of regularly scheduled overtime on Friday. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours (10 each day, Monday through Thursday, both weeks);
- 4 irregular overtime hours (2 each day, Tuesday and Wednesday, Week 1); and
- 8 regularly scheduled overtime hours (Friday, Week 2).

Clarification: Joe worked 2 hours over his regularly scheduled tour on Tuesday and Wednesday, Week 1, and is therefore paid overtime for these 4 hours. (Note: The 4 hours could be compensatory hours rather than overtime, if Joe requests it and it is approved in advance.) Since Friday was Joe's regular day off, he was paid overtime for the 8 hours worked. (Note: These 8 hours could not be compensatory hours because they were regularly scheduled overtime hours.)

Example 2: During the first week of the pay period Julia works 8 hours (8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.) on Monday, 9 hours (8:00 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.) Tuesday through Friday (Week 1) and Monday through Thursday (Week 2). Her lunch break is from noon to 12:30 p.m. and Friday is her day off.

On Thursday, Week 2, of the current pay period, she worked 12 hours (3 hours of regularly scheduled overtime). The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours (8 on Monday, Week 1, and 9 each day Tuesday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Thursday, Week 2); and
- 3 regularly scheduled overtime hours (Thursday, Week 2).

Clarification: Julia is paid overtime for the 3 hours worked over her regular schedule.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Night Differential

Introduction

Employees on compressed work schedules who work nights as part of their scheduled tours are entitled to receive night differential pay.

For detailed information, see Chapters 9 and 10.

Night Differential

GS employees on CWS earn night differential for all hours of the compressed tour between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.

FWS employees on CWS earn night shift differentials if the majority of their hours fall within the second or third shift. For example:

- If 6 or more hours of a 10 hour tour fall in the second shift, the employee earns second shift differential for the entire shift.
- If 5 or more hours of a 9-hour tour fall in the third shift, then the employee earns a third shift differential for the entire shift.

Examples

Example - GS Employees: Vince works from 12:00 midnight to 10:30 a.m., Monday through Thursday, both weeks, with a meal break from 3:00 to 3:30 a.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours (10 each day Monday through Thursday, both weeks); and
- 44 hours of night differential (5:30 each day Monday through Thursday, both weeks, for the hours worked between midnight and 6:00 a.m., excluding the meal break).

Example - FWS Employees: Henry works from 12:00 midnight to 10:30 a.m., Monday through Thursday, both weeks, with a meal break from 3:00 to 3:30 a.m., both weeks. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours (10 each day Monday through Thursday, both weeks); and
 - 80 hours of night differential - Shift 3 (10 each day Monday through Thursday, both weeks because more than half the tour falls in the third shift).

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Sunday Premium Pay

Introduction

Full-time employees on compressed work schedules earn Sunday premium pay just as those employees do who work regular schedules. Only full-time employees are eligible for Sunday premium pay.

Part-time employees are not eligible for Sunday premium pay.

Note: Sunday premium pay is also referred to as Sunday differential.

For detailed information about Sunday premium pay, see Chapters 9 and 10.

Sunday Premium Pay

Full-time employees on CWS who work on Sundays as part of their regularly scheduled tours receive Sunday premium pay. If any part of the tour falls on a Sunday, the employee earns Sunday premium for all the hours of the tour.

Employees with compressed work schedules are the only employees allowed to earn more than 8 hours of Sunday premium pay.

Part-time employees are not entitled to Sunday premium pay.

Example

Margaret is a GS employee who works 10 hours a day, from 7:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Sunday through Wednesday both weeks, with a meal break from noon to 12:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours (10 each day, Sunday through Wednesday, both weeks); and
- 20 hours of Sunday premium (10 for each Sunday).

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Holiday Worked

Introduction

Employees on compressed work schedules who are regularly scheduled to work on a holiday are entitled to holiday premium pay if they do work on the holiday, just as are those employees on regular schedules.

CWS employees earn holiday worked premium pay up to the number of hours they are regularly scheduled to work on that day. Hours worked in excess of those regularly scheduled are overtime.

Example: An employee regularly scheduled to work 10 hours a day may earn up to 10 hours of holiday premium pay for any hours worked. Any hours over 10 would be overtime.

Note: Holiday worked premium pay is discussed in Chapters 9 and 10.

Example

Jerry works 10 hours a day, Monday through Thursday, from 8:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. On Monday of Week 2, which was a holiday, he worked 12 hours. The pay period totals are:

- 70 regular hours (10 each day Monday through Thursday, Week 1, and 10 each day Tuesday through Thursday, Week 2);
 - 10 holiday not worked hours (Monday, Week 2);
 - 10 holiday worked hours (Monday, Week 2); and
 - 2 overtime hours (Monday, Week 2).

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Leave

Introduction

Employees on compressed work schedules earn and use paid leave and unpaid leave just like other employees. The difference is that the employees generally have more hours for which they must account.

For instance, whether using paid or unpaid leave, if the employee is scheduled to work 8 hours one day, he/she must use 8 hours of leave; for 9-hour days - 9, for 10-hour days - 10, etc.

Note: Leave is discussed in Chapters 4 and 5.

Examples

Example 1: Ferdinand works 10 hours a day, Monday through Thursday, from 7:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., with lunch from 11:30 a.m. to noon. On Monday of Week 2, he used a full day of annual leave. The pay period totals are:

- 70 regular hours (10 each day Monday through Thursday, Week 1, and Tuesday through Thursday, Week 2; and
- 10 annual leave hours (Monday, Week 2).

Ferdinand spent 80 hours in a pay status.

Example 2: Maurice works 9 hours a day, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Wednesday, Week 2. On Thursday, Week 2, he works from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Lunch is from noon to 12:30 p.m. each day, and Friday is his day off.

On Thursday, Week 2, Maurice was absent on sick leave until 12:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 76 regular hours (9 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Wednesday, Week 2, plus 4 hours on Thursday, Week 2); and
- 4 sick leave hours (Thursday, Week 2).

Clarification: Maurice accounted for 80 hours. For his absence on Thursday, Week 2, he does not account for the meal break not used.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Holiday Not Worked

Introduction

Full-time employees on compressed work schedules who are regularly scheduled to work on a day designated as a holiday or an "in lieu of holiday", are entitled to as many hours of holiday leave as they would regularly have worked that day.

Part-time employees on compressed work schedules who are regularly scheduled to work on a day designated as a holiday are entitled to as many hours of holiday leave as they would regularly have worked that day. Part-time employees are not entitled to holiday leave for holidays that are celebrated on "in lieu of holidays".

This means that if Christmas falls on a Saturday, and the "in lieu of holiday" is Friday, a part-time employee is not entitled to the Friday as a holiday, even if he/she were scheduled to work on that day. However, in such a situation, the employee may be granted excused absence (administrative leave) where, for example, the office is closed.

Reminder: An "in lieu of holiday" is when the holiday actually falls on one day, but is celebrated on another day. For example, if a holiday falls on a Saturday and full-time employees are given a day off on Friday to celebrate, Friday is the "in lieu of holiday" day off; or if the holiday falls on a Sunday, and they are given a day off on Monday to celebrate, Monday is the "in lieu of holiday" day off.

Holidays on Nonwork Days

Employees on CWS sometimes have a situation in which holidays fall on their regularly scheduled off days. To determine the "in lieu of" holiday day off when the holiday falls on a nonworkday for full-time CWS employees:

- a. Nonworkdays Other than Sunday - If a holiday falls on any day except Sunday, and the day is a nonworkday for the employee, the employee's preceding workday will be the designated the "in lieu of" holiday day off.
 - b. Sunday Nonworkdays - If a holiday falls on a Sunday, and Sunday is a nonworkday for the employee, the following workday will be the employee's designated "in lieu of" holiday day off.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Holiday Not Worked

Caution

Part-time CWS employees are not entitled to an "in lieu of" holiday day off when a holiday falls on a nonworkday for the employee.

Table

Use the following table to determine "in lieu of holiday" days off for full-time employees on compressed work schedules.

IF THE HOLIDAY FALLS ON...	THEN THE EMPLOYEE IS OFF...
A scheduled workday,	That day for the number of hours he/she was scheduled to work.
Any day except Sunday,	The workday before the holiday.
Sunday,	The workday after the holiday.

Full-Time Employee Examples

Example 1: Candace works 10 hours a day, Monday through Thursday, from 7:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., with lunch from 11:30 a.m. to noon. During the first week of the pay period, Christmas was on a Saturday, which is a nonwork day for her. The pay period totals are:

- 70 regular hours (10 each day, Monday through Wednesday, Week 1, and Monday through Thursday, Week 2); and
- 10 holiday not worked hours (Thursday, Week 1).

Clarification: Friday is also a nonworkday for Candace, so she was granted holiday leave for the previous Thursday as the "in lieu of holiday" day off.

Example 2: Roberto is scheduled to work Tuesday through Friday, 10 hours a day, from 6:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., with a 30 minute lunch break each day. During Week 1, Tuesday was Christmas and this year, by presidential order, Monday was also a holiday. New Year's Day was Tuesday, Week 2. The pay period totals are:

- 50 regular hours (10 each day Thursday and Friday, Week 1, and Wednesday through Friday, Week 2); and
- 30 holiday not worked hours (10 each day Tuesday and Wednesday, Week 1, and Tuesday, Week 2).

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Holiday Not Worked

Clarification: Since Roberto is normally off on Monday, which was the holiday granted by Presidential order, and he was off on Tuesday for Christmas, Roberto was granted the day after the holiday for his "in lieu of" holiday day off for Monday. He was also off on Tuesday, Week 2, for New Year's.

Example 3: Natalie is scheduled to work 9-hour days (8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.), Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Wednesday, Week 2. On the second Thursday, she is scheduled for 8 hours (8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.), and Friday is her day off. Her lunch break is from 12:00 noon to 12:30 p.m.

During the second week of the pay period, Monday was Memorial Day. Natalie was off for the holiday off and worked her regular schedule the balance of the pay period. The pay period totals are:

- 71 regular hours (9 each day, Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Tuesday and Wednesday, Week 2, plus 8 hours on Thursday, Week 2); and
- 9 holiday not worked hours (Monday, Week 2).

Clarification: Natalie is granted holiday leave for the number of hours she was normally scheduled to work on the holiday, Monday, Week 2.

Part-Time Employee Examples

Example 1: Kevin works 40 hours a pay period, 6 hours a day Monday through Friday, Week 1, and 10 hours on Monday, Week 2. During the first week of the pay period, Monday was Labor Day holiday. The pay period totals are:

- 30 regular hours (6 each day, Monday through Friday, Week 1); and
- 10 holiday not worked hours (Monday, Week 2).

Clarification: Kevin is granted 10 hours of holiday leave on the second Monday because he is regularly scheduled to work 10 hours on that day.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Holiday Not Worked

*Part-Time
Employee
Examples
(cont.)*

Example 2: Carrie works 5 hours a day Monday through Thursday, both weeks. The 4th of July was on Friday of Week 2. Full-time employees on CWS schedules, whose regular day off was on Friday, were granted an "in lieu of" holiday day off on that Thursday. Carrie worked her regular schedule. The pay period totals are:

- 40 regular hours (5 each day, Monday through Thursday, both weeks).

Clarification: Carrie is not entitled to an "in lieu of" holiday day off because she is a part-time employee. Part-time employees are not entitled to an "in lieu of" holiday when a holiday falls on a nonworkday for the employee. She is paid her basic rate of pay for Thursday.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Military Leave

Introduction

Regulations for military leave are the same for CWS employees as they are for regular employees. Hours are recorded a little differently to account for the CWS schedules.

Military leave is covered in Chapter 4.

Military Leave

Regular Military Leave - For regularly scheduled workdays, always charge the number of tour hours scheduled for the entire day that the employee is absent on regular military leave.

For all non-workdays that fall within the period of time covered by the military orders, regardless of the number of hours the employee works on a tour day, record 8 hours as non-tour military leave.

Note: For every day absent, 1 full day is subtracted from the regular military leave balance.

Military Leave for Parades and Encampments - Always charge the number of tour hours scheduled for the entire day absent on military leave for parades and encampments.

Special Military Leave - Charge special military leave in the same increments as annual and sick leave (i.e., 15 minutes, 30 minutes, 45 minutes, 1 hour).

Examples

Example 1: Enrique works a CWS, 10 hours a day, Monday through Thursday, with a 30 minute lunch break each day. He was absent on regular military leave beginning Monday, Week 1, and returning on Wednesday of Week 2. The pay period totals are:

- 60 regular military leave hours (10 each day Monday through Thursday, Week 1, and Monday through Tuesday, Week 2);
- 24 non-tour military leave hours (8 each day, Friday and Saturday, Week 1, and Sunday, Week 2); and
- 20 regular hours (10 each day Wednesday and Thursday, Week 2).

Nine days are subtracted from his military leave balance.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULES — Military Leave

Example 2: Violet works a CWS. Her tour is 9 hours a day during the first week of the pay period, Monday through Friday, and also during the second week, Monday through Wednesday, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. On Thursday of the second week of the pay period, her tour is 8 hours a day from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. Friday is her day off.

Per her orders, Violet was absent on regular military leave for the entire pay period, beginning on Monday of Week 1 and continuing into the following pay period. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular military leave hours (9 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Wednesday, Week 2, plus 8 on Thursday, Week 2); and
- 32 non-tour military leave hours (8 each day Saturday, Week 1, and Sunday, Friday, and Saturday, Week 2).

Thirteen days are subtracted from her military leave balance.

Example 3: Jason works a CWS, 10 hours a day, Monday through Thursday, with a 30 minute lunch break each day. Per his orders, he was absent on military leave for parades and encampments all of Week 2. The pay period totals are:

- 40 regular hours (10 each day Monday through Thursday, Week 1); and
- 40 military leave for parades and encampments hours (10 each day Monday through Thursday, Week 2).

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULE — Continuation of Pay

Introduction

Employees on compressed work schedules are entitled to 45 days of continuation of pay (COP) for injuries received on the job, just as are those on regular schedules. See Chapter 6 for regulations on COP.

Continuation of Pay

For CWS employees, charge COP for the number of hours regularly scheduled for each workday of the tour that the employee is absent, starting the day after the injury. For non-workdays during the period of time covered by the medical certificate, charge 8 hours, regardless of the number of hours the employee normally works each workday.

If the employee returns to work and then uses part of a day for a doctor's appointment related to the injury, charge the actual amount of time absent to COP.

For each day or partial day absent, 1 full day is subtracted from the 45-day COP balance. Reminder: For absence on the day of injury, charge administrative leave for the hours absent.

Example

Charlie works Monday through Thursday, 10 hours a day, 7:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with lunch from 11:30 a.m. to noon. On Tuesday at 2:30 p.m., Week 1, Charlie broke his leg while on the job. He was granted COP and was absent until Wednesday of Week 2. On Thursday, Week 2, he went to a doctor's appointment, using COP from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 35 regular hours (10 on Monday and 7 on Tuesday, Week 1, plus 10 on Wednesday and 8 on Thursday, Week 2);
- 3 administrative leave hours (Tuesday, Week 1);
- 42 COP hours (10 each day, Wednesday and Thursday, Week 1, and Monday and Tuesday, Week 2, plus 2 on Thursday, Week 2); and
- 24 non-tour COP hours (8 each day Friday and Saturday, Week 1, and Sunday, Week 2).

Eight COP days are subtracted from Charlie's 45-day COP balance.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULE — Religious Compensatory Time

Introduction

Employees on compressed work schedules are entitled to earn and use religious compensatory time, just as those on regular schedules.

For rules regarding religious compensatory time, see Chapter 7.

Religious Compensatory Time

Full-time CWS employees earn religious compensatory time by working more hours a day than are in their scheduled tour, and/or for working more than 80 hours in a pay period.

Example: Brenna is scheduled to work 10 hours a day. If she works 12 hours a day, she earns 2 hours of religious compensatory time.

Part-time CWS employees earn religious compensatory time by working more than 8 hours in a day or 40 hours per week.

Example: Jim is scheduled to work 5 hours a day. If he works 11 hours a day, he is paid for 8 regular hours and earns 3 hours of religious compensatory time (not 6 hours).

Full-Time Employee Example

Pattie works 9 hours a day during the first week of the pay period (8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m.), and 9 hours a day during the second week, Monday through Wednesday. On Thursday her tour is 8 hours (until 4:30 p.m.). Friday is her day off. During Week 1, Pattie worked an extra hour each day, to earn 5 hours of religious compensatory time. She used religious compensatory time for the entire day on Monday, Week 2. The pay period totals are:

- 71 regular hours (9 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1, plus 9 on Tuesday and Wednesday and 8 on Thursday, Week 2);
- 9 religious comp time hours used (Monday, Week 2); and
- 5 religious comp hours earned (1 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1).

Pattie must earn 4 more religious comp hours to repay what she used.

Note: She cannot earn regular comp time or overtime until she has repaid the religious comp hours.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULE — Religious Compensatory Time

*Part-Time
Employee
Example*

Ginger works 6 hours a day (8:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m.), both weeks of the pay period.

During Week 1, Ginger worked until 3:30 p.m. each day and 7 hours on Saturday. In Week 2, she worked until 5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and used 6 hours of religious compensatory time all day on Friday. The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours (7 each day Monday through Friday, and 5 hours Saturday, Week 1, plus 8 each day Monday through Thursday, Week 2);
- 6 religious comp time hours used (Friday, Week 2); and
- 6 religious comp hours earned (2 on Saturday, Week 1, and 1 each day Monday through Thursday, Week 2).

Clarification: Ginger worked one hour over her tour each day during the first week, but she did not work over 8 hours in a day. The extra hour each day is paid at regular pay. After working on Saturday, her total hours worked equaled 42, so the 2 hours over 40 may be credited to her religious comp earned.

In Week 2, Ginger worked 3 hours over her tour each day Monday through Thursday, or 9 hours per day. The 1 hour over 8 each day is credited toward her religious comp earned.

Caution

Reminder: Employees cannot earn overtime pay or regular compensatory time until any religious comp hours owed are repaid.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULE — Home Leave

Introduction

Always charge the scheduled tour hours for the entire day absent on home leave. A full day will be subtracted from the home leave balance for each day absent.

For the rules regarding home leave, see Chapter 4.

Examples

If the employee works 10 hours a day, 4 days a week, and is absent on home leave for one day, you enter 10 hours of home leave.

If the employee works 9 hours a day for 8 days, 8 hours one day, and has one day off each pay period, and the employee uses home leave for one of the 9-hour days, you enter 9 hours of home leave.

COMPRESSED WORK SCHEDULE — Time Off Incentive Award

*Time Off
Incentive Award Leave*

An employee on a compressed work schedule may be granted a Time Off Incentive Award up to the average number of hours of work in the employee's biweekly scheduled tour of duty during a leave year.

The employee may be granted a single contribution of time off leave up to ½ of the maximum amount that could be granted during the leave year.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULES - Overview

Introduction

A flexible work schedule or FWS includes designated hours (core hours) and days (core days) when an employee must be present for work. It also includes designated hours during which an employee may elect to work in order to complete the employee's basic (non-overtime) work requirement. An OPDIV may have more than one FWS from which an employee may select his or her preferred schedule.

Flexible hours: Flexible hours (also referred to as flexible time bands, flexitime, or flexitime) are the times during the workday, workweek, or pay period, within the tour of duty, during which an employee covered by a flexible work schedule may choose to vary his or her times of arrival to and departure from the worksite, consistent with the duties and requirements of the position. The flexible time bands are established by the OPDIV. Do not confuse flexitime with flexitour.

Credit Hours: All employees on flexible work schedules may earn and use credit hours, a system which allows more flexibility for the employee than would a normal tour.

Flexible Work Schedules

Employees on flexible work schedules have a regularly scheduled tour which determines their pay, differentials, and leave. Employees can be either full time or part time.

Full-time employees must work 80 hours per biweekly pay period, or a multiple of this requirement, as determined by the OPDIV. Part-time employees work fewer hours than a full-time employee within a specified period of time, as determined by the OPDIV.

There are several types of flexible work schedules. OPDIV Heads are responsible for establishing the FWS available for their OPDIVs. Regardless of those FWS available for their OPDIV, employees must obtain approvals from their supervisors prior to working them. Models of flexible work schedules are:

- Flexitour
 - Gliding Schedule
 - Maxiflex
 - Variable Day Schedule
 - Variable Week Schedule

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULES - Overview

Flexible Work Schedules Models

The following are general descriptions and guidelines of model flexible work schedules. For specific details and more information on different FWS available at your OPDIV, see your local policy manual.

Note: Part-time employees work less than 80 hours per biweekly pay period. For each of the flexible work schedules described, OPDIVs determine the number of hours required for part-time employees for each specified period of time (i.e., daily, weekly, biweekly).

Flexitour - A type of FWS in which employees are allowed to select starting and stopping times within established flexible hours. However, once selected, the hours are fixed until the OPDIV provides an opportunity to select different starting and stopping times. Full-time employees must work 8 hours a day, 40 hours a week, and 80 hours a biweekly pay period.

Gliding Schedule - A type of FWS in which employees may select a starting and stopping time each day, and may change starting and stopping times daily within established flexible hours. Full-time employees must work 8 hours a day, 40 hours a week, and 80 hours a biweekly pay period.

Variable Day Schedule - A type of FWS containing core hours on each workday in the week. Full-time employees must work 40 hours in each week of the biweekly pay period. They may vary the number of hours worked on a given workday within the week, within the limits established for the organization.

Variable Week Schedule - A type of FWS containing core hours on each workday in the week. Full-time employees must work 80 hours in a biweekly pay period. They may vary the number of hours worked on a given workday or the number of hours each week, within the limits established for the organization, as long as they account for core hours with work or leave.

Maxiflex - A type of FWS that contains core hours on fewer than 10 workdays in the biweekly pay period. Full-time employees must work 80 hours in a biweekly pay period. They may vary the number of hours worked on a given workday or the number of hours worked each week, within the limits established for the organization.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULES — Credit Hours

Introduction

Credit hours are those hours within a flexible work schedule that an employee elects to work in excess of his or her basic work requirement so as to vary the length of a workweek or workday. More simply, credit hours are a voluntary extension of a normal workday to earn hours that may be used later in place of other leave. They are worked at the election of the employee, consistent with OPDIV policies, and with the concurrence of the supervisor.

Credit hours are distinguished from overtime hours in that they are not officially ordered and approved in advance by management.

Credit hours must be worked within an employee's non-overtime tour of duty. In general, the tour of duty comprises all hours and days for which the flexible and core hours have been designated, including those days within a maxiflex schedule for which only flexible hours are scheduled. The tour of duty also defines the limits within which an employee must complete his or her basic work requirement (i.e., 8 hours a day, or 40 hours a week, or 80 hours a biweekly pay period).

This means, for example, that if the basic work week is generally 8 hours a day, Monday through Friday, credit hours cannot be worked on Saturday and Sunday. They must be worked Monday through Friday after completing the basic work requirement of 8 hours per day.

Each OPDIV may designate specific flexible time bands within which employees may earn credit hours. Note: Credit hours must be considered daytime hours whenever possible.

Caution

Only employees on flexible work schedules (FWS), either full-time or part-time, may earn and use credit hours. Employees on compressed work schedules (CWS) may not earn or use credit hours.

Credit Hours

Credit hours may be earned and used in quarter hour (15-minute) increments. However, each OPDIV has its own policy on increments allowed and you must verify that amount with your local policy.

Credit hours may never be advanced. If the employee doesn't have enough credit hours to cover the requested time off, he or she must use another type of leave. Credit hours may be earned and used within the same pay period, but they must be earned prior to use.

An OPDIV may place a limit on the number of credit hours employees may earn on a daily, weekly, or biweekly basis, as well as on the number of credit hours that employees may carryover from one pay period to the next. U. S. Code, however, limits the maximum number of credit hours which may be carried forward from one pay period to the next to 24 credit hours for a full-time employee.

For part-time employees the maximum carryover is one-fourth of the part-time biweekly work requirement. Example: A part-time employee who usually works 64 hours a pay period could have a maximum carryover of 16 credit hours.

Pay Rate

Basically, credit hours are used in the same manner as annual leave is used. When employees use credit hours, the credit hours are paid at the employees' rate of basic pay, not premium pay. Credit hours may not be used by an employee to create or increase entitlement to overtime pay.

Employees may not be paid overtime pay, Sunday premium pay, or holiday premium pay for credit hours.

Travel

Credit hours may not be earned for travel time.

Unused Credit Hours

At the time of termination or retirement, or when an employee ceases to have a flexible work schedule, the employee must be paid for all unused credit hours at the current rate of basic pay.

Payment for full-time employees is limited to a maximum of 24 hours. For part-time employees, the maximum is one-fourth of the biweekly work requirement.

Employees may not be compensated for credit hours for any reason other than termination or retirement, or the employee ceases to have a flexible work schedule.

Payment may not be made for excess or unused credit hours that cannot be carried forward into the next pay period.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULES — Credit Hours

Examples

Example 1: Dana works a flexible work schedule of 8 hours a day, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., with lunch from 12:30 p.m. to 1:00 p.m.

With her supervisor's prior approval, Dana worked an extra hour each day during Week 1 (until 6:00 p.m.), earning 1 credit hour per day. Dana also worked an extra hour on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of Week 2, earning 1 credit hour per day. On Thursday, Week 2, she worked her usual 8 hours and on Friday, Dana used 8 credit hours. The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours (8 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Thursday, Week 2);
- 8 credit hours earned (1 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Wednesday, Week 2); and
- 8 credit hours used (Friday, Week 2).

Example 2: Yvonne works a flexible work schedule from 9:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, with lunch from 12:30 p.m. to 1:00 p.m.

During Week 1, she requested and received approval to earn 4 credit hours on Monday and Tuesday by working from 7:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. (10 hours each day). However, on Tuesday, Yvonne only worked from 8:30 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours (8 each Monday through Friday, both weeks); and
- 3 credit hours earned (2 on Monday and 1 on Tuesday, Week 1).

Clarification: Although Yvonne requested and was approved to work 4 credit hours, she did not work the required number of hours. She cannot be credited for hours not worked.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE — Holiday Not Worked

Introduction

Holidays not worked for employees on flexible work schedules are the same as for regular employees and it is recorded the same.

Full-time employees are entitled to their regular rate of basic pay for holidays off during their regular tour, up to a maximum of 8 hours.

Part-time employees are entitled to their regular rate of basic pay for the number of hours for which they are scheduled that day, up to a maximum of 8 hours. (Part-time employees who are not scheduled to work that day are not entitled to pay.) If a part-time employee on a flexible work schedule does not have a typical regular schedule (i.e., the employee works a specified number of hours per week with no set days or hours per day) the OPDIV may average the number of hours in prior weeks on days corresponding to the holiday to determine an employee's pay entitlement for that holiday, not to exceed 8 hours.

A work schedule submitted in advance of the administrative work week also may be used by an OPDIV as the basis for determining the number of hours to pay a part-time employee on a holiday. However, OPDIVs should ensure that there is no abuse of entitlement. For example, an employee should not schedule more hours of work on a holiday than he or she has scheduled in prior weeks on days corresponding to the holiday.

Holidays on Nonwork Days

Employees on FWS sometimes have a situation in which holidays fall on their regularly scheduled off days. To determine the "in lieu of" holiday day off when the holiday falls on a nonworkday for full-time FWS employees:

- a. Nonworkdays Other than Sunday - If a holiday falls on any day except Sunday, and the day is a nonworkday for the employee, the employee's preceding workday will be the designated the "in lieu of" holiday day off.
- b. Sunday Nonworkdays - If a holiday falls on a Sunday, and Sunday is a nonworkday for the employee, the following workday will be the employee's designated "in lieu of" holiday day off.

Part-time employees are not entitled to holiday leave for holidays that are celebrated on "in lieu of" holidays.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE — Holiday Not Worked

*Holidays on Nonwork Days
(cont.)*

Reminder: An "in lieu of holiday" is when the holiday actually falls on one day, but is celebrated on another day. For example, if a holiday falls on a Saturday and employees are given a day off on Friday to celebrate, Friday is the "in lieu of holiday" day off; or if the holiday falls on a Sunday, and they are given a day off on Monday to celebrate, Monday is the "in lieu of holiday" day off.

This means that if Christmas falls on a Saturday, and the "in lieu of" holiday is Friday, a part-time employee is not entitled to the Friday as a holiday, even if he/she were scheduled to work on that day. However, in such a situation, the employee may be granted excused absence (administrative leave) where, for example, the office is closed.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE — Leave

Introduction

Employees on flexible work schedules earn and use paid or unpaid leave just like other employees. They are eligible for all the same types of leave as regular employees including military, continuation of pay, religious compensatory time, etc., and the same rules and regulations apply. In addition to other leave, employees on FWS may earn and use credit hours as described in this chapter.

Regular compensatory time is slightly different for employees on flexible work schedules. Refer to the section later in this chapter for Compensatory Time.

Just like regular employees, employees on FWS must account for the number of hours for which they are regularly scheduled to work, in the required period of time (i.e., 8 hours a day, 40 hours a week, 80 hours in a biweekly pay period). Either hours worked or leave used (paid or unpaid) must be recorded to account for the required number of hours regularly scheduled.

For leave used by employees on flexible work schedules, refer to the appropriate chapters for rules and regulations. Exception: Holiday not worked, or holiday leave, for FWS employees is discussed previously in this chapter.

Paid Leave

There is no requirement that employees use flexible hours for medical or dental appointments or other personal matters if the employee wishes to charge this time to leave. In other words, employees may choose to charge this time off scheduled during flexible hours to an appropriate leave category or to credit hours.

Employees may apply no more sick or annual leave to a given day than they are scheduled to work on that day. For example, if scheduled for 8 hours, at least, but not more than, 8 hours must be accounted for with the appropriate leave. In organizations in which employees are not required to schedule their daily work hours in advance, agencies should develop policies to ensure that sick leave is not abused.

Excused Absence or Administrative Leave

For employees on flexible work schedules, the amount of excused absence to be granted should be based on the employees' established basic work requirements in effect for the period covered by the excused absence.

To determine excused absence/administrative leave for employees based upon individual patterns of arrival and departure, use the following methods:

1. Constant Pattern on Arrival - The majority of employees tend to arrive within 5 to 10 minutes of the same time each day. Once a pattern has been established, it should be used as a reference point.
2. Predominant Pattern of Arrival - If an employee maintains a schedule in which one particular arrival time predominates, this arrival time should be used to determine the amount of excused absence to be granted.
3. Variable Pattern of Arrival - Where there is such variation in an employee's arrival time each day that there is no discernible pattern, the average of the employee's arrival time for the previous 2-week period may be computed and used as a reference for determining excused absence.

Employees on FWS who are not scheduled to work on a day during an office closure or furlough may not be granted a period of time off on another day. They are considered to be in a non-pay status on those non-scheduled workdays. Therefore, if, for example, the agency is closed because of weather conditions, the employees have no entitlement to an additional day off.

Temporary Duty

When employees covered by an FWS program are assigned to a temporary duty station using another schedule - either traditional or AWS - the agency may allow them to continue to use the schedule used at his or her permanent work site (if suitable) or require the employee to change the schedule to conform to operations at the temporary work site.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE — Leave

Examples

Example 1: 8 Hours A Day - Renee works Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. with lunch from noon to 12:30 p.m. In Week 1, she used sick leave Monday through Wednesday. She used annual leave all of Week 2. The pay period totals are:

- 16 regular hours (8 each day, Thursday and Friday, Week 1);
- 24 sick leave hours (8 each day, Monday through Wednesday, Week 1); and
- 40 annual leave hours (8 each day, Monday through Friday, Week 2).

Example: 40 Hours A Week - Joy works a variable day schedule (40 hours per week), Monday through Friday, core hours from 9:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. each day, with a 30 minute lunch break each day. She worked from 7:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, Week 1, and from 7:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, Week 2. She called in sick on Friday. The pay period totals are:

- 68 regular hours (8 each day, Monday through Friday, Week 1, and 7 each day Monday through Thursday, Week 2); and
- 12 sick leave hours (Friday, Week 2).

Clarification: A variable day schedule requires that Joy work during core hours each workday and 40 hours per week. She worked 40 hours in Week 1, including the core hours. In Week 2, she worked 28 hours, including core hours. She requested the appropriate leave in order to account for the required number of hours that she did not work.

Example: - No Scheduled Tour - Phyllis works a maxiflex schedule, 80 hours a biweekly pay period, with no scheduled workdays (Core hours are Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.). On Monday of Week 2, the office closed due to weather conditions and regularly scheduled employees were granted excused absence. Phyllis may not be granted excused absence because she was not scheduled to work. FWS employees who do not have a scheduled workday during office closure or furlough may not be granted another nonworkday.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE - Overtime

Introduction

For employees under flexible work schedule programs, overtime hours are all hours of work in excess of 8 hours in a day or 40 hours in a week which are officially requested and approved in advance by management.

The difference between overtime and credit hours is:

Overtime: The supervisor officially requests that the employee work overtime beyond his or her flexible tour.

Credit Hours: The employee elects to earn credit hours and they are not officially ordered in advance by management. Credit hours must be approved in advance by the supervisor.

Note: Overtime is covered in Chapters 9, 10, and 14.

Important

Overtime hours must be requested and approved in advance, in writing, for all employees including FWS employees, exempt or nonexempt. Caution: Employees on flexible work schedules may not earn overtime pay as a result of including "suffered or permitted" hours as hours of work.

Excess Hours

Management may request that an employee covered by an FWS program work hours that are in excess of the number the employee planned to work on a specific day. If the hours are not in excess of 8 in a day or 40 in a week at the time they are performed, the OPDIV may, at its discretion, permit or require the employee to:

- take an equal number of hours of compensatory time off on a subsequent workday;
 - complete his or her basic work requirement as scheduled and count the extra hours of work ordered as credit hours; or
 - complete his or her basic work requirement as scheduled if OPDIV policy permits, and be paid overtime for any hours over 8 hours in a day or 40 hours in a week.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE - Overtime

Example

Dan is an FWS employee who works a 40 hour week basic tour. He worked his normal schedule of Monday through Friday from 7:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with a 30 minute lunch break, both weeks. During the first week of the pay period, Dan's supervisor asked him to work 2 extra hours on Monday through Thursday (until 5:30 p.m.) that week. The supervisor, per OPDIV policy, permitted Dan to accrue the extra hours as credit hours. The pay period totals are:

- 80 regular hours (8 each day, Monday through Friday, both weeks; and
 - 8 credit hours earned (2 each day, Monday through Thursday, Week 1).

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE — Compensatory Time

Introduction

Flexible work schedule employees earn and use compensatory hours just as do other employees. The main difference is that employees under FWS may (at their written request) work compensatory time in place of either regularly scheduled or irregular or occasional overtime. This includes prevailing rate employees (Federal Wage Grade) and nonexempt employees.

FWS employees are the only employees allowed to earn compensatory time instead of payment for authorized regularly scheduled overtime.

Reminder: Comp time must be earned before it is used.

Caution

Compensatory time off, in lieu of overtime pay, may not be required for:

- any prevailing rate employee;
- an employee who is nonexempt from the FLSA; or
- any FLSA-exempt employee whose rate of basic pay is equal to or less than the rate for a GS-10, step 10.

Example

Franklin is an FWS employee who works Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., with lunch from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. During Week 1, he worked 3 hours of regularly scheduled overtime and 1 hour of irregular overtime on Tuesday. He requested, in writing, to earn compensatory time instead of overtime pay, which was granted by his supervisor. During Week 2, he used the 4 hours of comp time on Monday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The pay period totals are:

- 76 regular hours (8 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Tuesday through Friday, Week 2, plus 4 hours Monday, Week 1);
- 4 hours comp time earned (Tuesday, Week 1); and
- 4 hours comp time used (Monday, Week 2).

Clarification: Compensatory time may be earned and used in the same pay period. However, it must be earned before it is used.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE - Night Differential

Introduction

General Schedule (GS) and Federal Wage System (FWS) employees on flexible work schedules are entitled to night differential for night hours that are required as a part of their regularly scheduled tour of duty. They are not entitled to night differential solely because they elect to work at a time when night differential is authorized. Employees who work regularly scheduled overtime at night are entitled to night differential. For more information, see Chapters 9 and 10.

Credit Hours and Night Differential

Earning Credit Hours - Employees on flexible work schedules are not entitled to night differential when they earn credit hours. Night differential is based on regularly scheduled tours, not flexible tours.

Using Credit Hours - Employees on flexible work schedules are paid night differential for credit hours used if other requirements for night differential are met.

Example

Don is a GS employee who works Monday through Friday, 11:30 p.m. to 8:00 a.m., with a meal break from 3:30 a.m. to 4:00 a.m. With prior approval, he worked credit hours from 10:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. each night of the first week. He used credit hours from 11:30 p.m. - 1:30 a.m. on Friday, Week 2. The pay period totals are:

- 78 regular hours (8 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1, and Monday through Thursday, Week 2, plus 6 hours Friday, Week 2);
- 60 night differential hours (6 each day Monday through Friday, both weeks);
- 5 credit hours earned (1 each day Monday through Friday, Week 1); and
- 2 credit hours used (Friday, Week 2).

Clarification: Don does not earn night differential for credit hours earned between 10:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m., but he does earn night differential for the credit hours used between 11:30 p.m. and 1:00 a.m. He has a balance of 3 credit hours.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE - Sunday Premium Pay

Introduction

Full-time employees on flexible work schedules are entitled to Sunday premium pay for Sunday work that is part of the regularly scheduled daily tour, not to exceed 8 hours. It is possible for employees to have two daily tours of duty that begin or end on the same Sunday.

Employees on flexible work schedules do not earn Sunday premium pay while earning credit hours or for credit hours used on Sunday.

Part-time employees are not entitled to Sunday premium pay.

Note: Sunday premium pay is also referred to as Sunday differential. See Chapters 9 and 10 for information.

Example

Christina is a GS employee who works from 6:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, with a meal break from 11:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. She elected and was approved to earn 2 credit hours each day by working from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., Sunday through Thursday the first week. During the second week, Christina used credit hours all day on Sunday. The pay period totals are:

- 72 regular hours (8 each day, Sunday through Thursday, Week 1, and Monday through Thursday, Week 2);
- 8 Sunday premium hours, Sunday, Week 1;
- 10 credit hours earned (2 each day, Sunday through Thursday, Week 1); and
- 8 credit hours used (Sunday, Week 2).

Clarification: Christina is not paid Sunday premium pay for the 2 credit hours earned on the first Sunday or for the credit hours used on the second Sunday. She has a balance of 2 credit hours.

FLEXIBLE WORK SCHEDULE - Holiday Worked

Introduction

Employees who work flexible work schedules are entitled to holiday premium pay as indicated below.

Employees on flexible work schedules may receive night differential for night work on a holiday during their regularly scheduled tour if other requirements for night differential are met.

Holiday Worked

Full-time employees under an FWS program who perform non-overtime work on a holiday (or a day designated as the "in lieu of" holiday) are entitled to holiday premium pay, up to a maximum of 8 hours. For any hours worked over 8 that are a part of their basic work requirement, they are paid their basic rate of pay.

OPDIVs must designate the 8 holiday hours applicable to each FWS employee. The 8 hours designated as holiday hours must include all applicable core hours.

Example: John works a flexible work schedule and is regularly scheduled to work 9 hours on Monday, Labor Day. At the request of his supervisor, John worked that day for 10 hours. John would earn 8 hours of holiday premium pay for the 8 holiday hours designated by the OPDIV, 1 hour of basic pay, and 1 hour of overtime pay.

Part-time employees under an FWS program are entitled to holiday premium pay only for work performed during their regularly scheduled basic work requirement on a holiday (not to exceed 8 hours). Part-time employees scheduled to work on a day designated as an "in lieu of" holiday for full-time employees are not entitled to holiday premium pay for work performed on that day.

For Additional Information

For more information on holiday worked premium pay, see Chapters 9 and 10.

Chapter 14. FLSA Non-Exempt Employees

OVERVIEW

Introduction

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) is a law that regulates the hours of work and pay for certain federal employees. Personnel offices determine who is covered (non-exempt) and who is not covered (exempt) under the FLSA, and identifies them on the SF-50B.

Non-exempt, or covered, employees are identified on the SF-50B by the phrase "FLSA non-exempt". Any employee not identified as non-exempt (coded "E"), is exempt from the regulations of FLSA.

For more information about FLSA, see 5 CFR, Part 551.

Defining Exempt Employees

FLSA exemption is based on the nature of the work performed, the level of responsibility, and the independence of action for executive, professional, and administrative positions.

Exemption status is normally determined at the time the position is classified and should be clearly marked on the position description. If you are unsure of the status of an employee, ask your Servicing Personnel Office (SPO).

Federal Employees Pay Comparability Act

With the enactment of Federal Employees Pay Comparability Act (FEPCA) on May 4, 1991, the requirement to perform overtime pay computations for FLSA non-exempt employees under two laws (Title 5 and FLSA) was eliminated. Under the amended law, overtime pay for non-exempt employees is computed solely under FLSA.

FLSA Rules

FLSA rules and regulations have been appropriately incorporated into various chapters as needed. For information, refer to those chapters.

Overtime and Compensatory Time: For GS employees, see Chapter 9. For Federal Wage System (prevailing rate) employees, see Chapter 10.
Note: These chapters also cover Callback Overtime, On-Call Status, Suffer and Permit Overtime, and Regularly Scheduled Standby Duty.

FLSA NON-EXEMPT EMPLOYEES - Overview

FLSA Rules
(cont.)

Substitute Hours: See Chapter 5.

Alternative Work Schedules: For employees on Compressed Work Schedules (CWS) or Flexible Work Schedules (FWS), see Chapter 13.

Firefighters and Law Enforcement Officials: See Chapter 11.

Chapter 15. Voluntary Leave Transfer Program (VLTP)

OVERVIEW

Introduction

The Voluntary Leave Transfer Program (VLTP) permits Federal employees to transfer their unused, accrued annual leave to other employees who have been determined to have a medical or family medical emergency and have been approved as a leave recipient. All employees who earn annual leave are eligible to participate in the VLTP.

For more information, see 5 CFR, Part 630, Subpart I.

Voluntary Leave Bank Program

OPDIVs may elect to establish and administer a Voluntary Leave Bank Program, consistent with the applicable laws and OPM regulations. The Voluntary Leave Bank Program enables Federal employees to contribute accrued or accumulated annual leave to a "leave bank". The leave from this bank may be made available to employees who require leave because of a medical emergency.

For more information, see 5 CFR, Part 630, Subpart J.

Sick Leave

Sick leave may not be donated under either program.

Records and Reports

Each OPDIV is required to maintain records concerning the administration of the VLTP and may be required by OPM to report any information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the programs. Information which must be maintained is:

- The number of applications approved that affect employees;
 - The number of applications approved that affect family members of employees;
 - The grade or pay level of each donor;
 - The grade or pay level and gender of each recipient;
 - Total amount of transferred annual leave used by each recipient;
 - Any additional information OPM may require.

VOLUNTARY LEAVE TRANSFER PROGRAM (VLTP) - Overview

Other Federal Agencies

DHHS will accept the transfer of annual leave from donors employed in other Federal agencies, and employees of DHHS may donate annual leave to employees in other Federal agencies, if the other agencies will accept outside donations.

If an employee who is a current leave recipient under the VLTP transfers to another Federal agency without a break in service, the OPDIV must complete a form SF 1150-A, Transfer of Leave Records for Leave Recipient Covered by the Voluntary Leave Transfer Program. This is an addendum which must be attached to the SF-1150, Record of Leave Data, and forwarded to the receiving agency. See the page following this section, Overview, for a copy of the SF-1150A.

Timekeepers must inform the OPDIV's VLTP Coordinator if there is any balance left in the VLTP account of a participating employee who transfers to another Federal agency.

Definitions

Medical emergency - is a medical condition of an employee or a family member that is likely to require an employee's absence from duty for a prolonged period of time and to result in a substantial loss of income to the employee because of the unavailability of paid leave. Such absence can be consecutive or intermittent hours during the leave year.

Absence from duty because of pregnancy and/or child birth is an acceptable reason for use of VLTP.

Family member - includes the following relatives of employees:

- Parents
 - Spouse and his/her parents
 - Children (including adopted children) and their spouses
 - Brothers and sisters and their spouses
 - Any individual related by blood or affinity whose close association with the employee is the equivalent of a family relationship

VOLUNTARY LEAVE TRANSFER PROGRAM (VLTP) - Overview

Prohibition of Coercion	Employees may not directly or indirectly intimidate, threaten, or coerce, or attempt to do so, any other employee for the purpose of interfering with any right employees may have with respect to donating or using annual leave under the VLTP. This includes conferring, or promising to confer, any benefit or threatening any reprisal.
Retroactivity	VLTP received may be substituted retroactively for any period of LWOP, or to liquidate advanced annual or sick leave, that began on or after the date fixed by the OPDIV as the beginning of the medical emergency.
Accrual of Annual and Sick Leave During VLTP Status	The maximum amount of annual leave or sick leave that a full-time employee may accrue while in a VLTP status is 40 hours for each approved emergency situation. If an employee who is in a leave transfer status terminates his/her Federal service, the amount of leave in the separate accounts may not be credited to the employee's account for lump-sum leave purposes. The employee loses the annual and sick leave hours accrued while participating in the VLTP. Any unused donated leave is returned to the donor(s). Full-time employees using donated annual leave continue to accrue annual and sick leave up to a maximum of 40 hours in each category, which must be kept in a separate account. (Sometimes this is called "banking the hours".) For part-time employees or employees with uncommon tours of duty, the maximum number is an average of the number of hours of work in the weekly scheduled tour of duty. Once the maximum number of hours are accumulated in this separate account, leave accumulation stops. No more annual and sick leave may be accrued once the maximum accrual in the separate accounts is reached, until the medical emergency terminates. The employee is not allowed to use the leave in the separate annual and sick leave accounts until the first pay period beginning after the medical emergency ends and the employee is no longer in a VLTP status. Exception: The only exception is that if the employee exhausts all donated leave, the hours in the separate account may be used.

*Accrual of Annual and
Sick Leave
During VLTP
Status (cont.)*

Should the leave recipient return to work on a part-time schedule while still in a medical emergency situation (e.g., therapy, gradual return to work under doctor's orders, family member's therapy), he/she will earn annual and sick leave credited to the regular leave account. If the recipient uses some donated leave, but also works and uses regular leave, in any given pay period, all leave earned during that pay period is credited to the employees regular leave account (not the separate account).

If an employee is in an advanced annual leave status when the VLTP leave begins:

1. The OPDIV must establish procedures to ensure that 40 hours (or the appropriate number of hours for part-time and uncommon tour of duty employees) of annual leave are placed in a separate annual leave account and made available for use by the employee as described above, and
 2. The employee will continue to accrue annual leave while in a shared leave status to the extent necessary for the purpose of reducing any indebtedness caused by the use of annual leave advanced at the beginning of the leave year.

VOLUNTARY LEAVE TRANSFER PROGRAM (VLTP) - Leave Recipient

To Apply

An employee must apply in writing to become a leave recipient. In the event that an employee is not capable of making application on his/her own behalf, another DHHS employee, a family member, or an employee's representative may make the application.

Each application for VLTP is to be initially submitted to the immediate supervisor of the potential leave recipient for consideration and must include:

- The name, position title, and grade or pay level of the prospective leave recipient;
- A brief description of the nature, severity, and anticipated duration of the medical or family medical emergency affecting the applicant; and
- A statement from a physician or other appropriate expert (e.g., Christian Science Practitioner, chiropractor, psychologist, etc.) and any additional information as appropriate, that shows the nature, severity, and duration of the medical or family medical emergency.

The application should also include the timekeeper's name and number, as well as his/her phone number, and the number of hours needed.

Approval

The immediate supervisor must forward the application to the OPDIV's designated officials for consideration. Follow additional procedures as established by your OPDIV.

The employee must be notified of a decision within 10 working days after the request has been received.

If approved, the OPDIV's VLTP Coordinator must notify the leave recipient's timekeeper in writing that the employee has been placed on the VLTP. The timekeeper must also be advised of any hours received and kept updated as other donated leave is received.

If not approved, the employee must be advised of the decision and the reasons for its disapproval.

VOLUNTARY LEAVE TRANSFER PROGRAM (VLTP) - Leave Recipient

Requirements

To qualify as a recipient under the VLTP, the potential leave recipient's absence from duty without available paid leave because of the medical emergency, or family medical emergency, must be (or be expected to be) for a prolonged period of time. The period of unpaid absence, either consecutive or intermittent hours during the leave year, must be:

- At least 24 hours for full-time employees; and
- For part-time employees or employees with uncommon tours of duty, at least 30% of the average number of hours of work in the biweekly scheduled tour of duty.

Before using VLTP leave, leave recipients must first use all annual and sick leave that was accrued before the medical emergency began. Exception: A leave recipient whose participation in VLTP is based on a family medical emergency must first use all annual leave and only the amount of sick leave as authorized by the Family Friendly Leave Act.

There is no limit to the number of hours which may accumulate.

Annual leave that has been transferred to a leave recipient may not be:

- Transferred to another recipient, except in the recrediting of unused VLTP leave;
- Made available for recredit upon re-employment by a Federal agency;
- Included in lump-sum leave payments;
- Used for any purpose other than the medical emergency for which it was donated; or
- Used after the recipient's medical or family medical emergency is terminated.

The leave recipient's OPDIV shall continuously monitor the status of the medical emergency affecting the leave recipient to ensure that the leave recipient continues to be affected by a medical emergency.

VOLUNTARY LEAVE TRANSFER PROGRAM (VLTP) - Leave Recipient

Keeping Track of VLTP

Timekeepers must manually keep track of the leave recipient's VLTP leave received, used, and the balance. You may use copies of the sample VLTP Manual Log following our example;

OR

You may choose to use the HHS-564, Administrative Time and Leave Record to record hours received and used, and make a separate list of donors and number of hours each donated on a blank piece of paper.

OR

You may choose to record everything on blank pieces of paper.

Whichever method is used, the timekeeper must keep close track of VLTP hours to ensure that employees are credited with the exact number they receive and use. Timekeepers must be continually aware of balances in order to inform the supervisor, employee, and VLTP coordinator of hours available, and to report any unused hours which must be restored.

Follow procedures established by your OPDIV.

This information should be maintained in the employee's time and attendance file.

Example

(The Manual Log for this VLTP example is on the following pages.)

Courtney works a regular tour of 40 hours a week. She had a medical emergency and was placed in a VLTP status during pay period 16. She received and used VLTP leave as shown in the following example.

Reminder: Courtney must use all of her accrued annual and sick leave before using VLTP leave.

VOLUNTARY LEAVE TRANSFER PROGRAM (VLTP) - Leave Donor

Introduction

Once an employee has been approved as a leave recipient, those employees wishing to become leave donors may transfer a limited amount of their accrued annual leave to the recipient.

Procedure

To donate accrued annual leave within their agency, employees must voluntarily submit a written request (SF-71 or other form approved by their OPDIV and/or Optional Form 630-A) specifying the number of hours which may be transferred to a specified leave recipient.

Note in the remarks section of the SF-71, "Annual leave donated to Recipient's Name" (include other information, if necessary).

Rules

Employees may not donate leave to their immediate supervisors.

Only annual leave which is already accrued may be donated.

* Employees may not donate more than one-half the amount of annual leave that they are entitled to accrue during the leave year in which the donation is made. This one-half limit applies whether the leave is donated all at one time or in increments at various times during the leave year.

* Employees who are projected to have annual leave that otherwise would be subject to forfeiture at the end of the leave year ("use or lose leave") may donate the lesser of:

- Half of the amount of annual leave that they are entitled to accrue during the leave year, or
- The number of work hours remaining in the leave year as of the date of transfer, for which the donor is scheduled to work and receive pay. Example: Ted, who works 8 hours a day - 5 days a week, has an annual leave balance of 268 hours. There are 2 working days left in the current leave year. He may donate only 16 (2 work days) of the 28 hours scheduled for forfeiture.

* Waivers, which must be in writing, for these two restrictions may be granted by leave-approving officials.

VOLUNTARY LEAVE TRANSFER PROGRAM (VLTP) - Interagency Transfers

Introduction A designated VLTP coordinator located within each OPDIV is responsible for accommodating the interagency transferring, receipt, and restoration of VLTP leave.

Follow procedures established by your OPDIV.

Procedure Employees wishing to donate leave to an employee in another Federal agency must complete Part A of form 630-B, Request to Donate Annual Leave to Leave Recipient (Outside Agency) Under the Leave Transfer Program. The completed form 630-B must then be submitted to the OPDIV VLTP Coordinator who will complete Part B of the form.

The VLTP Coordinator must verify the leave balance of the donor and ensure that the timekeeper charges the leave being donated against the donor's account.

See the following page for a copy of form 630-B.

*Donations
From Another
Federal
Agency* On receipt of official authorization from a representative of another Federal agency, the VLTP coordinator must advise the employee's timekeeper of the amount of annual leave being transferred to the recipient. The timekeeper records the number of hours on his/her manual log and credits the recipient with those VLTP hours for appropriate use.

At the end of the medical emergency, the timekeeper must notify the VLTP Coordinator of the number of unused hours of donated leave, if any.

*Donations To Another
Federal
Agency* The transfer of annual leave from an HHS employee to an employee in another Federal agency is processed in the same manner as that received from another agency. The timekeeper of the employee who is donating leave must deduct the number of hours of annual leave that are being donated from the employee's account and then forward the paperwork to the OPDIV VLTP Coordinator for processing to the other agency.

VOLUNTARY LEAVE TRANSFER PROGRAM (VLTP) - Medical Emergency Ends

Medical Emergency Ends

The medical emergency/family medical emergency ends:

- When a leave recipient leaves the Federal government; or
- At the end of the pay period in which written notice is received from the employee, employee's representative or employing agency, that the leave recipient is no longer affected by a medical emergency; or
- At the end of the pay period in which HHS receives notice from the Office of Personnel Management that an application for disability retirement has been approved.

Unused VLTP Leave

Once the medical or family medical emergency is terminated, no further donated leave may be received by the employee, and any unused donated annual leave must be restored to the donor(s).

Exception: If the total number of eligible donors exceeds the total number of hours of annual leave to be restored, no unused donated annual leave shall be restored.

The timekeeper must notify the OPDIV's VLTP coordinator, or other designated official, of any unused donated leave once the medical emergency is terminated. The VLTP coordinator must compute the number of hours to be restored to each donor and advise the donor(s) and his/her timekeeper(s) of the number of hours to be restored.

The VLTP leave is restored on a percentage basis and the number of employees involved. The amount of leave restored to a donor cannot exceed the amount of leave donated by that donor.

If a donor retires or leaves federal service before the date on which the VLTP leave can be restored, then no leave is restored to that donor.

Donor Options

On receipt of unused VLTP annual leave hours, each donor has five options available to him/her for the restored hours. Donors may use the following chart to determine which option is best in each individual situation.

VOLUNTARY LEAVE TRANSFER PROGRAM (VLTP) - Medical Emergency Ends

Table of Options

OPTIONS FOR RESTORING UNUSED VLTP LEAVE
OPTION 1	Have all of the restored VLTP leave recredited immediately to the donor's annual leave account in the current leave year.
OPTION 2	Have all of the restored VLTP leave recredited to the donor's annual leave account at the beginning of the next leave year.
OPTION 3	Transfer all of the restored VLTP leave to another approved VLTP leave recipient.
OPTION 4	Transfer part of the restored VLTP leave to another approved VLTP leave recipient and have the remaining amount restored to the donor's annual leave account immediately in the current leave year.
OPTION 5	Transfer part of the restored VLTP leave to another approved VLTP leave recipient and have the remaining amount restored to the donor's annual leave account at the beginning of the next leave year.

*Donor
Options
(cont.)*

Restored VLTP leave is subject to end-of-leave-year balance limitations in the year during which it is restored. Any leave that exceeds the maximum carryover allowable at the end of the leave year will be forfeited.

Example: Mickey donated 20 hours of annual leave to a VLTP employee. He and his timekeeper received a written memorandum authorizing the recrediting of 10 hours of unused VLTP leave. Mickey's current "use or lose" leave balance is 40 hours.

The annual leave was transferred and recredited in the same leave year. If Mickey elects Option 1, because the leave would be recredited to his annual leave balance for the current leave year, the restored 10 hours will become "use or lose" leave. Unless he plans to use it prior to the end of the leave year, Option 1 is not the best one for Mickey.

Option 2 allows the leave to be recredited to an annual leave account as of the first day of the first pay period of the next leave year. Although it becomes subject to the maximum carryover, this would be a better option for Mickey because he has more time to use it.
